ance are to be talked over at the conclusion of the play. Two delegates will probably go from the club on Monday to attend the football convention of all clubs in the vicinity of Southern Washington to decide on the formation of a league to play for three handsome trophies that have already been donated. All members should attend at the grounds this evening.

There is great local interest in the coming games in Portland between the California and Oregon teams. The captain of the former team says he thinks his man will be the mile and the half, conceding Talant second place. But he will have to run if he does. Talant is not in very good condition this year.

The diocesan convention of the Episcopal church of Oregon meets in Portland tomorrow. Sunday morning Bishop Talbot will preach to the Brotherhood of St. Andrews at Trinity church. In the afternoon Children's day will be celebrated at the same place, and a Jubilee held in honor of Bishop Morris' fiftieth anniversary in the service of the church. Special services will be held in the evening, which will be particularly interesting.

The fishermen anticipate that there will be a better run of fish next week. Gillnetters take some consolation in the reports that the hot weather will materially raise the water in the river. It was reported yesterday that the waters in the upper rivers was either at a standstill or falling, and General Manager Dickinson, of the Northern Pacific, who has just completed a careful examination of affairs upon the headwaters of the Columbia, telegraphs that he thinks all danger is past. There are others, however, who think that the snows on the Cascades have just begun to melt, and that if hot weather continues there will certainly be a flood, almost if not equal to that of '94.

The national association of letter carriers of this country, is an organization that gets most everything it wants. No sooner did it secure the adoption of the eight-hour system of work than plans were laid by which salaries should be increased. One of the last acts of congress before its recent adjournment, was to pass a bill which provided for an increase in the salaries of all mail carriers. The scale of salaries: $600 for the first year's service; $800 for second year, and for the third year $1000. The man who will be immediately affected in the Astoria postoffice, who has already served three years, and will receive the $1000 salary as soon as the bill becomes effective in November is Mr. Ross. Messrs. Shea and Fricke will receive their advances in March next.

The ladies of the Swedish Lutheran congregation will have a strawberry festival in the basement of their church Saturday, June 27th, at 8 o'clock p. m.
