Yesterday there was considerable talk on the streets as to the Republican nomi-

on the streets as to the Registrican nominee for the legislature. Many names were mentioned, among them James W. Welch. F. Kendall, G. C. Fulton, W. H. Barker and W. F. McGregor. An Astorian reporter called on the last-named gentleman and asked him if the rumor that he was after the nomination was true. He replied that he had been asked many times to accept the nomination, but had not made up his mind as to whether he would accept or decline.

From the manner in which Mr. Mc-Gregor spoke, he is surely not running after the nomination, but the reporter came to the conclusion that he would accept if asked to. Mr. G. C. Fulton seems to have quite a following, as has also Mr. Barker. Up to the present time Mr. Welch is about the only man who appears to care for the nomination.

The wars and rumors of war in Nicaragua and San Salvador and other Con-tral American ports have been the cause of considerable loss to the Pacific Mail Company. The harbors of San Juan del Sur and Corinto are closed, and at the the present time there are 1,500 tons of general merchandise and seventeen load-ed freightcars at Panama awaiting transportation to the interior. The coastwise steamers have been unable to hande it as the ports named are in the hands of the rebels and they will not allow any ships to enter. In consequence, the Pacific Mail officials are in a quantary, as they are under contract to deliver the goods and the owners are clamoring for them. An attempt is to be made to remove the merchandise. The steamer City of Para will sail today and Captain Russell has received instructions to take all reasonable risk to get the entire ship-ment to Corinto and San Juan del Sur if possible. Of course he will attempt to make the ports and nothing short of can-now will prevent him from effecting a landing.
