SIGNAL SERVICE REPORT. YESTERDAY'S WEATHER. Maximum temperature, 44 degrees. Minimum temperature, 37 degrees. Precipitation, .20 inch.

TODAY'S WEATHER. Portland, Or., November 19.—For Oregon and Washington, fair weather.

TO READERS.—The "Daily Astorian" contains twice as much reading matter as any other paper published in Astoria. It is the only paper that presents its readers with a daily telegraphic report.

State of Oregon, County of Clatsop. We, the undersigned, local managers respectively of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies, hereby certify that the "Daily Astorian" is the only paper published in Astoria which now receives, or at any time during our control of said offices has received, a telegraphic news report.

AROUND TOWN. Go to the Character concert this evening. Fresh peas and string beans at Ford & Stokes.

Mr. J. M. Tillotson, of New York, is in the city. Yesterday Mr. Sam Adair was over from Warrenton.

Mr. H. Glenn, of The Dalles, is visiting in the city. Mr. W. H. Borer, of South Bend, Wn., is at the Occident.

Mr. C. A. Doty, of Kalama, was in the city yesterday. Dr. Kinney made a flying trip to New Astoria yesterday.

Money to Loan—Astoria Abstract, Title and Trust Co. Mr. J. O. Hanthorn returned home from Portland yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Koser have returned from a visit to Portland. Mr. John Arnett, of San Francisco, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. L. H. Pederson is absent on business at the metropolis. Gunther's, the only candles in the city. C. B. Smith, sole agent.

Oregon cream cheese, 15 cents a brick, worth 60c, at Ford & Stokes. Mr. J. Q. Williams, of San Francisco, was at the Occident yesterday.

Just received, at Ford & Stokes, 100 dozen strictly fresh ranch eggs. Will Madison returned yesterday morning from a trip up the river.

Mackintoshes are selling rapidly at the Low Price Store, 451 Bond street. W. H. Woodward, advance agent of the Grau Opera Company, is in the city.

Messrs. Wm. True and Andrew Berg were up from Fort Stevens yesterday. Just take a look at C. B. Smith's famous Gunther candles. It will do you good.

Mr. E. C. Frost, who has been in the city for the past week left for Portland by last night's boat. Dr. Howard's residence is at 335 Commercial street, over the "Spa." Night calls promptly attended.

Capt. Peaseley, who sailed the schooner Louis from China to this port, is still here awaiting orders. Don't forget the Character concert tonight. Doors open at 7:30. Concert begins at 8 o'clock sharp.

Dr. T. L. Ball, dentist. Teeth extracted without pain. Price reasonable. No. 562 Commercial street. Mr. A. Bartholomew came up yesterday afternoon from Seaside. He expects to return home today.

The Western Union Telegraph Company yesterday received the cable which is to be laid across Young's Bay. Your tea-trade for the next ten years is worth having. We want it.

Try all five flavors of Schilling's Best tea, and get your money back (of your grocer) on those that you don't like. A Schilling & Company San Francisco.

In connection with the Seaside telegraph line. Mr. F. M. Gunn took a trip down to Seaside yesterday morning, returning to the city on the afternoon train.

Mr. A. F. Rogers, representing the Blake-McFall Company, was looking after business in Astoria yesterday. The regular weekly of the W. C. T. U. will be held in Rescue parlors today at 2 p. m. A full attendance is desired.

Don't pay ten and twelve dollars for air-tight stoves when you can get them for half the money at 451 Bond street. Messrs. E. A. Seeley and J. M. Turney came down from Portland on the steamer Thompson yesterday morning.

Mrs. W. Matheson, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Kindred, at Fort Stevens, has returned to her home at Portland. Among the Portlanders in the city yesterday were Messrs. O. O. Major, Chauncey McDonald, A. F. Rogers and H. J. Hooper.

Two bales of large rope arrived on the Telephone yesterday afternoon, to be used in the effort to get the bark Zinita off the beach. Mrs. Thomas Bell and family have come to the city from Nahcotta, Washington, and expect to remain in Astoria during the winter.

