New Astoria...

located at the terminus of the Astoria and Columbia River Railroad, at the mouth of the Columbia River. It fronts on the deep water of the Columbia River Harbor, and being perfectly protected from wind and seas, affords the very best docks for ships on this bay; therefore, it is the exact spot for the seaport of the great Northwest. These facts were recognized by the Astoria & Columbia River Railroad Co. when

New Astoria Was Selected as the Starting Point for their Railroad and the Location for the Terminals.

New Astoria is platted upon a plane high enough for perfect drainage, and well protected by a high ridge behind it. Its streets and avenues are wide, and, in fact, it is laid out on modern plans. Extensive street improvements are now under way.

An office has been opened by the proprietors one door east of the Crosby hardware store. Call, be shown the merits of this property, and invest.

Phillips, August Hilding, Portland, and W. D. O'Connor, were at the Parker yesterday. Mr. J. B. Kellogg arrived yesterday from Seattle on his way to Portland, and reports that business is already quite lively at the various resorts. Hanthorn's launch, Ida Hazel, was busy half the night Tuesday in towing great logs away from the cannery which had drifted down the river. The beautiful day yesterday tempted many out upon the waters. Nearly all of the boats were engaged, and much pleasure was reported by various parties. Mr. Homer Fletcher returned from an extended visit to San Diego, Cal. His arrival is opportune, inasmuch as the boys need him in the Press baseball nine. Assessor Gibbons says that property owners who have not yet received assessment blanks, can get them and have them filled out by calling at his office. Do not fail to attend the Floral Musical tonight. A fine program, refreshments, and a good time generally. Friends of the library and their friends invited. Mrs. P. A. Stokes and her daughter, Miss Gracie, arrived home on the State yesterday evening, after several months' visit with relatives in Oakland, California. Agent Lounsbury went to Warrenton on the Emma Hayward yesterday, and made an effort to raise the sunken barge loaded with steel. The success of his undertaking was not learned.

One hundred and seventy crates of choice strawberries today cheap. Foard & Stokes Co. A large amount of driftwood floated past the city waterfront yesterday, indicating high water above. The reports last night, however, were that the rivers were practically at a standstill. The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in Rescue parlors today (Thursday) at 2 p. m. A full attendance is desired, as business of importance is to come before this meeting. Strangers always cordially greeted. A visitor from Chinook yesterday said that Andrew Olsen, of that place, had the day before sold a Jersey cow for $70. This is a good price for these times, and evidently business is picking up. Fred Johnson, the popular clerk at Foard & Stokes, returned yesterday from Gray's River where he has been spending a month's vacation. He reports that green pastures and butter-milk made life in the country very pleasant. Astorians were surprised yesterday morning, on awakening, to find that the boys in blue had taken their departure as suddenly as they came. It was reported yesterday that the fish traps at Chinook were not catching very many salmon at present. Henry Adams, representing the Corbett & Maceley Company, Portland, was in town yesterday and stated that business generally was slightly improving. He said that coming to Astoria from the dust and heat of Eastern Oregon, was like getting into heaven. L. O. Lakin, E. F. Winans, C. C. McDonald, C. W. Hodson, Henry Adams, John T. Hay, Thomas Steele, wife and daughter, Mrs. Bruce Clarke, James Peebles, Portland; A. V. Whiting, St. Joseph, Mo., and James Crawford, Vancouver, registered at the Occident yesterday. The steamer Potter was very late in arriving yesterday, and the officers of the boat stated that she was delayed because of the extra amount of freight now being handled. Tons of salmon, thousands of tin cans, and cartloads of canned salmon have kept the boat very busy. For the next ten days we will have a special sale of velvet, silk, and cloth traps at wholesale prices, the handsomest and best fitting shirt waists, and a large line of duck suits, and wrappers at way down prices. L. Cohen, Low Price Store, 491 Bond street, corner Eleventh. Children's Day exercises will be held at the Methodist church next Sabbath evening. An excellent musical and literary program is being prepared, and the church will be handsomely decorated. The pastor invites all who are willing to furnish floral offerings to send them to the church on Saturday at 2 p. m. Rudyard Kipling, as he showed himself to his intimate friends before he became known to all the world, will be the subject of a paper in McClure's Magazine for July. It is written by a man with whom Mr. Kipling was associated in the editorship of a newspaper in India, and it will be illustrated with portraits and other pictures from photographs furnished by Mr. Kipling's family. On Saturday next occurs the great one mile race between Tallant, of the Multnomah Club, and Coffin, of the Olympic Club, San Francisco. The race will be run at Portland, and is attracting great attention in athletic circles. One remarkable coincidence in connection with the coming contest between these two giants is the fact that both are about the same age, and, strange to say, were born in the town of Nantucket, Massachusetts. It will be a veritable instance of Greek meeting Greek. C. J. North, of Chinook, called on his Astoria friends yesterday afternoon. It is reported that the Multnomah Club's cricketers will play a match game with the Astoria club on the Smith's Point grounds the Fourth. The same club will send down a team of football players to meet the Ilwaco on their ground the same day. The baseball nine of the Multnomahs will also play the Astorians on the Fourth. The athletic boys seem to be full of business. The members of the different fire companies are much exercised over the proposed ordinance recognizing the department, which comes up for third reading in the council tonight. Many of the members state that if this ordinance is passed, they will move their horses, paraphernalia and other property from the engine houses, and will disband. They have taken the matter very seriously, and there is some talk of calling a meeting of the department today and making some effort to conciliate them. The following is a condensation of the report of the last quarterly meeting of the M. E. church, crowded out of Tuesday's issue: The business of the quarterly conference showed a healthy condition in all departments of church work. There has been but one death during the entire year; twenty-seven members had been received into the church not including ten who joined on last Sunday night. The present pastor, Rev. J. J. Walter, was recalled for another year, subject to the decision of the bishop at the next annual conference, which meets at Roseburg September 23. Another illustration of the promptness and despatch with which the Oregon National Guard can be moved, was given yesterday morning. Not a member in the camp knew that the troops were to be moved to Portland yesterday, and even when ordered to break camp, they were under the impression that they were going to Clifton. The reveille sounded at 4:30. The men turned out, performed their morning duties, cooked and ate breakfast in camp, struck their tents, loaded three tons of stores onto the trucks, and men and baggage arrived at the O. R. and N. dock at 6:45. The first intimation they had of their real destination was when they read the morning paper. BICYCLE ACADEMY. Sherman & Thing have opened a riding school next door to Pacific Express office. Competent instructors constantly in attendance. Cleveland and Crescent bicycles for sale and rent. TRADE WITH CHINA. The Columbia River Will Soon Have a Line of Fast Oriental Steamers. The arrival early yesterday morning of the steamer Astoria, direct from Yokohama, revived comment upon the question of increased service between this port and Japan and China. It is well known that the establishment of a line of first-class ocean liners between the Columbia river and the east, has been under consideration for a long while. Yesterday an authority who is posted on the subject, said he did not think it would be six months before one or two fast passenger and freight steamships would be in this service. They will undoubtedly be run in the interests of the O. R. and N. Co., and it is not unlikely that the Great Northern will have a finger in the pie. When Astoria's railroad is completed the interchange of cargoes and passengers will be made at this port. These are matters certainly not to be lost sight of. ASSIGNEE'S NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that E. H. Hawes has made a general assignment of all his property for the benefit of all his creditors; and that the undersigned, C. J. Trenchard, has been appointed assignee of said estate; and all creditors of said estate are hereby notified to present their claims against said estate, under oath, to me, within three months hereafter, at the store of said E. H. Hawes, at No. 505 Bond street, of said city. C. J. TRENCHARD, Assignee. Astoria, June 25, 1896. CARD OF THANKS. Astoria, June 25th, 1896. On behalf of the Suomi Temperance Society and the residents of Uniontown, I have been requested to express our sincere thanks to the common council of the city of Astoria for not granting a license to the Last Chance saloon in Uniontown. We also greatly appreciate the efforts of City Attorney C. J. Curtis in furthering our cause. Respectfully, A. A. SAARI, Pres. Suomi Temp. Society.

