Passengers Reach New York to Find Their Ocean Tickets N. G.

A telegram was received here yester day from the party of fourteen Finns, who left here a week ago last Tuesday on a journey to the old country, stating a journey to the old country, stating that they were having a great deal of trouble over their tickets, which the steamship company refused to honor. The tickets were sold by the O. R. and N. Co. here, through Fred Weekman. The party reached New York and their tickets being refused for passage they wired here to know if the money for the ocean part of the tickets would be refunded.

efunded. Inquiry of Mr. Overbaugh, the genera agent of the O. R. and N., elicited the statement from him that the tickets were sold on a nine days' limit contract, and that the time in which the journey is made to New York is only six days. Mr. Overbaugh says that the tickets were sold for passage on a certain steamer whose leaving date was advertised and He also says plained to these people, plained to these people.