Remember the "Character" concert at the opera house this evening. It will be one of the best entertainments ever given in Astoria. LOOK OUT for fraudulent telegraphic news in the Astoria afternoon papers. None of these papers receives one line of outside news by telegraph.

Two carloads of telegraph poles for the Seaside road from Flavel yesterday. They will be used at the Astoria end of the new telegraph line. Mr. J. F. Hamilton has completed the grading on his lot at the top of 11th street and commenced the erection of his new residence on the property.

Mr. C. Zauner, the lighthouse keeper at Destruction Island, is in the city with Mrs. Zauner, awaiting the departure of the Columbine, which will take them to their home. Don't forget that the Low Price Store has the only perfect fitting wrappers, the handsomest line of jackets and capes, and is selling them at wholesale prices, 451 Bond street.

President L. A. Loomis and Secretary J. R. Goulter, of the I. R. and N., came over from Ilwaco yesterday afternoon and were passengers by the Telephone for Portland in the evening. The steamer Eclipse is still at the blockade in Gray's river, but Captain Skilbe thinks the water will soon recede sufficiently to allow the removal of the logs and the release of the steamer.

Among the out-of-town visitors in the city yesterday were Knuts Norwick, Chris Olsen, A. E. Johnson, John Welton, of Chinook; John A. Heckard, I. Heckard, and W. J. Ingalls, of Lewis and Clarke. Quite a lot of driftwood various in size and quality has been hauled on the beach near the Dalgity Iron Works. Among the salvage was the trunk of a tree, about 125 feet in length and several feet in diameter.

In the county clerk's office yesterday Antoine D. Sunboer, M. D. Konboosko, John Palangas, Siamitas Barleries and Christ. Bagieries, natives of Greece, declared their intention of becoming citizens of the United States. The steamer from Astoria was quite late in arriving at Portland Tuesday night—so late, in fact, as to delay the departure on the return trip until after midnight. The steamer arrived in this city yesterday morning about 9:30.

An instrument was filed in Recorder Williams' office yesterday whereby one-fifth of the Flavel townsite, which was donated by the Flavel Land and Development Company to A. B. Hammond as a subsidy, is released from a mortgage of $22,000 held by Mary C. Flavel and daughters against the property. Capt. Ingram has again gone out to the Glemmoring. The tug Coleman towed out the schooner with the anchor and hawsers yesterday morning. Preparations will be made for floating the vessel and everything put in readiness, after which the labor will rest, awaiting the high tides about December 3, when it is hoped the vessel will forsake the sandy beach for the high sea.

A meeting will be held at Chidwell this afternoon for the purpose of raising subscriptions to construct a road from the new Lewis and Clarke bridge to a point on Young's River opposite the southern termination of Seventh street, which is soon to be improved. About two miles of the road to be built, and, if the funds necessary to carry on the work can be raised, the county court will be petitioned to locate the proposed new bridge at that point. It is said that nearly three miles can be saved by constructing the bridge there instead of at Williamsport.

Ah Fong, the unfortunate blind Chinaman who was recently arrested for begging, was before the county court yesterday, the officers having in view what disposition was to be made of him. He is helpless as a child, and, having been deserted by his countrymen, will starve if the county does not provide for him. Several Chinese merchants appeared before Judge Gray yesterday and stated that a subscription was being raised to send the poor man to China. Already over $35 has been collected, but this amount is insufficient. Fong will be cared for by the county till the Chinese decide what they will do for him.

The body of Anton Verange, who was murdered near Clifton Monday last, was buried yesterday at Greenwood. Rev. Mr. Short conducted the service. Many Greeks attended the funeral and all kissed the brow of the dead man before the casket was sealed. Many of the Greeks believe young Verange committed suicide. The only reason given for their belief is that he had quarreled with his uncle. It is also said he accused his uncle of having tried to drown him and formerly of having drowned two of his boatpayers. The Greeks say he was sullen after this conversation had taken place and that his remorse drove him to suicide. The suicide theory, however, is ridiculous. In the first place, Dr. Fulton testified the wound in Verange's breast caused almost instant death and it does not follow that the man could have walked down to the river, thrown the knife away and then laid down and died. The ground where the body was found has been carefully searched and no trace of the knife found, so it is very evident that the instrument was carried away. A special to the Astorian from Clifton published in yesterday's paper says that Verange was sent for a paint brush and that he never returned. The errand could not have taken him into the brush behind Falangas's house. Verange fished last season while the others were on a strike and he has no doubt paid the penalty.

