Owing to the repairing which the Catholic church of this city is undergoing, mass will be celebrated next Sunday in the new convent of the Holy Names at the usual hours, 8 and 10:30 a. m. Immediately after the last mass the blessing of the house will take place, and those desiring to visit the building will be at liberty to do so. The friends of the school are cordially invited to attend the ceremonies.

As the 5:30 train pulled out for Seaside last evening, a gentleman was almost run down by a frisky team of horses being driven along the narrow platform between the warehouse and the train. The platform at the time was crowded with men, women and children, and it would seem to be a dangerous practice for teams to drive there at train times. One gentleman said that he thought it was quite proper for either the railroad or boat company to establish some rules governing the matter.

The steamer Mayflower yesterday morning bore a merry outing party down the Columbia to Seaside heads, Chinook Beach, consisting of Mr. Elmore and daughters, Miss Sue Elmore and Miss Ploie Elmore, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Crosby, and son, Mr. F. C. Crosby, Miss Marion Rice, Miss Polly Mc-

Mr. S. E. Utzinger, who has just returned from a visit to Cannon Beach, says it is the first time in three years that he has been on that beach, and that he found many improvements. Being the first of the month he witnessed the grand sight of the high tides breaking over the large rocks off the shore, for which Elk Creek and Cannon Beach are noted. He also reports that the new road being constructed over the mountain at Joe Walters' place is well under way. Mrs. Austin is making many friends by the excellent gammer in which she runs her place, and the Russell House at Elk Creek has also made an enviable reputation this season. Mr. Utzinger says that if there were only a railroad to Cannon Beach the Washington resorts on the north shore would have no show. Mr. R. F. Allen's family have just occupied one of Mrs. Clayton's cottages, and others will go to Cannon Beach if the good weather hold out. The families of Messrs. Griffin and Ferguson will return today.

A VERY STRONG DOCUMENT

is worthy of credit or confidence can afford to say explicitly on a question vital to every interest what it means when such meaning is challenged or doubted. It is desirable that we should make it known at once, and authoritatively that an "honest dollar" means any dollar equivalent to a gold dollar of the present standard of weight and fineness. The world should likewise be assured that the standard dollar of the French Napoleon, the British sovereign, or the German 20-mark piece, the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 is a policy which no nation has ever before proposed, and it is not today permitted in any mint in the world, not even in Mexico. It is proposed to make the coinage unlimited, at an absolutely fictitious ratio, fixed with no reference to intrinsic value or pledge of ultimate redemption. With silver at its present price of less than seventy cents per ounce in the market, such a policy means an immediate profit to the seller of silver, for which there is no return now or hereafter to the people or the government. It means that for each dollar's worth of silver bullion delivered at the mint, practically two dollars of stamped coin will be given in exchange. For 100 dollars worth of bullion nearly 200 silver dollars will be delivered. Let it also be remembered that the consequences of such an act would probably be cumulative in their effects. The crop of silver, unlike that of hay or wheat or corn, which, being of yearly production, can be regulated by the law of supply and demand, is fixed once for all. The silver which has not yet been gathered is all in the ground. Death or other accident of the elements cannot augment or diminish it. It is not more than probable that, with the enormous premium offered for the mining, the cupidity of man would make an oversupply continuously with the necessary result of steady depreciation as long as the silver dollar could be put in circulation at all. Under the laws of finance, which are as fixed as those of any other science, the inevitable result would finally be a currency all and absolutely fiat. There is no difference in principle between a dollar half fiat and one all fiat. The latter, as the cheapest, under the logic of "cheap money," would surely drive the other out.

Any attempt on the part of the government to create by its fiat money a fictitious value would dishonor us in the eyes of other peoples, and bring infinite reproach on the national character. The business and financial consequences of such an immoral act would be world-wide, because our commercial relations are world-wide.

All our settlements with other lands must be made, not with the money which may be legally current in our own country, but in gold, the standard of all nations with which our relations are most cordial and extensive, and no legislative enactment can free us from that inevitable necessity. It is a known fact that more than eighty per cent of the commerce of the world is settled in gold or on a gold basis.

AN INQUIRY. Astoria, Or., Sept. 10th, 1896.

A certain paper of the city has a standing statement at the head of its column on the fourth page, as follows: "The circulation is guaranteed to be larger than any paper in Astoria."

It has evidently dawned upon the mind of its proprietor that the is not a paper, which has long been apparent to the general public.
