All communications intended for publication should be directed to the editor. Business communications of all kinds and remittances must be addressed to The Astorian.

The Astorian guarantees to its subscribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Advertising rates can be had on application to the business manager.

The Weekly Astorian, the second oldest weekly in the state of Oregon, has, next to the Portland Oregonian, the largest weekly circulation in the state.

Jno. F. Handley & Co., are our Portland agents, and copies of The Astorian can be had every morning at their stand, 124 Third street.

The "Astorian" hereby offers to donate ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS to St. Mary's Hospital, payable on demand to Father DeLan, whenever legal evidence is produced showing that any afternoon newspaper published in Astoria has printed within the last ninety days expiring before this offer a single "special" or other kind of "telegraphic press report," received over the wires entering either of the telegraph offices in Astoria, from any point outside of Oregon.

Astoria, Or., October 15, 1896.

After much scolding and persistent dimming the Astorian finally succeeded in convincing the Oregonian that its course in advertising Portland's freemasonry without adequate provocation was prejudicial to the whole state, and now, we presume, in the interest of the nation, we shall have to go after the Associated Press for its repeated and unnecessary mention of Mr. Willie Jennings Bryan. The people of other countries would forget that such a man ever lived, or perhaps, at least, might assume that he was dead, if the Associated Press would allow his name to remain in innocuous desuetude.

The leaders of the Populist party in Kansas seem to have learned something since the election. They are talking in a very different tone now from the one that was heard during the campaign. The governor-elect has always been one of the most reckless of agitators, but he seems inclined now to take the same course as his fellow-agitator who was elected governor of Washington and who now declares that he never meant half of what he said and wrote. Even the anarchistic lawyer who has been chosen chief justice of the supreme court has become calm and hope is expressed that he may develop conservatism with the access of responsibility.

People who think that our presidents ought to be chosen by popular vote should find food for reflection in the statement from Austin that during the last week of November the state returning board was counting the vote of Texas, and that even so long after the election as the 1st of December the figures had not been received at the capital from six counties, says the New York Post. Fancy the condition of the country after an election like that of 1890, when Garfield received 214 electoral votes and Hancock 155, if the public had been obliged to wait a month or more for the full returns from Texas in order to learn which candidate had a plurality of the popular vote—the final count in that year showing 9,464 more for Garfield than for Hancock in the whole Union. Think, too, of the temptation that the Democratic officials who always compose returning boards in Texas would have had to throw out 10,000 Republican votes in that state in order to leave Hancock ahead in the whole country—the recent count at Austin having been made behind closed doors by the governor, secretary of state, and attorney-general, without the presence of a single representative.

Why doesn't the Oregonian submit to the inevitable and turn in and help the development of Oregon's great and only seaport at the mouth of the Columbia? Its ceaseless agitation for deep water to Portland, its talk about a dry dock there, and the nonsense it prints about a parallel between the canal ports of Hamburg and Manchester and Portland only very thinly disguise the trepidation it really feels over the rapidly approaching completion of the Astoria and Columbia River Railroad. Instead of pandering to and encouraging the blind infatuation of its Portland readers as to the practicability of that town's retention of its ocean shipping business, it would much better become a great and influential paper like the Oregonian to cultivate a spirit of reconciliation and adaptation to circumstances beyond their power to change; thus adding the development of Astoria and at the same time helping to retain for the benefit of the whole state an important interest which will surely become decadent unless Astoria is prepared as rapidly as possible to take it in charge. The latest of the many desperate schemes which the Oregonian has invented to overcome the laws of nature and obstruct the normal course of trade, is that of abolishing pilot fees between this port and Portland. Such a proposition is an utter absurdity, and a little time spent in prior investigation on the part of the men who control that paper might have saved it from the derision with which all who are acquainted with the condition of the river between Astoria and Portland will regard the suggestion. The Astorian for some time past has studiously refrained from commenting on certain facts relative to the difficulties experienced by this season's grain ships in getting down the river—out of pure good will and kind regard for the sensitive feelings which Portland people are known to cherish on that subject, but if the Oregonian isn't more careful about what it says in future attempts to indulge the foolish visions and crazy whims of its patrons we shall have to explain some of the reasons why ship-owners and insurance companies would not look with favor upon a proposal to send vessels up the river to Portland except under the guidance of the most skillful and careful river pilots that can be obtained.

WHY TRADE DOESN'T BOOM.

Some disappointment is expressed in trade circles that the activity which followed quick on the heels of the election has not been maintained, and the disappointed are asking why the good times promised as a result of McKinley's election have not been realized. Both the disappointment and the inquiry are based upon a partial view of the business situation and fail to convince those with a comprehensive grasp of the facts that there is any real cause for disappointment.

When the election was held, the full wholesale and jobbing season was already over. The retailers throughout the country had already purchased the stocks, meagre though they were, they thought were actually necessary. They are not likely to purchase heavily until they lay in stock for the spring trade. The disappointed jobbers and wholesalers are those who have not taken into account the fact that when one season of unusual activity in trade is past, general activity cannot be expected until the next trade season is reached. The election fell between two of these seasons.

There has been a general revival of production, however, and many long idle manufacturing are now running full time to produce the goods that will be wanted for the spring trade. Those who are complaining of dull trade in their own particular staples have lost sight of the fact that between the manufacturing and the consumer a considerable period must elapse at the best, and that factories may be busier than ever before and goods still move slowly in jobbers' hands. The resumption of the factories, however, gives the workingmen money to purchase with and benefits the local retail trade. With the advent of the spring demand the goods now being turned out in the factories will begin to move to their final destination for distribution to the consumers.