MERRY YACHTING EXCURSION

Mr. J. O. Hanthorn Entertains a Lively Party on His New Launch.

VISIT TO THE HOTEL FLAVEL

Work Progressing Well—Beautiful Scene on the Bay, Where Myriads of Fishing Boats Were Sailing in All Directions.

A merry yachting party was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mr. J. O. Hanthorn on board his new launch, the Claude B. Hanthorn. The trim little craft was drawn up to the liwaco dock about 10 o'clock in the morning, and as the affair was entirely impromptu, in honor of Mr. J. K. Armsby, of Chicago, Mr. Hanthorn was seen for half an hour scurrying about the streets, gathering his party together. When all were aboard, Captain Geo. Leland sounded the whistle, and engineer Claude Hanthorn started the machinery. The guests were Mr. J. K. Armsby, of Chicago, Mr. W. G. Goslin, Dr. M. M. Walker, Dr. Alfred Kinney, Dr. Estes, Miss Pearl Estes and sisters, Mr. A. J. Megler, Manager Johnson and wife, Mr. J. W. Conn and wife, Miss Edith Conn, Mrs. Hanthorn and daughter, and a representative of the Astorian.

The sail down the bay was enjoyed to the fullest extent by the visitors from the East, as well as those accustomed to Astoria weather and Astoria pleasures. There was just enough wind to make a ripple on the water, and the hundreds of fishing boats with sails spread, which thickly dotted the bay, was a novel sight to both strangers and home people. The run was made to the railroad bridge, where the signal was given, and passage made through the draw. Just to see if the little launch would go through or not. From the bridge to Flavel, was a sail of twenty minutes, and here all went ashore to visit Dr. Kinney's new summer residence. The hotel building is rapidly assuming proportions, and the second story is well along towards completion. The house is artistic in design, and so arranged that every room will be well lighted. Windows and doors are large, and a large veranda extends around the entire building. Besides the large office, reading rooms, dining rooms etc., there will be fifty-two bed chambers.

After inspecting the hotel to the satisfaction of the good doctor, a visit was paid to the railroad work, and the ladies of the party fully satisfied themselves that there was a railroad grade, and that piles were being driven for the big dock. Mr. Goslin seemed to be a little bit worried as to whether or not it would be completed in time to receive the steel rails which are expected shortly on the Chelmsford. Contractor Fastabend, however, assured him that all would be well.

On the return trip the launch proved herself a good sailor, and steamed up the bay at a rapid rate. A splendid view was had of Saddle Mountain and Onion Peak, and Miss Conn, in the way of a souvenir, sketched the scene on a single, for want of better material. After landing at the dock Mr. Hanthorn's guests tendered him a resolution of thanks for their pleasant outing, and were loud in their praises of the handsome boat which is one of the handsomest on the river.
