New Astoria...

Is located at the terminus of the Astoria and Columbia River Railroad, at the mouth of the Columbia River. It fronts on the deep water of the Columbia River Harbor, and being perfectly protected from wind and seas, affords the very best docks for ships on this bay; therefore, it is the exact spot for the seaport of the great Northwest. These facts were recognized by the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad Co. when

New Astoria Was Selected as the Starting Point for their Railroad and the Location for the Terminals.

New Astoria is platted upon a plane high enough for perfect drainage, and well protected by a high ridge behind it. Its streets and avenues are wide, and, in fact, it is laid out on modern plans. Extensive street improvements are now under way.

An office has been opened by the proprietors one door east of the Crosby hardware store. Call, be shown the merits of this property, and invest.

Go to Elmore, Sanborn's office and see their new and handsome twin testing machine. Take along some of the twines "as good as Marshall's." In your pocket, and test them. Then see how much more Marshall's will stand. It's money in your pocket and fish in your net to find out.

For 15 cents you can secure an excellent well-served meal at the Hon Ton Restaurant, No. 511 Commercial street. They are also fully prepared to serve all kinds of fish, game and delicacies of the season, as well as oysters in every imaginable style at the lowest living prices. Come once and you will continue to come.

Most so-called "salmon twines" are colored with acids. The acids rot the fibers and render the material useless. In the office of Elmore, Sanborn & Co. is an object lesson that ought to be examined by all fishermen. It is the whole of the material used in the manufacture of Marshall's twine—from start to finish. Go there and examine the color right through. You will see why Marshall's is called the best in the world.

Daylight now commences at 5 o'clock, and the soft morning air seems to indicate that Oregon's winter weather has come back again. It may be a little wet out here during part of the year, but when one recollects the horrible typhoons and terrible snow storms scouring the east, he may well be thankful that his lot is cast in Oregon.

At last night's meeting of Astor Lodge, K. of P., the following nominations were made for the different officers for the ensuing term: K. E. Shaw, C. C. H. Larve, V. O. Huber, F. C. H. Clark, G. D. Mr. John T. Weynon, the famous Shakespeare reader, will give a miscellaneous program under the auspices of the Epworth League at the M. E. church on Monday evening, June 1st. The brilliant record of Mr. Weynon is sufficient to guarantee that the church will be well filled. Mr. Weynon has the reputation of being one of the finest exponents of Shakespeare in the West.

Here is a fact worth the attention of Astorian fishermen. They divide the clouds into three classes: First, those formed by local ascending currents, or the cumulus type; second, those caused by general ascending currents, covering a wide area, known as the stratus type; and third, those formed by the combination of local-ascending currents and general-ascending currents, called composites.

Mr. A. J. Meier, returned yesterday from an extended visit at Byron Springs, California. Work Commenced Within the City Limits on the Astoria Railroad.

Yesterday afternoon the first pile was driven by Wakefield & Jacobson near Seventh street in order to test the work to be done by them. The pile was driven down thirty feet and good bottom was found. About 6 o'clock a second pile was driven down forty-eight feet, and good bottom was found. The test was made in the presence of Engineer Curtis and proved a most satisfactory one. Mr. Wakefield will push the work forward as rapidly as possible and will put his men to work as soon as the first consignment of piles arrives, which is expected in a day or two.

Georgie will have his men ready to go to work in a few days, and soon the city water front will be a scene of much activity. Yesterday afternoon a gang of men commenced clearing down the Flavel warehouses to make room for the railroad. It is understood that work will proceed all along the water front in clearing out old buildings and other obstructions now standing on the right-of-way. Clinton Bros. will commence in the morning driving the piles for Fisher Bros' new dock, and that firm, as well as Ross, Higgins & Co., hope to get their new docks and warehouses completed before the railroad builders reach them.

With all this work going on in the city and the water front, it is not surprising that the Astoria fishermen are having a hard time of it. The men on the river are fishing. The men go out Tuesday for self-protection. Monday and Tuesday a large quantity of ammunition was distributed among them and they are now prepared to meet any emergency. The men feel that they have a right to fish under the law and do not believe that others should interfere with them.

It was reported last night on good authority that a company has been organized at Ranier, armed with 12 Winchester rifles. The fishermen in that locality, since the shooting of Seary, have determined that none of their number shall be molested while engaged in the peaceful occupation of providing food for their wives and little ones, and it is asserted that any attempt to interfere with them will be repelled with all the strength at their command. Logs have been sunk around Wallace Island and near Eyreka to which have been attached sturgeon hooks, thus rendering it impossible to fish with nets except at the risk of serious injury to them.

THE UP-RIVER FISHERMEN

Some Interesting Statements Made by a Kalama Business Man.

ARE ARMED FOR PROTECTION

Met Working for Bread Do Not Propose to Be Interfered With—Making Hay While the Sun Shines—Middlemen's Profits.

A prominent resident of Kalama who was in the city yesterday called at the Astorian office and detailed some facts concerning fishing in the upper river. According to that gentleman there is now a regular harvest being reaped by the up river men, and he says that he is ready to substantiate his statements at any time.

"There is one fish dealer in Kalama with whom I am personally acquainted and he has been in the business for many years. He said to me: 'I hope the strike will hang out. It is not the best thing for the general public, but for me and my men it is the best thing I never made so much money in my life as I am making now.' This dealer gets five to seven tons of fish per day. He ships a large portion of it fresh or in salt to the East, and the balance of it he sells to the canneries along the river. His launch goes up and down the river every day and picks up the fish from the fishermen's boats. The fishermen receive from three to three and a quarter cents per pound and the surplus stock sold to the canneries, after shipping the fish and salt fish, nets the dealer a good profit at the four cent per pound paid by the cannersmen."

"I have noticed in some of the papers statements concerning rotten fish received at Kalama. I have carefully examined the situation daily and have yet to find the first rotten fish in my own net. No fish are received from the sound except halibut. Until last Monday every man on the river was fishing day and night. On Monday the men changed their plans and decided not to fish at night because the tide was out. From that time on they have been making a big harvest. I heard one fisherman say to a dealer at Kalama that they must make hay while the sun shines, as the strike would not last much longer. They were yesterday, when the launch came with the morning's catch of fish, which was about 20 tons. The credit bills issued to the fishermen showed that each man had a cash credit of from $7 to $15, this on the basis of from 3 to 3 1/2 cents per pound. Both union and non-union men up the river are fishing. The men go out Tuesday for self-protection. Monday and Tuesday a large quantity of ammunition was distributed among them and they are now prepared to meet any emergency. The men feel that they have a right to fish under the law and do not believe that others should interfere with them."

"I was constrained to make these statements to you because some of you newspaper men seem to have had the actual cause of the strike up the river situation. While there has been some trouble and several people killed and injured, it is to be hoped that there will be no further difficulty of this kind. There seems to be a determination, however, on the part of the up river men to stand up for their rights."
