REAR-ADMIRAL EVASHINTSOFF

Officer of the Russian Imperial Navy Visits Astoria on Important Business.

THE FIRST RUSSIAN CANNERY

Special Permission of the Czar Obtained to Can Salmon for the First Time From Russian Waters—Astoria's Interest.

Perhaps sooner than has been anticipated by even those who most closely ally themselves to the railroad and interested in its building, will be established an important commercial enterprise at this port.

Some years ago Mr. Stokes met Admiral Evashintsoff in England. The scheme now about to be developed, was talked up at that time, but could not be consummated as the consent of the Russian government was not then obtainable.

Admiral Evashintsoff was in Astoria twenty years ago when it was but a small village. It is now one of our representative last evening that he was pleased with the growth both this city and Portland had made since his last visit.

by the knowing ones he will be elected. Mr. McGreggor says that snow fell on Friday night on the mountains near Mistawaka, and that when he passed Saddle Mountain on the way in it was covered with snow which had fallen the night before.

WARRENTON CENTER.

Another Active Home Site Company in the Field.

The Warrenton Center Home Site Company has inaugurated a novel method of handling real estate. The company owns two thousand and thirty lots adjoining Warrenton, touching the Astoria and Columbia River Railroad, a short distance from the Young's Bay bridge.

The plan of the company is to sell the stock of the corporation at the rate of one dollar per share, at ten cents per share on application, and ten cents per share on or before the first day of each month for the next six months following the date of the certificate of stock.

SACRED MUSIC.

An overflowed congregation at the Methodist church listened to the service of sacred music on last Sunday evening. It was an event that deserves more than passing comment. It has been said that the choir of this church is one of the best on this coast, and this is true in the sense that while the music selected is a special one in character, it is sung with a true feeling of the Russian lyrics.

Where all were so well rendered it is difficult to praise the number more than another, but the music lovers seemed specially to admire the tender beauty of "Night Has a Thousand Eyes," by "Nightingale," and "Prayer of the Holy Spirit" by "Our Father," by "Hummel."

The following was the programme: "The Stars in Heaven," R. Rheinberger; "Night Has a Thousand Eyes," No. 11; "In the Wilderness," J. M. W. Belcher; "Lord's Prayer," Chant; "Lead, Kindly Light," Dudley Buck; "Tenor Solo, 'Seek the Savior,'" Schubert; "In the Wilderness," J. M. W. Belcher; "Saluta in Glory," M. Anderson; "Thou Art Our Father," Hummel.

IN DAYS LONG GONE BY

Warm Contest Over the Seat of Justice of Clatsop County.

The old records of the city and county are more interesting documents. The mode of doing business in those days is to the individual of the present age very strange.

In 1833 there was a warm contest as to where the "seat of justice" of Clatsop county should be situated. Up to that time the town of Lexington, which occupies the present site of Skipanon, was the county seat.

So, after a great deal of talking and agitation, it was finally decided to settle the matter in the usual way, and accordingly a vote was taken. There were four contestants for the honor—Port Clatsop, Lexington, McClure's Astoria, and Shively's Astoria.
