One of the pretty sights along the water front yesterday afternoon was a large boat being pulled by a little girl and boy who kept stroke together better than some old salts could do. A man in the stern of the boat, evidently their father, lent a helping hand, and was no doubt proud of the accomplishment of the little folks.

One of the passengers from China yesterday on the Monmouthshire, was a Mr. Worden, brother of the man convicted of wrecking the train near Sacramento during the Southern Pacific railroad strike, and who is under sentence to be hanged for the crime. The appearance on the street yesterday of Chief Green, with a new campaign button which a friend sent him from San Francisco, caused considerable amusement as well as excitement. The button is an oxidized silver coffin. On the lid is engraved, "Billy Bryan, Nov. 3, '96." The lid raises with a spring, revealing the features of the departed. On the inside of the lid are the following words: "Free silver knocked him out."

The entertainment given under the auspices of the Library Tuesday evening, will be good. The Oregonian spoke highly of it when given in Portland, and a number of Astorians who saw it have indicated their desire to go again. NEW COLLEGE ESTABLISHED Convent of the Holy Names Is Now Ready to Receive Pupils.

DEDICATION SERVICES TODAY

Astoria to Make Strides in the Culture of Her Youth—The New Academy Complete in Every Department—Health and Comfort.

The first seminary ever built or maintained in Astoria with any pretensions to teaching the higher branches of education, will be dedicated at 10 o'clock this morning. The Convent of the Holy Names, for young ladies, conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, will open its first school term tomorrow morning.

The seminary buildings stand upon the old Taylor homestead, the original house being used for parlors, reception rooms, music rooms, dining rooms and private apartments for the sisters. Joined to the old building is a large two-story modern structure, providing ample facilities for class rooms, dormitories, and studios.

Ten boarding pupils have already applied for admission, as well as a number of day pupils. The faculty will make a specialty of teaching the higher branches. The regular four-year course is a Latin course. German and French, among other languages, will also be taught. In the music department besides vocal music, which is also a part of the daily program, the pupils will have the opportunity of learning the piano, violin, mandolin, zither, guitar, and banjo. Special attention is paid by the sisters to the deportment of the young ladies under their charge, and their education in etiquette. No distinction whatever is made in the reception of pupils on account of their religious opinions, and all interference with the convictions of non-Catholics is carefully avoided.

THUNDER STORM. The First Storm in Many Years Visited Astoria Yesterday Afternoon. A regular old-fashioned thunder storm, accompanied by heavy rain and hail, visited Astoria yesterday afternoon. Old timers said that it was the first one accompanied by such sharp thunder seen in this locality in ten or fifteen years.

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE. Met His Namesake and Is Nonplussed. Mr. Mackintosh, the Gray's River logger, came to town yesterday. "Say, Mac, what brought you to town?" inquired a friend. "The rain always brings McIntoshes to town," replied Mac. "Are you made out of rubber? I thought you were a wooden man," said his friend. "Oh, indeed," says Mac. "You ought to get in out of the wet. Why don't you get one of those new rubber mackintoshes Herman Wise just got in from the East? He has over 100 of them and offers them at a 10 per cent discount to dispose of them. He has them from $3.50 to the finest silk-lined ones, cape or box coats."

CALL FOR WARRANTS. Notice is hereby given to all parties holding Clatsop county warrants endorsed prior to August 8th, 1896, to present the same to the county treasurer for payment, as interest will cease from this date.

ANOTHER STRONG DOCUMENT

to me, a display of slight appreciation of the duty and province of institutions dependent upon and looking to the public for support. For instance, I saw an article some time ago in a local paper, stating that the whole townsite of Astoria was sliding into the river, and that it was but a question of time when we would land in Knappaion. I freely and fully confess my inability to discover the mark of either wit or wisdom in that untruthful statement.

I observe a disposition to misrepresent certain localities. For instance, the towns of Flavel, New Astoria and Warrenton, are sneered at and referred to as worthless and impossible localities. It would seem that a very slight sense of gratitude ought to save Flavel from being classed in this category when it is considered how much its promoters have aided in bringing about railroad construction to Astoria. I doubt if L. B. Seeley has dreamed of any thing but a railroad to Astoria and Flavel for four years last past, he certainly has contributed almost his entire time and efforts in aid of the scheme, and more than all others, is entitled to credit for the successful issue.

It will not be by the cultivation of petty jealousies and local oppositions that we shall grow and prosper, but by the absolute elimination of all such feelings. I would not be so ungenerous as to intimate that such comments and attacks upon the properties mentioned would probably be supplemented by songs of sweetest praise emanating from the same source, were a sufficient "insult" tendered, but I cannot refrain from suggesting to the management that the course they adopt very generally suggests the thought.

Therefore, without special reference to any institution or individual, I would urge upon all citizens a little greater display of local pride and patriotism in every way. Patronize home industries and institutions only. Buy nothing elsewhere that you can buy at home. Encourage every enterprise and every person who takes a step forward. Think it not a personal misfortune, that your neighbor is more prosperous than yourself. He cannot greatly prosper without contributing somewhat to the general welfare. I once heard that the people of Spokane declined to patronize any grocery who did not sell exclusively crackers made at the Spokane Cracker Factory. Whether true or not, it is the correct principle. If we will but pull together, and support only the men and institutions that support and advocate our interests and our institutions, a great prosperity will attend us.
