SHOWING UP KEIR HARDIE.

Kelr Hardle appears to pin his faith to the doctrine that he can fool some people all the time. He said in his Chicago speech on Labor Day that "in the year 1890, according to the best returns available, only 17 per cent of the wealth produced by the level headed, vigorous, sensible artisans of America found its way into their pockets, whereas 83 per cent of that wealth went to the idle owners of land and capital." The Chicago Trilime brings the census figures to show Hardle a monumental liar, which it does most effectually as follows:

"The total value of manufactured products for the census year 1830 was 9,375 millions of dolars. The cost of raw materials used was 3,162 millions of dol-Therefore the wealth produced by the labor of artisans on those raw materia's amounted to 4,210 millions of dolhaving been brought to confess their erin the shape of wages 2,283 millions of dollars, or more than 50 per cent intsead of 17 per cent. Out of the 1,27 millions of dollars which the artisans did not get had to be paid the cost of finding markets for goods and baxes, insurance, and other expenses of carrying on busition? ness. What remained was the reward ability which could use capital produc-

It is a common error with men of the Hardle stamp to ignore one factor of wealth production. They all declare that labor and capital are the only factors; that labor does the work, capital merely furnishes the means; that the capitalist is an idle parasite who fattens on abor. There are three factors-labor ,capital und brains. Neither can be ignored, Labor and capital without brains—that New York Tribune.

Distinguished Democrats returning ess capacity-will not succeed. More misnufacturing paints have failed from lack of this than are in existence in the United States today. It is easy, comparatively, to erect a plant and hiralabor, but to build up a remunerative trade, to obtain and hold customers against the competition of established firms, to manage the details so as to make money-there is where the brains come in. It won't do to ignore brains, Mr. Hardie!

It is already apparent that in the next campaign the Democrats will attempt to prove to the industrial classes that the return of prosperity is due to the action of a Democratic congress in formulating and passing the Brice-Gorman tariff law, an act of party perfidy and dishonor, according to President Cleveland. Democrats will insist that as a result of this legislation miles and factories have resumed work and wages of employes have been increased. They will play this demagogic act to the finish, and it remains to be seen what effect it will have on the voter. That this is the plan is evidenced by the attack which is being made on General Bushnell in Ohio by the Democratic press because he has said, and truthfully, that the return of better times is due to the election of a Repub-Hoan congress bast year, and that the industrial improvement will continue as it becomes more and more certain that the country will again have a national Republican administration. Republican success always has been and ulways will be the harbinger of industria' prosperity. General Bushnell is right and he is in line with the leaders of his party, and the November election will prove that he is in line with the intelligent voters of Ohio.

Prosperity'is slowly returning to the nation, for which we are all thankful. But the voters will not forget that kinds of vegetables reduced to actual confidence, in the business and industrial world, did not return until the people deelded at the polls last November that they had enough of Democratic tariff tinkering, by electing a Republican house. It will not be forgotten, either, that the Democratic boast of high wages under their taniff law is false. As Representative Dalsell truly says, "an examination of the schedule of wages paid now, under all the increases that have been recently made and slose of wages paid during the prosperous times of the McKinley law will show that the workingmen are not receiving as much money by from 10 to 5 per cent now as they did then."

Is not. Either it is no much as it used just to be or it is not. Blanket sheets filled with figures, whole volumes of statistics, will not get these voters away from just did then."

Democrats can "point with pride" to one instance in which the Gorman-Brice tariff, is directly responsible for an increase in wages, but the increase is in We's and not in the United States. The hist congress reduced the duty on timplate one cant a pound. The result was that American tifn plate manufacturers were compelled to either go out of business or reduce the wages of their work men. The men were informed as to the exact situation, and tather than lose all, accepted a reduction. But the new tare that fact also.

