Were mighty laid. Not so serious as these are the nervous troubles, but they are terribly harassing nevertheless.

That thorough nerve and tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, renders the nerves tranquil and strong, promotes digestion, appetite, and sleep, and establishes health on a firm and permanent basis.

This cause of nervous debility is removed by the Bitters, which impart a healthy tone to the gastric region, upon the activity of which the well being of the entire system is largely dependent.

Yesterday a sight was seen along Commercial street that cannot, probably, be witnessed anywhere else in the state. A large lumber pile with a timber 12x12 and about 90 feet long, was the attraction. The timber is clear spruce and is only a specimen of the lumber peculiar to this country.

The entertainment to be given this evening at the old school house in Up-stown by the Minerva Society, promises to be a treat and should be well patronized. The charitable object to which the proceeds will be applied is a most worthy one, and the society is always a good entertainer.

A number of merchants yesterday gathered in out of the wet in a neighbors' store, were telling stories and discussing various local topics. Among other things the salm industry came in for its share of attention. Without a dissenting voice all agreed that the position of the Astorian, as expressed yesterday, was eminently correct.

Most so-called "salmon twines" are colored with acids. The acids rot the fibers and render the twines useless. In the office of Elmore, Sanborn & Co. is an object lesson that ought to be examined by all fishermen. It is the whole of the material used in the manufacture of Marshall's twine—from start to finish. Go there and examine the color right through. You will see then why Marshall's is called the best in the world.

Yesterday two prominent citizens received private letters from Mr. Hammond in which that gentleman stated that he expected to be in Astoria next Tuesday. He said that on his arrival from the East he found matters on the Oregon Central in a critical condition and that he had been called upon to re-organize the Oregon Central and the work naturally took much care and attention.

A well known business man yesterday in conversation with an Astorian representative, remarked that there was another way in which the city authorities might help advance Astoria's growth. There is great need of a new city hall which shall be an ornament to the city as well as a proper and more commodious place for business for the city officials. The present site of the city hall would sell on the market for about $15,000, and would be very valuable for a business block, park, or other enterprise. The city should secure a location further back from the center of business, and if the finances were properly managed it is possible that the city would not have to be stretched in order to obtain the necessary funds for a new hall.

A mass meeting was held at Chaswell on the 14th for the purpose of taking action on the construction of a wagon road to the Lewis and Clarke. Wm. J. Larson called the meeting to order. C. S. Dow was elected chairman and W. J. Ingalls secretary. A discussion of the road question took place, and speeches were made by Wm. Larson, C. S. Dow, D. J. Ingalls, John Reith, D. F. Stafford, and others. A board of trustees was appointed to raise funds by subscription and to collect the same. The board consists of Wm. Larson, John Reith, and D. J. Ingalls. D. F. Stafford and W. J. Ingalls. The board will meet on Monday, January 23. About $500 has already been subscribed, but it is expected that a great many of the subscribers will raise the amount of their subscriptions. The names of the subscribers will be published later.
