In fact, the company expects to continue this work throughout all divisions of the road, the entire cost thereof being over $1,000,000. Then the work of making permanent all bridges wherever possible, which has been in progress during the past few years, has been continued, und forty-two lineal miles of lumber and trestle bridges have been permanently disposed bridges have been permanently disposed of by filling and securing a permanent greatly decreasing operating expenses. Chief Engineer McHenry states that placed during the present year by stee viaducts of modern design and construction, for which contracts have already been let. The only remaining lumber trestles there, three in number, will be filled in during the ensuing year, thus reducing greatly danger to life and properry by fire or wrecks. It is intended to eliminate all of the numerous timber trestles in the Cascade mountains on both sides of the summit tunnel by per-manent embankments, work on which has been in progress the past two years. This work is novel in character, and is described by the chief engineer as fol-

"The material is removed and deposited in place by the hydraulic jets and sluicing material through flumes. Five large trestles have already been filled by this means. This process, as adopted by us, is entirely new to railroading men. When we are through we expect to have as fine a roadbed as any west of Chicago and one of the finest in the United States."

In addition, a number of the more important bridges have been replaced by permanent structures of steel and masonry. Permanent lining has been provided for all the great tunnels. Instead of timber. Portland concrete fills the sides, while the arch is formed of hard burned while the arch is formed of hard burned bricks, six rings thick. This work is very costly, but has been pushed so vigorously that the present year will see the completion of both of the Summit tunnels, piercing the axes of the Rocky mountain and Cascade ranges. Work is now in progress on minor tunnels and will be prosecuted steadily until completed. All the tunnels are being lighted by electricity, as are European tunnels.

The company has constructed some modern coaling stations, the principal one being now at Fargo, which is the ingenius invention of Chief Engineer Mc-lienry. This device has attracted a great deal of attention and favorable comment from the world of railroading, and has previously been described by this paper. A coal bunker is being erected at Tacoma to supply the growing demand for coal at that point.

This device has attracted a great deal of attention and favorable comment from the world of railroading, and has previously been described by this paper. A coal bunker is being erected at the city dock half an hour after her arrival from an infected port notwithstanding the report that the versel was in quarantine five days before she left for coal at that point.

"All these improvements," says General Manager Kendrick, "will save, we think, hundreds of thousands of dollars annually in maintenance alone, to say nothing of increased safety and immunity from losses by delays. The money is profitably spent. The Northern Pacific

A SURPRISE.

The Gold Reserve is in a Peculiar Shape.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The announcement that the New York banks had deposited $2,00,000 in gold, with a promise of a considerable addition to the amount was quite as much of a surprise at the treasury department as the earlier news of the withdrawal of $4,500,000 for export. Even those, who by reason of their long experience are best able to judge of the situation, express themselves as at a loss to account for the continued apparently increasing demand for gold. Never before in the history of the department, they say, has the financial condition of the country contained so many contradictory elements.

Though the receipts from the internal revenue and customs show some improvement there is a wide difference between the actual figures and the confident expectations of the officials. Whether the anticipated cotton and grain shipments will relieve the situation so far as gold exports are concerned remains to be seen. The amount of expertations or gold during the last 20 months is unprecedented.

Since January 1 of last year the gold.

BRADSTREETS' WEEKLY.

New York, Sept. 13.-Bradstreets' to morrow will say: The week was char-acterized in trade circles by an unexpect-ed turn. This is reflected in all the markets from which supplies are distributed. Relatively unfavorable features are feit in a quieter tone in dry goods, jobbing ciscles, a check of seasonable trade throughout the central west, due to the unusual heat; low prices for men's woolens and an unsatisfactory look due to depressed quotations abroad. The feature of the financial situation has been the liability of the treasury gold to de-pletion. This influence has asserted itself in a very unpleasant way, the strength and confidence the market had exhibited for several weeks giving place to a general liquidation and decline in prices. The movement was aggravated by uncertainty as to the attitude of the policy of the Beimont-Morgan syndicate.

The events of the preceding two or three weeks had prepared the market for such a movement. Stocks had been passing into weak hands and large in-terests which had inaugurated advances seem to have taken all the profits. A factor which has influence is the remarkable strength of foreign exchange and the fact that Europe still refuses to purchase largely of our agricultural products.

Buggy and Street Car Come Together Near Clatsop Mill.

Yesterday afternoon what might have been a very serious accident occurred on the curve near Clatsop mill.

Mrs. Smith, wife of Superintendent Smith of the waterworks, and Miss Belie Civerand, were out driving and in going around the curve in the street at the mill attempted to cross the track. Justice a car coming from the opposite direction turned the corner and despite the efforts made by the motorman, who shut off the power and applied the brakes as soon as he saw the buggy on the track. soon as he saw the buggy on the track, the car ran into the buggy, considerably damaging it and throwing the occupants to the ground. The ladies did not hear the warning bell of the car, because of the street just at that point it was im-possible to get out of the way. The motor man did everything in his power to avert the disaster and succeeded in greatly reducing the speed of the car. Mrs. Smith suffered a slight bruise over ceived. Mr. and Mrs. Smith both called at the Astorian office last night and stated that they entirely exonerated the street car company from any blame in the matter, Mrs. Smith saying that she considered it very careless in herself at-tempting to drive across the track just at that particular place, instead of con-tinuing on the same side until after rounding the curve.
