CLATSOP NOTES Interesting Letter From the Astorian's Regular Correspondent.

Clatsop, March 26, 1886

Last Monday evening the good people of Clatsop gathered in the school house, district No. 1, to listen to an address by Prof. H. S. Lyman on the subject of

After an excellent programme had been rendered by the school, consisting of readings, sougs, declamation, etc. Prof. Lyman delivered a very fine addrage, the central thought of which was the advantages enjoyed by the Oregon children of today, as compared with the children of past generations, in an efficiational way. After his address he asked others to give their views, and Mr. West spoke of the necessity of work on the part of the institutional, if he would reap any good of the many advantages spread before him. The theme of his address was "All Advantages," of Whatever Description, Are Worthless Without Work." Mr. Fulkerson gave a short talk, the principal point of which was to do the work near to he as we go our way After an excellent programme had been principal point of which was to do the work near to us as we go our way through life; and working all along the line, there would be no loose such left to target our feet when we came to the important work of life. The wisdom of concentrated effort along some particular line was also spoken of by others. After all who wished had said their say on education, a song was sung that was composed for the occasion by the Classop addition to the Hagged Bard, in the turns of "Lilly Date" in mind. Call and get the proof of this assertion. B. F. Allen & Son, successors

Chorus-Oh, Valley, etc. After all had folined in singing that song a recess was taken for refresh-ments, of which there was abundance, although one young lady forgot to cook the meat she brought to slice for ham sandwiches. After the refreshments were disposed of, among the last, but not the least of the evening's entertainment, was some very fine music by Miss Dalsy West and Mr. Pulkerson, who were forced to come forth the second time. Then all joined in singing, "God be with you till we meet again," and left for their homes after a very entoyable evening. The subject for debate for the library society meeting next Saturday evening is, "Resolved, That the United States should recognize the belligerent rights of the Cuban insurgeous."

A SLPENDID SHOWING.

The fifty-third annual statement Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York has just been issued showing the operations of the Company for the year of 1895. The figures speak for them-series and are so extraordinary in their magnitude as to make it worthy of the special consideration not only of those who are insured in this great company. but of those who are interested in the progress of this, the greatest of our American financial institutions. The company paid to the holders of its oticles on account of claims by death $12.239.164.26, and for endowments, annul-ties, dividends and other payments to liv-ing members $19.887.564.11. It increased its reserve fund, to guarantee the future payment of all claims, from $182,109,456.14 to $194,347,157.58, an addition for the year of $12,237,701.44

The results for 1885 show increased se-curity and permanent benefits to every member of this great company. stupendous figures show the hold that the company has upon the confidence of the insuring public and show that it socks, in constantly increasing ratio, the benefits to be derived from the protection offered by this, the greatest of all companies.

There is but one way to control party conventions and nominations, and that is by controlling delegates. Let the rank and file of the Republican party attend the meeting tonight. Control the selection of delegates and they can thus control nomination of the next officers of
