round trip, 50 and 25 cents, Judge Osburn says that next week will probably be a lively one, as the fisher-men will be paid off and will commence to celebrate. He says, however, that dur-ng the last few years each year has been n improvement over the preceding one in this respect as the canneries have been employing a more steady set of men. It was noticed yesterday that many of the fishermen were quitting work for the season, and preparing to leave for other fields. Mr. Barker, of Booth's cannery, reports this season to be one of the best in the history of that institution in ten years past. They will com-mence paying off the fishermen about Tuesday and have the money now in bank with which to do it. It is amusing to hear the remarks made by people standing around the dock about the new yacht Lady Madge. One thinks that she is over-sparred, another that she has too much keel, and others somehing else, while the fact is that none of the critics probably know anything about a boat of that size. The trial trip will be made today, and it will be seen what she can do. Mr. Cribb is confident of

TOP OF THE HEAP.

It May Seem Somewhat Long and Tedius.

But Will Pay Fiano and Organ Purchasers to Read Every Word.

The indicator is one of the leading trade papers, of Chicago, devoted to mu-sical art and musical industries. The following extract is from a two-page article under date of July 20, 1895, and speaks volumes. "There are few people in the trade, comparatively, who realize just how ex-tensive the Kimball factories are. Think of a solid mass of brick and mortar covering over 11 acres of ground space, or something over 500,000 square feet in ground area! This is the tract covered by the Kimball factories, which is more in sufficient to meet the rapidly growig demand for their goods.

Over 7,000 planes this year! Over 12,000 reed organs this year! Just think of this volume of business or one moment. Isn't there something n this to awaken the enthusiasm of the patriotic Chicagoan?

The art of production has been reduced by the W. W. Kimball Co. to a fine point, They now make in their factories every thing that is necessary in plane munufacture. The enterprising manufacturer must save at all corners. This saving is for those who buy his goods. And it is required by the intense competition that modern methods have generated. The man who cannot manufacture goods or t close margin and make money is practically out of the race. Close margins and large profits by r ason of a larger production is the rule of the day.

And in this respect the Kimball Co. in the country. They make their own lates, their own keys, and their own tions. They own their own warerooms and their own factories.

Now it is plain to everyone that will stop to think, that all this means a large saving in rents and in merchandise pro-And these are reasons why the Kimbell
