TODAY'S WEATHER. Portland, Or., November 27.—For Oregon and Washington, fair weather, colder.

TO READERS.—The "Daily Astorian" contains twice as much reading matter as any other paper published in Astoria. It is the only paper that presents its readers with a daily telegraphic report.

AROUND TOWN.

Turkey was king yesterday. Did you call on Paul Jones last night? Pianos for rent—Griffin & Reed, City Book Store.

The political prophets are of the opinion that the councilman from the Second Ward will be nominated from the following list of gentlemen: Aug. Danielson, Chris. Evenson, Thad. Trullinger, Martin Foard, Jay Tuttle.

With the usual courtesy of a British sea captain all of the skippers of the harbor yesterday dressed their vessels in honor of the national holiday. The day was perfect and generally observed throughout the city.

THE UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICE HELD AT THE M. E. Church was pronounced by all who attended the best service ever held in Astoria. The church was well filled with an audience that entered with a true thanksgiving spirit into all the services.

Queer way to sell tea? Your grocer sells you a package of Schilling's Best. If you don't like it he gives you your money back.

George Smith was 21 years old yesterday, and appropriately celebrated the occasion by giving a birthday party at the Bachelor's Club.

A certain swell Astoria man who scratches his colars so high that they reach his neck, can truthfully be said to have a bad case of "cholera."

LOOK OUT for fraudulent telegraphic news in the Astoria afternoon papers. None of these papers receives one line of outside news by telegraph.

Don't forget that the Low Price Store has the only perfect fitting wrappers, the handsomest line of jackets and capes, and is selling them at wholesale prices. 491 Bond street.

Herman Branch, Nellie Duke, Clyde E. Sim, of the Graw Company, S. D. Eaton and wife, of Salem, and J. H. Ashley and daughter, Brookfield, were registered at the Parker House yesterday.

Mrs. Hawbaker, formerly in the dressmaking business as Miss Gough, on 11th street, is again engaged in business with Mrs. L. D. Johnson, on 9th street, where she will be pleased to meet all of her old customers.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church will hold its regular monthly meeting at 2:30 p. m. today at the house of Mrs. Bollinger.

With the usual courtesy of a British sea captain all of the skippers of the harbor yesterday dressed their vessels in honor of the national holiday. The day was perfect and generally observed throughout the city.

H. J. Hooper, San Francisco, A. S. Fleet, Cascade locks; Frank Thurbank, Sunshine, Wash.; J. H. Kerns, Siletz River; S. H. Maddock, Seaside; Julius Grau, Stanley Phelps, Robert Dunbar, Miss Carrie Ward, Miss Alice Johnson, Miss Alice Carie, and Sylvian Langlois, of the Grau Opera Company, were guests of the Occident yesterday.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. For sale by Chas. Rogers, Druggist.

A CASE OF CRUELTY. To the Editor: A society for the prevention of cruelty to animals might have found a job on Wednesday. In a show window on Commercial street two Alaskan owls were on exhibition.

ed to get away from its murderous companions, but all in vain. The huge bird sprang upon the fluttering victim and with beak and talons soon ended its life. This writer has no objections to feeding owls in show windows, and feeding them, on pigeons when properly butchered, but we protest that such exhibitions are entirely too near akin to the still lingering pagan practice of bull-fighting in certain portions of so-called civilized communities.

HEARD HIS DEATH CRY.

The talk had turned to the supernatural, and a man who has been the foreman of a newspaper composing room for a good many years down in Virginia told the following story in the presence of a Star reporter:

"I thought it was one of the boys in the office who was calling, and I made no immediate reply. Again I heard someone call in a very distinct voice. This time I recognized it as Blank's voice.

"I walked over to the front window, threw up the sash and peered out. The street was silent and deserted. Not a living thing was to be seen.

From the Philadelphia Record. A few accommodating florists and enthusiastic amateur chrysanthemum growers have allowed us to peep at the favorite blooms now in training for the fall display.

A Neat Dress Is what every lady wants. Miss Florence McMullen, Room 7, Mansell building, has already established a reputation for making nicely-fitting garments.

and globular, the most distinct variety on exhibition, creamy white in general effect, a tone of color difficult to describe. It is noticed from this year's blooms that under ordinary culture the flowers are creamy white, overlaid here and there with a pale sulphur yellow; but at night, and as the flowers grow older, they appear pure white.

A VIEW OF ASTORIA.

Mr. McAllen, Writes of the Situation in the Seaside City. Oregonian. Mr. D. McAllen, of the firm of McAllen & McDonnell, of Portland, who is now in Astoria, in charge of the firm's branch store in that city, writes the following letter to his partner, Mr. J. T. McDonnell:

Astoria, Or., Nov. 24.—The weather here is all that could be desired—bright, warm sunshine, with crisp, bracing, frosty air. Everybody is looking the picture of health, and, as a matter of course, the men "smile." Astoria wears a mantle of prosperity.
