From reports received by the committee, the solicitors who are making an effort to secure contributions for Clatsop county's proposition to be tendered to the battle ship Oregon, are making good headway with the work. Go to Elmore, Sanborn's office and see their new and handsome twine testing machine. Take along some of the twine "as good as Marshall's" in your pocket, and test them. Then see how much Marshall's will stand. It's money in your pocket and fish in your net to find out.

It is perhaps not generally known that during December last there were two full moons. Any one who is good at figures will discover that this is possible only once in a great while. Yes, a very great while, for the last time there were two full moons in one month was the year 1734, which was eighteen hundred and ninety-five years ago.

The Young People's Society of the M. E. church, known as the Epworth League, has recently elected new officers. Mr. L. H. Peterson being the new president. A new roll of members was made last Sabbath evening at the Epworth League. Mr. Peterson signed the roll with the understanding that they were ready to enter more heartily into earnest church work.

Contractor Burke, of the water works, yesterday came down from Portland and visited the tunnel. He reports that the work is going on rapidly, and that it will probably take two weeks to finish the work. He also stated that experts would visit this afternoon to arrange for the dinner. This was the first formal action that had been taken in the matter, as it had been given out that Mr. Croker would not refuse an invitation to dine with a few friends and intimates.

Mr. Croker will sail for Europe on February 10th. He will not return until the presidential campaign opens, and may not then. Many politicians profess to believe that the dinner Mr. Croker will announce his retirement from politics and make John C. Sheehan leader in his stead. Others say that so long as Richard Croker remains a member of Tammany Hall he will be the "man in the background" and its real leader.

STATE NEWS. Interesting Items Culled From Oregon's Leading Newspapers. The authorities are making efforts to apprehend deer hunters in the lava beds about Astoria. They say many deer have been killed there and they intend to enforce the law strictly.

Mr. Hermann will soon introduce his bill asking for an appropriation for the coast defense at Jump-Off Joe and for a torpedo station to operate between Seio and Jefferson, says the Statesman. One of the survivors of the terrible holocaust occurring at Silver Lake on Christmas eve, 1894, says that Christmas is one time of the year that will never again be celebrated in Silver Lake, and that the terrible holocaust causes a feeling of dread throughout the whole community.

The county clerk yesterday, says the Post, completed the work of ascertaining the total amount of taxable property in the cities of Salem, Jefferson and Woodburn, and today was ready to notify the respective recorders. Salem's net taxable property foots up $2,298,969, or $15,644 less than that for 1894. Jefferson's property is given at $4,200, and Woodburn at $15,225.

F. M. Salisbury, postmaster at Salisbury station, in Clatsop county, who was recently fined for using a government stamped envelope for unofficial purposes, and who, prior to that time, had been arrested while assaulting two boys, was charged with insanity, on complaint of the father of the boys. He was discharged, as there was no evidence against him.

Governor Lord spent last Sunday at home with his family. A number of callers dropped in to discuss the special session, but the governor seemed to be more determined than ever not to call an extra session of the legislature unless there were assurances from members who were positively in favor of reform measures, and who presented reasonable assurance of a probable accomplishment of some good work for the people—Statesman.

REFUSED THE EXTENSION. Western Passenger Association Will Not Grant the G. A. R. Desires. Chicago, Jan. 28.—Commander-in-Chief Walker said this afternoon he had been informed that the Western Passenger Association would not grant the desired thirty-day extension on G. A. R. encampment tickets.

"Well, that simply lets St. Paul out of it. That all there is to that. The entire matter will now be expected in another city selected for the encampment," said Mr. Walker. "When informed that other roads would grant terms similar to those already made by the Western Lines, Commander Walker replied: "Then there will be no G. A. R. encampment this year as we will have thirty-day tickets or we will have no encampment."

CHEATED THE GALLOWS. Brutal Father and Mother Commit Suicide in the Coquille Jail. Colville, Wn., Jan. 28.—Judge Arthur today sentenced Adolph Neise and his wife to twenty years in the penitentiary for beating their son to death.

Shortly after the prisoners were returned to their cells in the county jail they both attempted suicide. Neise was successful, while his wife in a critical condition. Neise cut a deep wound in the right side of his neck with a razor, severing the arteries and veins in the throat, and he died an hour later. The neck of Mrs. Neise exhibited a deep cut on the left side, but no vital arteries were severed. A physician dressed the wounds and thought she has a slight chance for recovery. They had previously said they would never serve a day in prison.

GIVING CROKER A DINNER. February 3 to Herald His Retirement From Active Politics. New York, Jan. 28.—At the Hotel Savoy on evening of February 3 a dinner will be given to Richard Croker by his friends and associates in Tammany Hall, who wish to honor him before he sails for England. It is said that this dinner will finally herald Mr. Croker's retirement from active politics.

