It would be a surprise to learn that the devotional exercises o the legislature in any state in the Union were uniformly celebrated in an approtee rooms and elsewhere for the express purpose of avoiding the prayer. Of those tentive and devout, but the rest simply employ the time in one way or another pronouncing a perfunctory culogy upon a deceased member. Undoubtedly the conduct of the disturbers is worse than that of the absentces, but together they reflect a general sentiment of-more or reflect a general sentiment of more or less contemptuous indifference to the act of worship for which they provide. The truth is that the function has be-come an empty formality, and, being that, it is a mockery. If it is not to be re-tit is a mockery. It is a mockery. If it is not to be reinformed with the spirit which originally made it a real and appropriate appeal for Divine guidance it ought to be abolished. There may be force in the argument that it is not incumbent upon the representatives of a people who require no religious test in any circumstance, for any purpose, to join officially in a religious coremonial; there certainly is no advantage or propriety in their maintaining a burlesque of religion at public expense. It is not impossible that some devout persons may think that these observations savor of the eyele corps of the District of Colum-treverence, or at least tend to the en-couragement of implety. But we wish them to believe rather that hypoerisy, cant, the spurious symbol of a non- exist-ent faith, and the preservation of a custom which has ceased to express a general sense of spiritual need and duty are the things which appear to us offensive. We are far from assuming that all or most of the congressmen who virtually ignore the religious exercises which open their sessions are habitual scoffers; but they have come to regard it as a mere formality, having no claim upon their time or attention which any other interest or obligation may not properly supersede, and its maintenance under such conditions is at once unprofitable and unneemly

GEN. MILLES SENDS A MESHAGE. "Before leaving Washington Saturday on an inspection trip throuhgout the South, General Miles dictated an informal dispatch and directed Brigadier Contral Samuel Breck, his adjutant general, to detail one of his subordinates to deliver the communication to the military cyclists. Mr. Daniel O. Irreenan, who was chosen for this duty, was promotly on hand early Sunday morning, and just as the bells were ringing their announce-ment of 7 o'clock he handed the message to Captain S. H. Wiggan, commanding the cycle corps of the District of Columreached the White House, a short dis-tance from the war department, they rode after them

The route mapped out was through Lau-rel, Baltimore, Belair and Havre de Grace, Md.; Elkton and Wilmington, Del.; Philadelphia, Trenton, New Drunswick and Jersey City. The weather when the cyclists started was fine, but all the way to Philadelphia the roads were found to he in a terrible condition, and, con-sidering this, the time made by the riders is remarkable.

ROADS GOOD AND BAD.

Before leaving Philadelphia the roads were found to be in fair condition, but this side of New Brunswick the last relay seemiy. Those timid persons who have feared that Speaker Reed would almost hesitate to accept the speakership because of the great responsibilities involved are hoping that he will be ever cautious and slow-soing. They want him to make no mis-take, they say. They really do not under-stand the situation. A condition, not a theory, confronts the Republican party.
