There is nothing which so excites the scorn of Mr. Bryan and his like as the idea of paying any respect to European opinion in matters of finance. He is never so heroic as when he throws back his hyacinthine locks and roars his deflance at European statesmen, telling some stevedore in the audience that he understands financial questions better than all the financiers on the continent, and tickling the ears of the groundlings by screaming that this country is great enough to have its own will save time and Doctor's Bills, and it is better than pills because easier to financial policy, independent of foreign have at hand an active, harmless and perinfluence. According to him, we should fectly safe purgative, alterative and tonic. pation, Billousness, Sick Headache, and have an American calendar, an American Bible, an American procession of the equinox. But under all this screaming a toad-eater lurked, as naive and ansophisticated as any shopboy in Lonfor who worships in his chamber a photograph of the Prince of Wales. All the applause he has received from his fellow-citizens has not seemed to defellow-citizens has not seemed to de-light him so much as the receipt by Governor Culberson of a brief, con. pleasant sleep. temptuous note from Prince Bismarck If at any time you feel your system to the effect that-although he, while needs cleansing and regulating without in office, demonetized aliver-he thought violent purging, take SIMMONS LIVER it might be a good thing for the United REGULATOR. His ingenuous joy over this bit of princely impertmence can only be compared to that of the loyal Briton of the last generation who was boasting that the Prince Regent once spoke to him, and when asked what he said replied with honest exultation: "He said, 'Get out of my way, you blundering blockhend!" "

But it is not only princes who have the power to move the springs of Mr. .50 Bryan's facile sensibilities. We might .45 have been sure, from the manner in which he has jumped from his sleeping berth in the gray dawn and deprived himself of his beauty sleep at midnight to abuse and villify rich mon, that they lay very near his heart, and occupied more than was reasonable, his thoughts and imaginations. It would have been safe to bet that if ever he came into the bodily presence of a man worth a million he would, metaphorically speaking, fall instantly on his marrowbone newspaper published on the Columbia before him and offer him the income of his adoring heart. The chance came the other day in West Virginia, when ex-Senator Davis, a gentleman of large wealth, presided at a meeting in Mr. Bryan's honor. The Boy could not restrain his rapture.