Its, will not get these voters away from a realization of the fact that at the end of the week or month they are not as you of the worked fell time. J. O. Hanthorn, Lot 5, Block 3. E. J. O. Hanthorn, Lot 5, Block 4. E. J. O. Ha the reduction of duty came a revival or business there. The price of the plate was advanced, more men were employed that the capacity of the works increased.

With this revival came a demand from the workmen for increased wages, and it was granted. The Welch manufacturyears ago, or an advance of about 29 per cent. And this is how Democratic legislation benefits the other fellows. In view of these facts it may be well to ask the question who, pays the tax?

After having been ingloriously whipped by Japan because she was not prepared for the war that she ought to have knows was inevitable, China is proparing to take steps which will enable her to resume her position in the East. The Chinese officials are obtaining a list or United States shipbuilders, and information in regard to the capacity of their hips they build, as well as all knowledge possible in regard to the factories that make ordnance guns for the newspaper published on the Columbia United States. Tals does not, of course, include the government factories. The asking are so comprehensive, and so full of details, that there can hardly be any doubt that the Chinese are acquiring such est weekly in the state of Oregon, has information as will be valuable to them in the near future. The fact that Li largest weekly circulation in the state. Hung Chang has again been restored to favor with the emperor is considered as significant, because he has been foremost among the Chinese in the demand that that government should become equipped with modern arms, and its soldiers should be drilled according to modern tactics as well as that the navy should be comprised of the best vessels of the cruises and battleship types possible. Li Hung Chang was responsible for 2whatever preparation China had made for the late war, and had it not been for his efforts to modernize his country the Chinese

> Vest, Carlisle and Mills all now acknowledge their error in advocating free silver a few years ago, just as they were forced in the process of time to admit their mistake upon the slavery question and secession. The query arises if these great statesmen have been so far astray upon the important questions named, may they not also be mistaken in other doctrines and economic views which they yet profess to hold. For example having been brought to confess their er-

The restoration of Chinese activity wil probably result in giving work to many an American laborer, and causing Amerlean shipyards to hum with activity. The strange sight may be observed of the same shippards and the same gun factor les, and the same armor plate factories, making ships, guns and armor plate for both the Chinese and Japanese from Europe bring with them hopeful predictions and presumably hopeful feeling. No doubt they have been much im pressed by the revival of business which has occurred during the last thre months, and calculate that the country must be prospering so greatly that Dem cratic legislation will get the credit. It is the natural supposition for men who bave been away. Men who have been at homknow that the working force, though and that wages, though advanced for several hundred thousand men about half the decline since Mr. Cleveland's inauguration, are for the remaining 95 per cen of the working force us low as ever They also know that the working voters, who are nearly the whole number, are not better satisfied with the Democratic party or its legislation than they were ast November. Tals is the danger about which the Democratic party is laboring to cheat itself as usual. By dint of repeating untruths designed to deceive Republicans the party persuades itself that everything is as prosperous and labor as well re-munerated in things which wages will buy as ever. After a time this will be found a costly mistake, for the men who receive the wages know the facts, and or not deceived in the least. It is within their personal knowledge that prices of the things they have to buy have not declined as much as the wages they re-ceived. True, prices of all products taken as a whole, have been lower in this same month of September than at any previous date in the history of the country, but the decline has been almost wholly in prices of farm products, and of that decline the workingmen do not immediately get the benefit in the retail Pagen products, taken as a whole, were pever before so low as in July, 1894, but are now fully 9 per cent lower than they were then, the relative importance different articles being considered. October, 1892, the same quantities of products at New York wholesale prices cost $11,755 which now cost $33,576—a de-cline of 19.4 per cent. All other products have declined in value about 8 per cent, farm products suffering most, as is usual in every period of depression, from the reduced ability of the people to consume. But consumers do not get bread cheaper nor most kinds of meats, nor are mos consumers as much as in the wholesale markets. But while prices of all kinds of products average 12 per cent lower than in October, 1892, the greater proportion of the working force has a relatively larger reduction in wages, though not as yet as much reduction in retali

WHAT EARNINGS WILL BUY,
