INTERNATIONAL GAMES

The Yale Dark Blues Were Winners. EXCITING EVENTS ON THE TURF. English Secure Three Events, All the Others Going to the Americans, Who Were Easy Winners.

New York, Oct. 5.—Once more the Englishmen had to yield to the better brawn and muscle of Americans on the Manhattan field today. Two weeks ago the representatives of the London Athletic Club were whitewashed by the New York Athletic Club, in a program consisting of eleven events. Some of the men who contested in that Waterloo were on the field today. Experts expected that Cambridge college men would win at least one event, but it was generally conceded that Yale had the better end in the international struggle.

THE EPISCOPALIANS. Principal Event of the Minneapolis Conference. FOSTER ON CHINESE OUTRAGE Says Wyoming Massacre of Chinese in 1892 Was Just as Bad and Judgment Should Be Slow.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—The principal event of the Episcopal conference today was the address of John W. Foster on the condition of the missions and natives from Palestine to Japan. He said, in speaking of the recent Chinese outrages, that man should be charged of condemning them without consideration. They were no more cruel and no more creditable to the authorities than the Wyoming massacre of the Chinese in 1892. Moreover, the Chinese government was even now moving for punishment of the guilty parties, and for the payment of damages, whereas in the United States the guilty parties were never punished.

Conference today refused to consider the Hamilton amendment but voted by a large majority in favor of admitting women as lay delegates to the general conference. LOVE OF BROTHERS AND SISTERS. LONDON LETTER

Interesting Correspondence by Telegraph From the Metropolis. FINANCIAL EVENT OF SEASON The Amusement and Social Worlds Startled by Lady James and Ex-Premier Gladstone.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The feature of the financial world during the past week was the prolonging of the crisis here for Kaffir (South African mining shares) and the postponement of the expected crash in those securities, which has been predicted for some time past. It is recognized that many of the Kaffir shares are standing too high for their intrinsic merits, but it is not believed that there will be a big permanent collapse so long as the big operators support that market.

THE VICTIM DEAD. Albany, Or., Oct. 5.—Mrs. Wm. Hiatt, the victim of the recent Jordan shooting, died this morning. Mrs. Hannah, charged with the killing, is in jail here without bonds. STATE NEWS. Interesting Items Cullied From Oregon's Leading Newspapers. Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state of the Elmer-Drown Copper Mining and Milling Co., of Grant's Pass, with a capital stock of $500,000. The incorporators are William S. Elmer, of Baltimore; George F. Wheeler, Andrew M. Brown, Robert A. Brown and Edward C. Wade, of Grant's Pass. The Ashland Times states: 'Over twenty people are steadily employed at the Ashland woolen mill's now and an elegant line of white, grey and vicuna colored blankets are being turned out daily. The mill's best some good orders for its goods by the delay in getting started, or a much larger force would have been employed ere this in keeping the machinery going night and day.' Marshal Hale, says the Alaskan, brought over the little Indian boy murderer on the Tokela and lodged him in the Sitka jail until the fall term of court. The little fellow seems very bright and will probably be sent to some reformatory school by the court. Having been crazed by drink he was not conscious of shooting any one. The real culprit are the parties who furnished the 'ole drink. As far as natives are concerned the unanimous verdict is that the law against selling liquors can not be too vigorously enforced, and we are glad to note that parties detected selling or giving liquor to natives are speedily punished by our courts. The Salem Statesman says: 'Henry Rust, the well known member of the Soldiers Home board, left on yesterday evening's local train for Portland and thence to his home in Baker City. Mr. Rust stopped over here for a short visit and during his stay gave a Steamboat reporter some agreeable information as to the present state of affairs at the Home. He reports everything working smoothly there, with all the old veterans in the best of health and spirits, eager to do whatever work is assigned them, and all comfortable, cheerful and perfectly satisfied with the treatment they are receiving. He said further that in spite of all drawbacks, and the new and necessary expense of hospital quarters (now almost completed, at a cost of $2500) the board is sanguine of turning back to the state treasury the sum of $3000 at least out of the appropriations for the support and maintenance of the Home. A new process for saving float gold was presented to our mining men last week by Mr. Underwood of Portland, says the South Oregon Monitor. It consists of wire copper screens, silver plated, and dipped in quick silver. Being suspended in the boxes all float adheres to them, while the gravel passes below. Messrs. Legate & Palm, alert for improvements and captured the prize and gave it a trial on lower applicants last week. Tomorrow they will go back and by the addition of a strainer the screens can be set lower in the boxes and control a larger amount of float. Anything that can be devised to retain float gold will be a paying investment, as a great amount of it exists in all our streams. The prospectors see no reason for silver agitation as they expect to double the gold circulation as soon as they get in good working order. At least their hopes are high for the experimental trial was a success.
