GORMAN'S TINKERED TARIFF.

Senator Gorman has taken the stump in Maryland. He does not hesitate to touch that tariff question, which other Democrats are so unwilling to handle.

The Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, Campbell, says the tariff is a national issue, and his fight will be made solely on state issues.

He prates that measure in unlimited terms. He says it is "wise and just," that it is "the most logical and the most fair tariff legislation enacted in the last thirty years," and that when business has resumed its normal condition it will produce revenue enough to support the government, economically administered.

He says also "the enacted law stands as the most marvelous achievement secured by the Democratic members of the committee which had this legislation in charge." He means himself and Brice.

It would be instructive to know, since erudite literature is so common nowadays, just what influence upon divorce and criminal statistics that clause of reading has. Doubtless there are many persons of strong minds and developed characters who can read it without injury to themselves, but unfortunately its sale is not limited to them.

There seems to be no doubt as to whether or not Lieutenant Peary succeeded in bringing back the bones of the unfortunate members of the Greely party who perished in that forbidden Arctic region.

The department of agriculture is preparing a gigantic road map of the United States. The map when completed will show the condition as regards paving, or macadamizing, construction and repair of every highway in the United States.

And yet, while any one can see that the Gorman law does not carry out the pledge of the platform the senator allows political cunning in trying to make his party take the ground that it does.

Arrangements have been made for excursions to Portland during the Exposition from the chief cities of the Pacific Northwest, including intermediate points at rates ranging from one to two cents per mile.

The friends of Levi P. Morton should bear in mind that no man wearing a United States sash has ever been elected president of the United States.

to breed a spirit of discontent among our working classes, and finally succeeded in turning this country over to the Democratic, free-trade politicians at the last election.

Unless the recent expressions of sympathy for the Cuban cause are entirely superficial the question whether Cuba shall form an important issue in American politics may be said to depend entirely upon the Cubans themselves.

It was regarded with something like apathy in this country. The public sympathized with Cuba, but forbore to make any effort in deed or word to give that sympathy a tangible expression.

It is evident, however, that this sentiment to be sustained must be fed by a prolongation of the Cuban struggle with something like a definite prospect of success.
