LOST IN THE CLOUDS

Party of Seven in a Fog on Mount Rainier.
SIR KNIGHTS IN SESSION
Grand Conclave in Chicago—Protects His Acts With Winchester—Girl Suicide.

Seattle, August 17.—A party of seven mountain climbers from the Puget Sound Methodist University had a thrilling experience on Mount Rainier last Sunday. The ascent of the mountain was made without difficulty, but in returning from the summit to the Camp of Clouds, 6000 feet below them, but which is at an altitude of about 9000 feet, the party were lost in a dense fog. They could see nothing but a dense fog and snow. Night came and they were still lost. They tramped until hunger and weariness overpowered them to stop. Huddling behind a pile of rocks, they finally decided to spend the rest of the night there and wait for the fog to raise. Here the party nearly froze to death. The wind blew so hard that the only way they could keep their blankets from blowing away was by loading them with heavy stones. But morning came and they again found their trail, and late Monday afternoon reached the Camp of Clouds, frost-bitten, starved and worn out.
Dr. Mianer, one of the party, ruptured a blood vessel and is seriously ill, as the result of forty-eight hours on Mount Rainier's summit. The rest of the party were not seriously injured. The Rev. W. M. Joffers delivered a sermon on the summit last Sunday, entitled, "The Sermon on the Mount."

THE HAWAIIAN CABLE.

It is believed that a New Proposition Will Be Accepted.
San Francisco, August 17.—The steamship Belgic arrived tonight from Honolulu bringing the following advice to the Associated Press:
Honolulu, August 17.—A cable proposition of a definite character has been made to the Hawaiian government by Colonel Z. S. Spaulding, a wealthy sugar planter, who recently returned from Europe. The offer seems to be made in good faith and has been received with favor by President Dole and his cabinet. The matter will come up in the senate on the 19th inst., and it is thought that the upper house will ratify the contract for the construction of the cable.
The Honolulu proposition is to build from San Francisco or near its vicinity to Honolulu. A branch line will be built connecting the other islands of the group. Spaulding wants $5000 a year for twenty years. The promoter agrees to supply the cable for the first ten miles. If he is successful in obtaining a subsidy from both the United States and Hawaii, The United States would be working actively and with $10,000 a year for 20 years to appropriate No additional claim has been made on the government arising out of the article made last January. British Commissioner Hawley and President Dole yesterday and spent an hour conversing on various topics. He did not present any claim on behalf of the British subjects, although he was understood to do so at an early date.

Supreme lodge officers are to be elected at that time. White Supreme Chancellor Mitchell appears to stand the most likely chance for election, a number of aspirants for the place are known to be working actively and with a showing of strength.

THE NEW HOTEL SITE

Trullinger's Point Beautiful and Convenient.
PLANS ARE BEING CONSIDERED
The Taylors Offer Depot Location Just at Hand—Both Locations Are Good.

Among the many strangers recently visiting the city, investigating the various enterprises and proposed improvements of all kinds to take place here, the principal topic discussed by them has been the necessity for a first-class hotel. There is perhaps nothing which gives so bad an impression to a stranger in any city as his lack of proper hotel accommodations. Take it today, and what has Astoria to show that is adequate to meet the demands upon her hospitality? For several weeks past every room in its principal hotel has been occupied and in many cases visitors have had to speak for quarters a number of days in advance. With the regatta coming on this week it would have been an extremely difficult matter to have housed all of the visitors who are expected, had it not been for the hospitality of the citizens, who have most generously opened their homes to receive the influx of people.
Upon the eve of a phenomenal commercial growth, and a rapid increase of population, capitalists have seen that there is no better opening for the employment of money than its investment in a first-class hotel, that will not only be a matter of pride to the city, but furnish ample accommodations to the traveling public and the numberless visitors sure to be attracted to so important a business center. Definite plans are being considered for the erection of such a hotel. Its site is a matter of extreme importance; not only convenience to the business center, but its location as to surroundings, which will make it attractive to the guests, as well as an ornament to the city, are essential features. Such a location has been offered by the Trullinger family, a site which is situated on a beautiful knoll upon Bond street, facing the bay, just at the head of the little cove near ELMER'S cannery, for the purpose of erecting a hotel of this character. The site is of natural beauty, combined with convenience of access. The site is high above the water and affords a grand view of the entire bay. The drainage toward the bay, and one great point, that of health, will be secured. Being only six minutes walk from the center of town, the matter of convenience cannot be questioned.
Just in front of this property is the water frontage offered by the Taylors to Mr. Hammond for a depot site. With characteristic liberality, these gentlemen have proposed to donate about 150 feet of waterfront on either side of the ELMER'S cannery, for the location of the depot, and have given Mr. Hammond his choice of the two. Should the depot be located at either of the two places, no misadventure could be made in building the hotel on the point above. In any event the hotel site is unexcelled from any point of view. The matter is being most seriously considered and in all probability Astoria will soon have a guest house that will be to its credit.

DURRANT'S TRIAL.

San Francisco, August 17.—On Monday the trial of Theodore Durrant for the murder of Blanche Lamont will enter upon its fifth week. Jacob Kendall and J. L. Luis own adjoining farms, and their boys were fast friends and almost inseparable companions. At the time of the accident they were on their way home and James carried a gun. He says they had fired several shots at a target and had sat down to rest by the roadside near the bridge place.
