Stood that the UNSEEMLY AGITATION originated with a paper owned and also operated presumably in the interest of a packer of fall salmon at outside points, the effort to throw discredit upon some of the oldest and most favorably known packers on the lower Columbia, because of their honest fail pack, appears extremely ridiculous. The fall salmon put up on the Columbia IS QUITE AS CLEAN AND WHOLESOME food as meat bought from the best butchers. No CLEAN AND WHOLESOME food as meat bought from the best butchers. No pains or expense is spared in preparing and canning the fall pack on the Columbia. The packers engaged in the business this season also pack spring salmon quite as extensively as anybody else does. They make no pretense that their fall-pack is equal in quality to their spring pack. Both grades, however, are prepared and cammed with equal care and are pack. Both grades, however, are pre-pared and canned with equal care and are entirely wholesome. The packers on the lower Columbia are famous for the excellence of their canned salmon, and outside packers are very indiscreet in attempting to tear down the justly high repute of the Columbia river goods by saying they are 'unfit to eat' and the like, when the outside packers themselves are canning similar grades this fall. Such methods of competition are not only illegitimate but shortsighted, and sure to do more harm than good, especially in the very quarters where this ILL-ADVISED and VERY UNWISE AGITA-

TION seems to have arisen." The italies are ours. Mr. Elmore, one of the "outside packers" who has aroused the Ire of the Oregonian's advertising man, happens to be one of the three largest inside packers grade.

There can be no question of the genuineness of the feeling that prompted the editorial. The feeling back of the local notice is "ten cents per line." It may be well for us to say in this place that the Antorian in obtaining its long and exhaustive interviews at very great expense to itself has never asked, solicited to received a nickel from any canneryman in the list. Whatever kind of an advertisement any packer may have had by the distribution of our special edition throughout the whole country, has been given to him gratis, and very willingly at that. Here is the Oregonian's editorial. The

The Astorian, in its current commercial edition, gives a broadside of two pages of extracts and interviewe coming from leading trade publications and nearly all the principal canneries on the river. The Astorian's flerce denunciation of fall fishing is approved and justified by a great mass of testimony, though canners engaged in fall fishing find arguments in its flavor.
