A Father's Advice.

My son, save your dollars, and fortune will crown your economy. Don't pay $15 or $17.50 for a suit of clothes when you can buy the same suit for $11.50 at Herman Wise's store.

Jumping Mad!

A well known gentleman was mad the other day; why? Because he paid $16 for a suit of clothes in one of the stores and afterwards found that Herman Wise is selling better suits at $11.50 each.

THE OPENING OF THE CARNIVAL

First Day's Races on the Water Were Very Closely Contested and Quite Exciting.

WEATHER NOT FAVORABLE

Flagship Antiope, Captain Banks, the Center of Attraction—Two Races Not Yet Decided by the Judges—Many Strangers in the City.

At 9:30 yesterday morning the third annual Astoria regatta opened under a cloudy sky. The weather was not quite what it should have been, as the wind was light. Fortunately, however, the first races were so arranged that the competing craft did not have to depend upon wind as a motive power.

The races were started promptly one after another, and while tediousness was thus avoided, it made it difficult for those not posted to keep track of the various races following each other so closely. There was a little confusion at the beginning of the races in regard to the rounding stakes, and especially in the gasoline launch and milk boat races there was considerable bewilderment amongst the craft.

The following are the judges' awards: Fish boats—No. 12 first; No. 21 second, No. 3 third. Not yet decided on account of a protest entered by No. 5.

Gasoline launches—No. 1, 1:10:13; No. 6, 1:10:32; No. 8, 1:10:34. Surf boats—Fort Canby, 19:25; Fort Stevens, 19:26.

Ship's boats—Antiope, 22:15; Southlandshire, 22. Whitehall double scull—No. 1, 22:50; No. 2, 22:48.

One of the most exciting races of the day, and one which was not down on the program, took place between two pigs which got out of their pen under Jeff's restaurant and swam up the river to the O. R. and N. dock. Dick Leathers went out in a skiff and captured the two strange racers safely landing them both at Fisher's dock.

About twenty ladies have signified their willingness to enter the bicycle parade Thursday night. It is safe to say that every wheel in town will be handsomely decorated and appear in the line of march. It will be no little feature to have the ladies join in the procession. The line of march will be published Thursday morning.

The following is today's program: 9:30 a. m.—Pleasure boats single scull, prize $15. Course from flagship to No. 3 tank buoy and return, three miles.

THE ISSUE OF COMMON HONESTY

Hourke Cockran Addresses Eighteen Thousand People in Madison Square Garden.

DEMOCRATS CHEER MCKINLEY

Love of Country Above Party—"Star Spangled Banner" Sung by the Vast Audience—Cockran's Eloquence—Rate of Wages the Test.

Madison Square Garden, New York, August 18.—The second notable demonstration in the political campaign in New York city was held tonight under the auspices of the Democratic Honest Money League of America, in Madison Square Garden, where the Hon. W. Bourke Cockran addressed an immense audience with a speech entitled "In Opposition of Repudiation."

Eighteen thousand guests had been set aside in the garden, and all of them were filled when Mr. Cockran advanced to the front of the platform and was greeted by tremendous cheers, men climbing upon their seats and waving little American flags.

J. John Bryne, president of the league, called the meeting to order and addressed his hearers as "Democrats who love their country above party," and exhorting them to save that party from repudiation, anarchy and socialism, and then presented Hon. Perry Belmont, who made a short speech by way of overture to Cockran's effort.

There was a second outburst of cheering when Cockran was introduced which lasted several minutes, and while it was in progress sixty singers, chosen from among the city's banks and entitled "Bank's Glee Club," sang the "Star Spangled Banner," the vast audience swelling the chorus with thunderous effect. Cockran said:

"With the inspiring strains of that national song still ringing in our ears who can doubt the issue of this campaign? (Applause.) Stripped of all verbal disguise, it is an issue of common honesty, an issue between the honest discharge and the dishonest repudiation of all public and private obligations. Fellow Democrats, we must raise our hands against the nominee of our party and we must do it to preserve the future of that party. We must oppose the nominee of the Chicago convention, and we know full well that the success of our opposition will mean our own exclusion from public life; but we will be contented and gratified by the reflection that it will prove that the American people cannot be divided into parties on the question of simple morals or of common honesty. We would look in vain through the speeches delivered here one week ago to find a true statement of the issue involved in this canvass. Indeed, I believe it is doubtful if the candidate himself quite understands the nature of the faith which he professes. I say this, not in criticism of his ability, but in justice to his morality. I believe that if he himself understood the inevitable consequences of the doctrines which he preaches that his own hands would be the very first to tear down the platform on which he stands. If Mr. Bryan could show me that by any means known to heaven or on earth wages could be increased I will be ready to support him, because I know of no test of prosperity absolutely infallible except the rate of wages paid to laborers. No man can tell how, or when, or where the wages of the workman are to be increased; but anyone who examines the scheme can see that the inevitable tendency, the inevitable debasement in the standard of value, must be a reduction in the rate of wages—and that is the conspiracy in which the Populist is engaged. It is not the volume of money but the activity of money that counts. The basis of sound trade is sound money. Money which is intrinsically valuable, money which like the gold coinage of this country, the government cannot affect if it tried to, if Bryan is going to enrich somebody the thing which he means to bestow on

ANOTHER STAGE ROBBERY.

Redding, Cal., August 18.—The Bieber and Redding southbound stage was held up near Morley, twenty-five miles from Redding, this morning about 2 o'clock by a lone highwayman who demanded the express box. The driver told him there was no express on that route. He then demanded the mail and the driver gave him the way pouch, keeping the through pouch, when he drove on as per orders.

MCKINLEY'S PLURALITY.

Canton, Ohio, August 18.—Hon. Stewart L. Woodford, ex-lieutenant governor of New York, lunched with Major McKinley today. To an Associated Press reporter he said New York would surely give McKinley 100,000 plurality and probably the largest ever known for any candidate. McKinley addressed a delegation of 200 Afro-Americans from Cleveland this afternoon.
