Commander U. S. Navy,
Inspector Willamette River,
Portland, Or., February 14, 1896.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

Point Arguello, California.

It is reported that the Point Arguello whistling buoy, painted red and marked "P. A." in white, has drifted three-quarters of a mile to the northward of its old position.

It will be replaced in its old position as soon as practicable, when due notice will be given.

By order of the Lighthouse board.
FRANK CURTIS,
Commander U. S. N. Inspector,
Office of U. S. Lighthouse Inspector,
San Francisco, Cal., February 12, 1896.

The British bark Olengaber sailed yesterday morning.

The ship Alrie left up the river yesterday.

The Amulree arrived down the river yesterday morning.

The ship Plottek and Cambrian King will probably sail today.

The schooner Glen arrived in yesterday and moored at Hunter's wharf.

The steamer State of California arrived from San Francisco and after discharging freight for Astoria merchants, left up the river.

The Russian bark Pennia, Captain Laines, cleared yesterday for London, with 17,000 bushels of wheat, valued at $60,000. Yesterday seven men arrived up on the State from San Francisco, and were transferred to the Pennia, which completes her crew. She will probably sail today.

The greatly-hooded Bedfordshire sailed yesterday. Captain Dole took her out. Jack Reid and Marshall Stuart yesterday stated to an Astorian reporter that Phil Johnson had presented Captain Dole with a gold medal for taking the Bedfordshire outside. The reporter, however, was inclined to the belief that Messrs Reid and Stuart were playing a joke. Be that as it may, Captain Dole is to be congratulated for getting the Bedfordshire to sea.

The Pacific Mail Company's steamer Zealandia arrived from Panama and way ports last evening, considerably behind her schedule time. Her delay was due to the fact that she had considerable freight on board to be delivered at way ports. Last night she passed the overdue steamer San Juan, which left some days ahead of her, off Point Conception, while the Zealandia was at Panama. Anolo Easta, who left her to recapture the steamer, came on board in all the glory of his sword and regalia.—Examiner.

Captain Hackett, of the California Reclamation and Dredging Company, appeared before the board of harbor commissioners this afternoon in regard to the bill which had been introduced for the work of the state dredger in scooping away the mud from the moorings of the battleship Oregon. Captain Hackett stated that the state had charged him $200 for the work, and he thought he was entitled to a reduction, as he was to get only $125 for his contract. Considerable discussion followed, Commissioner Chadbourne claiming that Hackett should adhere to his agreement with the board, and Hackett contending, on the other hand, that he had no agreement with the board. Captain Hackett said that he never again would ask a similar favor at the hands of the commission. Chadbourne said that this statement was sufficient inducement to make the reduction, and that he would agree to it. On the vote on the proposition he and Chairman Colman voted in the affirmative, but Commissioner Cole voted no.—Examiner.

Captain Laine's difficulty over the shipping of the crew of the Pennia is held up now claims that he cannot get hold of the money until the Pennia crosses out over the bar. To any one knowing the first thing about shipping law, the absurdity of the fellow's "stand-off" is apparent, but there are many people who do not, among them some of the crew of the ship, who are being held up by the captain's claims. The steamer Pennia, which was due in San Francisco from China and Japan in a few days, was to be put on Hunter's point drydock this trip to undergo extensive repairs and overhauling. The dry dock in question is the only one on the coast, save that at Esquimalt, which is capable of receiving a vessel of the Peking's size. In order to get the Peking on the Hunter's point dock it will be necessary to do considerable dredging in the vicinity of the dock. This work has always been done by the California Reclamation and Dredging Company, but at the present time the machines of that corporation are in the Sacramento river and cannot be spared to do the work. Captain Bruce, superintendent of the Hunter's point dock, asked the harbor commissioners to permit him to use the state's machines to do the dredging, but the request was denied. The board, acting under the advice of their attorney, stated that they would not permit them to dredge waters outside of their jurisdiction, as it would be interfering with private enterprise. It was stated that an infringer of the law had once been made in the case of the battleship Oregon, which was lying on a mud bank, and that the money for the work had not yet been received. This work had been done, it was stated, at the instance of Captain Hackett, of the California Reclamation and Dredging Company, who was instrumental in having passed the law forbidding the state to do any dredging outside of its own waters. The result of the decision of the board of harbor commissioners will be that the repairs to the Peking will have to be made at some port in China.

J. W. Pierce, Republic, Iowa, says: "I have used One Minute Cough Cure in my family and for myself, with results so entirely satisfactory that I can hardly find words to express myself as to its merits. I will never fail to recommend it to others, on every occasion that presents itself." Chas. Rogers.

WHAT CAN A BOY DO?

Indianapolis Journal.

A recent poem in the children's page asks "What can a boy do, anyhow?"

By the prompt use of a sack he can make his pa talk in four different languages; by dropping a little ammonia on his back he can make the family cat do a whole lot of things; by his free and disingenuous conversation to his sister's best young man he can make that sister cherish pessimistic feelings toward the universe. What can a boy do?