The goods will be wanted and the consumers will have money to pay for them. This has been a year of bountiful crops and of good prices, and the money which has been paid and is still to be paid for the country's wheat, cotton, corn and other agricultural staples, is certain to find its way into the avenues of trade and quicken business into healthy activity in the near future. Those who are complaining of dull business have expected too much and made too little allowance for the time required for goods to reach consumers and realize returns in money to pay for the manufacture and distribution of more goods.

The disappointed should make due allowance for the season and the time necessary for goods to pass from the factory, and cultivate the grace of patience. The farmer who plants his corn doesn't dig it up the next day to see if it hasn't begun to grow. He waits till it does grow. Trade is in some degree a process of planting and waiting, and experienced tradesmen will do the necessary waiting in patience and with good humor.

ATTRACTIVE WOMEN.

Why is one woman attractive and another not? The most admirable and attractive thing about an attractive woman is her womanliness. Everybody admires a womanly woman. She must have health, of course, because without it she would lose the brightness of her eyes, the fullness of her cheeks, and her vivacity. Real health must mean that a woman is really a woman. That she is strong and perfect in a sexual way, as well as in every other. That she is capable of performing perfectly the duties of maternity. Some are born with what is called "constitutional weakness." Some who do not enjoy perfect health, need only take the proper precautions and the proper remedy to become perfectly well and strong. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any derangement of the distinctly feminine organism.

Extension tables in which the leaves can be placed in the under side when not in use are new. The leaves fold through the center and are laid in a pocket under the table top, thus doing away with the rack generally used for the purpose.

Fountain toothbrushes are an improvement over the old style. The handle contains a reservoir and a tube runs from this to the center of the brush proper to discharge the liquid on the bristles.

MANLY VIGOR

ONCE MORE in harmony with the world, 2000 completely cured men are singing happy praises for the greatest, grandest and most successful cure for sexual weakness and loss of vigor known to medical science. An account of this wonderful discovery, in book form, with full particulars, will be sent to you free of charge. Write to ERIE MEDICAL CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

FREE TO EVERY MAN

THE METHODS OF A GREAT TREATMENT FOR WEAKNESS OF MEN.

Which Cured Him After Everything Else Failed.

Painful diseases are bad enough, but when a man is slowly wasting away with nervous weakness, the mental forebodings are ten times worse than the most severe pain. There is no let up to the mental suffering day or night. Sleep is almost impossible, and under such a strain men are scarcely responsible for what they do. For years the writer rolled and tossed on the troubled sea of sexual weakness until it was a question whether he had not better take a dose of poison and thus end his troubles. But providential inspiration came to his aid in the shape of a combination of medicines that not only completely restored the general health, but enlarged his weak, emaciated parts to natural size and vigor, and he now declares that any man who will take the trouble to send his name and address may have the method of this wonderful treatment free. Now when I say free I mean absolutely without cost, because I want every weakened man to get the benefit of my experience.

I am not a philanthropist, nor do I pose as an enthusiast, but there are thousands of men suffering the mental tortures of weakened manhood who would be cured at once could they but get such a remedy as the one that cured me. Do not try to study out how I can afford to pay the few postage stamps necessary to mail the information, but send for it, and learn that there are a few things on earth that although they cost nothing to get they are worth a fortune to some men and mean a lifetime of happiness to most of us. Write to Thomas Slater, Box 338, Kalamazoo, Mich., and the information will be mailed in a plain, sealed envelope.

A new railroad crossing is worked by a lever at the side of the track, the operation of throwing one pair of rails into position for use displacing the other pair, thus removing the line off from one railroad when the other is in use.

MARVELOUS RESULTS.

From a letter written by Rev. J. G. Gerdman, Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at River Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption, and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work, and highly satisfactory in its results." Trial bottles free at Chas. Rogers' Drug Store. Regular size, 50c and $1.00.

A Wisconsin woman has designed an ironing table in which the board rests on springs. The table also has a lamp bracket, several drawers, and a number of rollers on which to hang the clothes when ironed, and a standard for the iron.

ELECTRIC BITTERS.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Chas. Rogers' Drug Store.

A new horse-detractor, to be used in case of runaway, has a foot lever connected with the kingbolt. Pressure on the lever draws the pin and releases the tongue and whiffle-trees. The inventor is a German.

It is the same old story and yet constantly recurring that Simmons Liver Regulator is the best family medicine. "We have used it in our family for eight years and find it the best medicine we ever used. We think there is no such medicine as Simmons Liver Regulator."—Mrs. M. E. S. Adington, Franklin, N. C. "Each member of our family uses it on occasion requires."—W. B. Smith, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

To steady a billiard cue a Philadelphia has designed a rest, consisting of a thumb and forefinger rings, fastened together and having a slot projecting upward, with a small roller in it on which the cue rests.

"Excuse me," observed the man in spectacles, "but I am a surgeon, and that is not where the liver is." "Never you mind where his liver is," retorted the other. "If it was in his big toe or his left ear Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers would reach it and shake it for him. On that you can bet your gigmams!" Chas. Rogers.

Absolutely pure, perfectly harmless, and invariably reliable are the qualities of One Minute Cough Cure. It never fails in colds, cough and lung troubles. Children like it because it is pleasant to take and it helps them, Chas. Rogers.

A Swiss engineer named Taux has just patented a new process of tempering steel by electricity that makes it much harder but gives it the desired elasticity.

The old lady was right when she said the child might die if they waited for the doctor. She saved the little one's life with a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure. She had used it for croup before. Chas. Rogers.

Many a hostess had claret spilled on her table cloth Thanksgiving day, but she was not worried over the accident, because she knew that by rubbing salt at once on the stain it would disappear.

A bookkeeping and cash-registering machine has been designed by a Brooklyn man.

The length of life may be increased by lessening its dangers. The majority of people die from lung troubles. These may be averted by promptly using One Minute Cough Cure. Chas. Rogers.
