

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children. MOTHERS, Do You Know that Peperic, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine? Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons? Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons? Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed? Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle? Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Picher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than all other remedies for children combined? Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Picher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense? Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proved to be absolutely harmless? Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose? Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest? Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts. The fac-simile signature of Dr. H. Picher is on every wrapper.

A GOOD WORD. Mr. J. J. Kell, Sharnsburg, Pa. Dear Sir: I am glad to say a good word for Krause's Headache Capsules. After suffering for over three years with acute neuralgia and its consequent insomnia (which seemed to baffie the efforts of some of our best physicians) you suggested this remedy which gave me almost instant relief. Words fail to express the praise I should like to bestow on Krause's Headache Capsules. Gratefully Yours, MRS. E. R. HOLMES, Montrose, Pa.

ALONG THE WATER FRONT.

The steamer Columbia arrived in from San Francisco yesterday morning and proceeded up the river at noon. The Alice Blanchard, after completing a load of over 100 tons of freight for San Francisco yesterday morning, left for her destination. The Signal came down the river from Portland yesterday morning and after taking on 700 cases of salmon left out for Vancouver, B. C.

N. M. Malson and crew, with two dips of a seine Thursday caught 4,000 pounds of jack salmon in Seattle harbor. The fish averaged fifteen to twenty pounds each. This was one of the finest catches known in that vicinity. The long drawn suits of the owners of the three islands in Elliott bay against the tide land appraisers has at last been settled in favor of the original owners. The courts have held that the plaintiffs are the owners in the simple. The lands and that the tide land appraisers have no right to place them in any manner interfere with them. The personal injunction which was granted against the appraisers has been granted and the cases will not be carried any further. The owners of the islands are William B. and D. C. There were 11 grain ships cleared from this port in June and 22 in July, says the San Francisco Bulletin. The 10 ships for August make a total of 49 for June 1. Five of these took exclusive cargoes of barley and three more took mixed cargoes of barley, wheat and canned goods. This makes only 41 straight cargoes of wheat. There must therefore be a considerable lot of the grain which yet for export, after making due allowance for sales from that stock to local millers. In the meantime a new crop has been practically harvested, and the yield of this harvest, so far as the threshers have reported, has been very disappointing. At one time it looked as though we might get one of the best crops in the history of this state. But that view has materially modified long before the grain had ripened. The estimates since then have come down from time to time, and now it is difficult to find anyone who believes that the surplus wheat for export will exceed 200,000 tons, and it has been placed as low as 200,000 tons.

The work of removing a crank pin and putting in a new one in many cases, which is now under way on the City of Kingston, is one of the most trying jobs in repairing this class of machinery, says the Tacoma Times. The heavy expense of removing the machinery to a machine shop makes it necessary to do the work on board, and what in the shop would be an ordinary undertaking is on board an unusually hard one. The first work to be done is to force the pin from the crank, and when it is considered that the pin weighs 100 pounds, and all the work must be done by hand in a cramped space, it will be understood that this part of the work is not all easy. The pin is first heated and moved the holes through which it passes must be re-bored, as the loose pin has worn them in such a manner as to ruin the perfect circularity of the hole. The new pin is then inserted, and the work of boring is done by hand, and is a slow, trying job, requiring the utmost attention. When the holes have been bored the new pin is set in place. An estimate of the amount of work required to take out an old and insert a new crank pin can be formed by the fact that the work on two weeks in the case of the Kingston.

A private coal circular issued at San Francisco contains the following: "During the week there have been several arrivals from the coast, with 11,738 tons; one from Baltimore 425 tons; from England 289 tons and from Australia 453 tons. There are in all due here in the next thirty days nearly all of the same has passed out of first hands, and will be delivered to consumers direct, the market value will not be so high as it was. Their votes last fall expressed their desire for a return to the Republican policy, and the hopeful revival of business which gives the better prices. There is one of many evidences that they were right. The situation at the South is quite different. The cotton crop was cut down in the first instance, by the action of many planters who said that there was no use in planting for a crop of 7,700,000 bales, and therefore they reduced their acreage. But with 11 1/2 per cent less acreage and a yield per acre as good as that of last year, the crop was estimated to be over 8,500,000 bales, a little more than the world has ever consumed. Instead, unfavorable weather has so far reduced the yield that many operators are predicting a further loss of 1,500,000 or 2,000,000 bales. Whether they are right or not it is clear that the output per acre as well as the acreage is short. The outlook for the South another year of trial and disappointment, which Democratic propaganda might somehow help their party."

THE CAR WHEEL IS WONDERFUL. An experienced mechanic has said that he has never known a car wheel to be so wonderful a thing in the way of general utility in this practical age. His reply rather startled me. Said he: "The tracking of a car wheel is the most wonderful thing to me in the whole range of science and invention. Here are two rails, up and down hill, around curves and along face angles, and upon them flies at more than a mile a minute, without jar or jostle, a dozen heavy cars drawn by an engine, and yet there is only the little flange of the wheel between them and eternity. An inch and a half of steel turned out of the inner side of the wheel holds the train as securely to the rails as if it were bolted there in grooves."