John Petano was up before Judge Nelson in the police court yesterday charged with having insulted two ladies. Petano was arrested Tuesday night by Officer Sinnott. It appears that the man approached the ladies, who, by the way, had an escort, and, placing his hands on them, made insulting remarks. When Mr. Sinnott arrested Petano the ladies said they would appear against him, but failed to put in an appearance, instead sending their brother. The latter would not answer the purpose, however. The case was called and Petano answered "guilty" to the charge. He was asked his condition at the time he committed the crime, and answered that he was a fisherman. "No, that isn't what I mean," said City Attorney Welch. "Were you drunk or sober?" "Oh! I was drunk! I have been drunk for three solid weeks." The spectators could not suppress a laugh, and even Judge Nelson smiled. Petano seemed to think that he was not believed and, turning to the audience, said: "Don't you believe me? I tell you I have been drunk for three weeks." He was fined $10 and told that, if the ladies had appeared against him, it would have been $50. Captain Hallock afterwards learned that Petano has only been in town since Friday, coming here from Seattle, where he was taken into custody for insanity and subsequently released. The man is undoubtedly insane, but is not dangerous.

In Medieval Days

When people wanted anything they knelt down and prayed for it. However, that was some time ago. Along about 1400 a fellow named Gutenberg, who had come to Rhine over, was monkeying around a carpenter shop in Leipsa. He whittled some little blocks and actually made an alphabet. Then he rigged a sort of press to a machine, and then screwed his press down. That was called printing. Old Gutenberg made a howling success of the racket, and his hand became so swollen that he really scumbled the king one day. The king overlooked it, however, for he had an idea what kind of fellows printers would be. Well, finally they got the printing system down pat, and, as the centuries rolled by, began printing newspapers—first, invariably singular number, any gender and hard case.

In This Enlightened Day

There are many newspapers—of a matter of fact, but it is an utter impossibility to get a newspaper to admit it. The advertising patronage of a newspaper depends largely—trouble a wife, a house—don't make any difference what it is—he can get it by means of a small ad, included in the "want" columns are "For Sale," "Lost," "Found," "Stolen" and "Miscellaneous." Now, just see what chumps some people are! Why, a man has been known to hunt over a city—this city—for days looking for a house in which to live. Had he come to the Astorian office and asked for a want ad, he could have gotten his house without the least bit of trouble and for about 25 cents.

Want Columns

That is, a column, or a number of columns, devoted to small advertisements. If a fellow wants anything—trouble a wife, a house—don't make any difference what it is—he can get it by means of a small ad, included in the "want" columns are "For Sale," "Lost," "Found," "Stolen" and "Miscellaneous." Now, just see what chumps some people are! Why, a man has been known to hunt over a city—this city—for days looking for a house in which to live. Had he come to the Astorian office and asked for a want ad, he could have gotten his house without the least bit of trouble and for about 25 cents.

It Is Needless

To tell of The Astorian's circulation. The paper has been established for a quarter of a century. Why, old Concomly read the first rumor of the building of a railroad to his graves from a locomotion is the Astorian's long suit. Consequently, when a fellow comes into The Astorian office, looks pleasant, throws down 25 cents on the counter and says he wants a house, he gets it.

Why, Just Think!

The Astorian goes into every house in Astoria and a great majority of those in the surrounding sections of Oregon and Washington. Hence, if you insert an ad in The Astorian, it is equivalent to engaging a man to go around to all those houses and telling the inmates that you want something or have something for sale. Why, talk about a snapp!

A Bit of Advice

When you want anything—no matter what it is—when you have anything for sale; when you lose, find or steal anything, come around and tell your trouble to The Astorian. Bring 25 cents with you, and, above all things, look pleasant. Tell the clerk that you want an ad. In the want column, give him your 25 cents and go away happy. As Herman Wise would say, a want ad will restore the blind, the bald and the bowlegged to manhood.
