SOUND MONEY THE MAIN NECES- H. Ekstron

We copy in another column an inter- Charles F. Goddard. view given by George B. Roberts, presi- John Kopp...... We copy in another column an interdent of the Pennsylvania company, in the New York Commercial Advertiser, in which the depressed condition of the country is explained in the clearest and ost comprehensive manner and in the briefest space. He speaks for no party but for the entire country, of which his great railroad system is one of the chief arteries of trade. He speaks not only from the ripest experience but from the most intelligent and practical judgment. and leaders of all parties would do well . to accept his pointed admonitions as the Dr. expression of the substantial business incrests of the entire continent.

President Roberts is entirely right in saying that the one great source of our G. present business depression is the want of a sound money system so clearly de-clared that every country of the world Mrs. P. H. Johnson would accept the credit of our people A. B. Crosby J. H. Seymour and government as established beyond repute. We are paralyzed by want of confidence. Selig. party shall declare unmistakably at St. Louis for a sound currency the evil John Svenson. would be torn up by the roots, and all the varied interests and enterprises of the country would be quickened with the promise of a season of unexampled pros-of parties which expect to command the confidence of the country in the future must speak as President Roberts has T. J. Thorsen. spoken, and until it shall be done there | Alex Campbell. will be continued depression in every channel of industry, commerce and trade, and this, too, in spite of the best and George & George scientifically adjusted protective tariff that could be adopted. A sound money policy is now unquestionably the greatest need of the nation.

TELLER A LITTLE MORE RATIONAL

The Washington correspondent of a Dr. M. M. Walker Chicago paper says Senator Teller has C. informed him that-

Free-silver Republicans will support the St. Louis nominee if he be carnestly, heartly and sincerely in favor of international bimetallism, and would work heartily to secure an international agree-ment. We would have to know that he is not an eleventh-hour convert, and M S. Copeland. we would have to have something more than platform promises.

If the senator is reported correctly he is climbing down from the high horse J. A. Fastabend .. which he bestrode a few weeks ago in the senate when he voted against considering the tariff bill unless it had a free coinage amendment tacked to it.

Then he was not willing to wait for an international bimetallic agreement. He wanted the United States to go to ju Guy...... coining unlimited silver dollars at the Alfred Gibbs He wanted the United States to go to ratio of 16 to 1 without waiting for the co-operation of European nations of any one of them. Then he talked of bolting M the St. Louis platform did not Lave an outspoken declaration in favor of what it pleases him to call bimetallism, but what all intelligent men call silver

The senator may have found out within the last few weeks that he has not the backing at home he thought he nad, and that the honest money platform which is going to be adopted at St. Louis will Y. Luckk. not cause as many people to nolt as he fancied. He may have found out that if he were to desert his party and wander off into the wilderness of Populism or herd with the 16 to 1 Democrats not many Republicans would follow him.

There is not a Republican paper in the cities of Washington, Bultimore, Philauclabla; New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Chicago, Minneapolis, Kanone City or Omaha which does not put money question ahead of the maniff as the most important pending political fasue. Every one of these papers is strongly against free silver. And get there are politicians in the Repub-Mean party who say the money issue is a mere subterfuge invented by Democrats to divert attention from the tariff, and cause a split in the Republican party. It would seem a little strange that the editors of all these great papers, many of whom have grown hoary headed, fighting the battles of the Republican party, before some of these astute politicians were old enough to vote, should be so easily taken in by such a transparent Democratic trick.

The Washington state militiamen pro going entirely too far in their usurped control of the Columbia. What meat have these Cresars fed upon that they have suddenly become so great? They are now maintaining practically a state of blockade on the commerce of a large section of the Columbia river. Surely Governor McGraw does not wish to produce a revolution here at the mouth of will follow-and that right speedily, toounless he withdraws the fools with guns he has seen fit to post here. The fact is, these men are occupying Oregon territory, anyway, and if the outrages they are now daily committing are not ab ruptly stopped, and a suitable apology tendered Oregon by the Washington authorities, it will be Governor Lord's plain duty to send a force of men to Sand Island to arrest and jail every one 30 of these militiamen as trespassers and