Forty representative Tammany men met at the hotel this afternoon to arrange for the dinner. This was the first formal action that had been taken in the matter, as it had been given out that Mr. Croker would not refuse an invitation to dine with a few friends and intimates. Mr. Croker will sail for Europe on February 10th. He will not return until the presidential campaign opens, and may not then. Many politicians profess to believe that the dinner Mr. Croker will announce his retirement from politics and make John C. Sheehan leader in his stead. Others say that so long as Richard Croker remains a member of Tammany Hall he will be the "man in the background" and its real leader.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND MADE HER VIGOROUS AND ENERGETIC. Famous Novelist Recovered From Nervous Prostration. DeMaurier has made Paris studios familiar to every one. But not until the appearance of Mrs. E. Burke Collins' story, "The Child of the Sea," did she reap the fruits of the wealth of material ready for some gifted novelist's pen in the brilliant life of her own New Orleans. In recent articles in a New Orleans paper she said: "Of course, to a certain extent my characters are drawn from life, though never exact portraits. My favorite heroine is Mammelle in my story of a 'Modern Heaht' No. I rarely use aspirin to take up a literary career. Success is obtained only at the price of the most exhausting labor."

I WROTE "A GILDED GOD"

The Latest Interview With Mrs. E. Burke Collins.

Famous Novelist Recovered From Nervous Prostration. Paine's Celery Compound Made Her Vigorous and Energetic.

DeMaurier has made Paris studios familiar to every one. But not until the appearance of Mrs. E. Burke Collins' story, "The Child of the Sea," did she reap the fruits of the wealth of material ready for some gifted novelist's pen in the brilliant life of her own New Orleans.

In recent articles in a New Orleans paper she said: "Of course, to a certain extent my characters are drawn from life, though never exact portraits. My favorite heroine is Mammelle in my story of a 'Modern Heaht' No. I rarely use aspirin to take up a literary career. Success is obtained only at the price of the most exhausting labor."

Although Mrs. Collins' writing has always been a labor of love, yet such incessant mental exertion could not fail to have its effect on her nervous system. At one time she found herself tired out and weak from her interrupted work, she became nervous and incapable of work; she even saw nervous prostration staring her in the face. The general coming up that her system needed so badly is found in Paine's celery compound. Today she is perfectly well and strong again, busy as ever with her pen and pen, and grateful to Paine's celery compound for the timely help when failure and trouble and despair seemed about to close around her and shut her off from everything that was dear.

"Your constant brain work must tell on your strength," observed the reporter. "Yes, you have no idea how much I am at my desk for nine or ten hours a day," she replied, "I am careful to obey the laws of health, and I am never without a supply of Paine's celery compound. When I feel weak or nervous and there is a heaviness in my brain or a shooting pain over the eyes, which warns me that my energy is flagging, I take a little of the compound, and I am strong and free from pain at once. I never enjoyed such buoyancy of spirits and soundness of mind before I made the acquaintance of Paine's celery compound. Scarcely a day passes that I do not urge some friend to take it. For neuralgia, indigestion, nervous prostration and blood disorders, I am convinced that there is nothing like Paine's celery compound. I am not surprised that physicians use it in difficult cases."

Paine's celery compound is found to best supply the great need of studious, sedentary people. Its extensive use by brain workers, both men and women, suffering from sleeplessness, indigestion, and other effects of a deficient nerve force, shows its ability to feed tired, emaciated nervous tissue. Nothing else has ever possessed anything like the power of Paine's celery compound to restore a healthy nervous tone to the entire body, and to thoroughly cleanse the blood. School teachers, professional men, newspaper men, ministers, public officials, men whose daily outlay of vitality, because of hard, trying, anxious work, is excessive, find renewed strength, not only of the nerves, but through their healthy action, the entire body, in Paine's celery compound. He who suffers from nervousness, rheumatic pains, dyspepsia, heart trouble, general debility and languor, and all other outward signs of the grave mischief that comes from disordered nerves and impure blood.

ONE OF THE CHAIRS OF MUSIC. Exchange. "Do you find your orchestra paying investment?" I asked of the proprietor of a restaurant. "Indeed I do," he answered. "It's the best investment about the restaurant, and it makes my patrons more comfortable and better pleased with themselves. People always feel more liberal when hearing music, so they eat more. Then the rhythm of the music increases the appetite, particularly for delicacies, and materially increases the orders. Besides, the music both draws customers from the street and holds them after they have entered. Yes, it does pay."

ONE OF THE BEST MUSICIANS IN THIS COUNTRY is Mrs. Lucia Runkle, who is also a literary worker. She is a wonderful good player, with a young daughter who is growing to be no less remarkable in that respect. Mr. Runkle was celebrated for his proficiency in piano and his only child has had the advantage of constant practice with both parents.

LOVE'S MILLIONAIRE FOUND. Life is about what you choose to make it, after all. If you want to be happy, you can find a road that leads to happiness, and if you prefer to be miserable, why, all right, go ahead. Those lines on the subject are worth reading twice:

"I say—'The world is lonely. The heart at home is cold. And sad is life to child and wife. When life hath little gold.' But soft her arms around my neck— My comforter so dear. And, 'How much do you love me?' And her sweet voice answers clear— 'I love you—I love you— A hundred million—there!' And then I'm poor no more—no more. For I'm Love's millionaire!"