SET UP STRAIGHT ON YOUR BICYCLE. There is absolutely no reason for slipping over handles in either of the two ways commonly mentioned there is no excuse for so doing--ordinary road riding. It may be necessary for a "sorcerer" when engaged in "sorcery" to assume the one or the other of these attitudes--to sprawl with the body straight but almost horizontal, and the head close to the handle bars; or to bend the upper part of the back as if trying to break it in his middle and throw the shoulders forward as if desiring to make them meet across his breast. Even so, one who is not "sorcery" does not need to make himself a ridiculous object to look at, and also to reduce the benefits of wheeling to a minimum, so far as its effect on the chest capacity is concerned--J. W. Roosevelt, M. D., is Scribner's Magazine.

TO THE TYNE as the latter required, instead of proceeding with her. The Humbler. Taking all the circumstances into account, his lordship awarded the Tormentor to recover all wages remuneration and damage besides the loss of towage, and allowed high court costs, as the action was properly brought in the admiralty instead of the county court.

POPULISM at the West was to a great extent the outgrowth of a crazy land speculation, but failure of crops was the immediate cause of the outbreak in 1892. The corn yield dropped a quarter, and the wheat yield a third, according to official figures, in the same year. The loss fell most heavily on great corn growing states, and the pressure of debts incurred in speculative times, and a discontented farmer, who had sold the same year from over 2,000,000 to 6,700,000 bushels, and the loss and ruin at the South were relatively greater. The Democratic party promised to do everything that Populism proposed, and that means a control of ballot boxes held their ground, and the Democratic party, and its broken promises was widespread. The story of overhauling the Democratic party is a story of the Democratic party, and its broken promises was widespread. THE PIONEER PRESS has been called upon several prominent financiers on Wall street this afternoon to ascertain their opinion of the proposed plan. They are about evenly divided for and against Mr. Ives' scheme. The principal member of one of the leading Wall street firms, which has been in the syndicate that originally placed the second mortgage bonds, when shown a copy of the plan, as stated in the foregoing, said: "I do not see how it can be carried out, as that." The question of the plan, as stated in the foregoing, said: "I do not see how it can be carried out, as that." The question of the plan, as stated in the foregoing, said: "I do not see how it can be carried out, as that."

It seems that there is a flaw in every plan, but those favoring it say this is a matter which can easily be adjusted. The last part of Article II limited the operation of the provision on which Mr. Ives rests his plan for five years, expiring July 1, 1896, and Article III, which provides for the sinking fund and the compulsory annual redemption of bonds at 100 and accrued interest to 100 per cent of the first mortgage bonds originally sold, will oppose the big railroad deal, probably by intervening in the Pearsall suit this morning, and save the railroad. "Our railroad and every other railroad is a legal corporation, and its existence is a legal existence. If it has not a legal right to do what it proposes, it can't do it. I have stated often enough that we propose to do nothing contrary to the law. Of course, suits will be not over the matter, but we have no intention of doing that. People have a right to do that if they see fit, and we have a right to defend ourselves. We have consulted with the best lawyers in the State, and we are convinced that what we propose to do is right and consistent with the law."

BRAYTON IVES' SCHEME

He Has a Plan to Reorganise The Northern Pacific. MAYBE PEARSALL IS PAID TO Bring Suit--So Says President Hill--Great Northern Will Do Nothing Illegal.

In view of the decision in the United States circuit court at Seattle on Monday in the Northern Pacific reorganization case, published in this column, the following special telegram from New York to the Pioneer Press will be of general interest: Brayton Ives has invented a plan to reorganise the Northern Pacific, although just what use it will be to anybody no one can tell. He may have conceived it as a mental diversion, but at all events it is interesting. Mr. Ives has taken much satisfaction in privately submitting his plan to a number of people. It is the same plan, the early promulgation of which Mr. Pettit, the general counsel of the company, has recently announced in one of his published interviews in the Northwest, in which he also expressed his interest. It would be such a success with general favor. The plan is based on a provision in the eleventh article of the first mortgage deed of trust requiring that all proceeds of land sales shall be applied to the redemption of the first mortgage bonds at 110 and accrued interest. Now Mr. Ives proceeds on the theory, inasmuch as the company has all the first mortgage bonds, and as the same provision is also found in the second and third mortgages, all the bonds under that deed of trust requiring that all proceeds of land sales, all that is necessary for making the paying off of the bonds under the three mortgages practicable is to make the land sufficient money to do it. He estimates the amount required at $5,000,000, and feels confident that under his scheme this vast sum can be readily provided for by a simple method.

A corporation is to be formed for the purpose of buying all the lands to which the company is entitled under its grant for $5,000,000 in cash, under a contract, however, binding the new corporation to sell the bonds of the reorganized Northern Pacific Company for a corresponding amount of new 4 per cent bonds, uniformly secured by first mortgage on all the property of the company. By this double operation the three mortgages under the present three prior mortgages for interest and sinking fund payments would be reduced over 500,000 annually, and the arrears of interest on the second and third mortgage bonds wiped out, and thus the company would be placed in position to do what she originally intended to do, and that is to carry through the reorganization with but small, if any, assessments of the two classes of stock.

The Pioneer Press editorially called upon several prominent financiers on Wall street this afternoon to ascertain their opinion of the proposed plan. They are about evenly divided for and against Mr. Ives' scheme. The principal member of one of the leading Wall street firms, which has been in the syndicate that originally placed the second mortgage bonds, when shown a copy of the plan, as stated in the foregoing, said: "I do not see how it can be carried out, as that." The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anemic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.
