All communications intended for publication should be directed to the editor. Business communications of all kinds and remittances must be addressed to The Astorian.

The Astorian guarantees to its subscribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia River.

Advertising rates can be had on application to the business manager.

The Weekly Astorian, the second oldest weekly in the state of Oregon, has next to the Portland Oregonian, the largest weekly circulation in the state.

Jno. F. Handley & Co. are our Portland agents, and copies of The Astorian can be had every morning at their stand, 124 Third street.

The Astorian hereby offers to donate ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS to St. Mary's Hospital, payable on demand to Father Heelan, whenever legal evidence is presented showing that said afternoon newspaper published in Astoria has printed before this offer a single "special" or other kind of "telegraphic press report," received over the wires entering either of the telegraph offices in Astoria, from any point outside of Oregon.

Astoria, Or., October 15, 1896.

There is just one way to offset the damage already done to Oregon by the importation of salmon eggs from California—and that is to clear them out of the Clackamas hatchery troughs at once, and either burn them or send them back to the California hatchery.

"Progress" makes a good argument against the abandonment of the present plan of making street improvements, and he may be right, except in one particular. The city has no more business to assume responsibility for the payment of the costs involved in making street improvements, than it would have to guarantee the bills of contractors for erecting dwellings and other buildings on the private lots of citizens.

As a remedy for all forms of headache, Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It affects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence.

Browned flour is almost as necessary to keep on hand in the store as white flour. To brown flour put a thick layer of flour into a baking pan and place it in a hot oven.

It may be a suggestion to some housekeeper tired of her light and perhaps rather soiled Moquette carpet that it may be satisfactorily dyed a plainer, darker color.

The New York World is laboring hard to make it appear that there is no need of any more protection than the Wilson law affords.

"The first and most pressing need of the country is more revenue for the treasury. With a heavy deficit running, the credit of the government is impaired and every business interest is threatened."

"There is no industry suffering legitimately for more protection. Business is reviving under the tariff as it is, which is higher than any previous tariff in our history with the single exception of McKinley's."

The first paragraph of the above extract is correct in all particulars. The second is fallacious. Business is reviving and everyone admits it. But there is a sharp limit to the revival. Let us take a backward glance.

To improve the color of boards in tables or floors scrub them with slaked lime and white sand, in the proportion of one quart of lime and three of sand. This will make the boards very white.

tree silver campaign, and everything stood still until the result of the election showed that it was safe to go ahead. Since that, business has been reviving. Clothing has worn out, and the other necessities of life been used up. People are buying once more. We are having a decided improvement, but it will not, at its best, come up to the measure of genuine prosperity which we enjoyed in 1891 and 1892.

Why? Because the Wilson tariff cripples many industries. It is cheaper to bring in many classes of goods from abroad than to make them here. Consequently mills are not running to their full capacity, men are idle because the things they were formerly employed to make are now made by foreign workmen.

THE FLOWER SELLER. Roses, fresh roses! Who'll buy my roses? Pink as the morning, a-sparkle with dew! Life must be roses to such lovely ladies! Take mine, I pray you, dear madam—will you.

Look how each petal offers its fragrance. Glad for your pleasure to wither and die. Such are some hearts that you value too lightly! Ladies, dear ladies! You will surely buy!

Violets have I, and lilies and myrtle— In your dark hair would a poppy look best— Lay in your bosom this jessamine cluster— Sixpence, air, those—for just what you like best.

Call to you, comes to you once in the day, Seize then our wares! And lean low— here's a secret, Cupid and I are in league—and away! —Case's Magazine.

CURE FOR HEADACHE. As a remedy for all forms of headache, Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It affects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence.

THE DISCOVERY SAVED HIS LIFE. Mr. G. Callouette, Druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live."

It is a doctor's advice to housekeepers to watch the kneading boards of their domains. Much more sanitary, because more easily kept near the chemically clean point, are the marble or heavy glass trays for kneading bread that are found in many modern kitchens.

ROYAL Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening strength—U. S. Government Report. Beware of upper shelf collections of useless things; there is no economy in saving a springless scale, or a mold with a hole in it, or a broken lid, if they are dust and mold traps, and worse than useless.

FREE TO EVERY MAN

THE METHODS OF A GREAT TREATMENT FOR WEAKNESS OF MEN.

Which Cured Him After Everything Else Failed.

Painful diseases are bad enough, but when a man is slowly wasting away with nervous weakness, the mental forebodings are ten times worse than the most severe pain.

I am not a philanthropist, nor do I pose as an enthusiast, but there are thousands of men suffering the mental tortures of weakened manhood who would be cured at once could they but get such a remedy as the one that I can afford to pay the few postage stamps necessary to mail the information, but send for it, and learn that there are a few things on earth that although they cost nothing to get they are worth a fortune to some men and mean a lifetime of happiness to most of us.

Never throw away any sort of grease. Drippings can generally be used for frying. Grease which seems to be too poor in quality to be used in that way should be kept in a pail.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY. We give away, absolutely free of cost, for a limited time only, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by Dr. V. Pierce, M. D., Chief Consulting Physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, a book of 108 pages, profusely illustrated, bound in strong paper covers, to any one sending 21 cents in one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only.

"You will never see dollar wheat until we have free silver," shouted the Bryan orators all over the West during the entire summer. And yet we have already seen the dollar wheat, and "free, unlimited silver, 16 to 1" is out of sight, a vagary and a dream—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

There are some people who are never positive in anything. It is always, "I don't know," or "I guess so." There is a world of such people, and it is refreshing sometimes to hear a person speak as one having convictions, like Mr. Chas. F. Snyder, of Bangor, Pa., who wrote: "I can heartily recommend Simmons Liver Regulator to all who are troubled with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint."

Many women without a good home will see retributive justice in the fact that Mrs. Lease has lost her. A woman who doesn't know enough to stay in a good home when she has one ought to lose it.—St. Louis Star.

Absolutely pure, perfectly harmless, and invariably reliable are the qualities of One Minute Cough Cure. It never fails in colds, croup and lung troubles. Children like it because it is pleasant to take and it helps them.

Mr. Cleveland should remember that rabbits are not the only long-eared animals roaming the South Carolina woods. Tillman has a considerable following in that region.—Kansas City Journal.

DeWitt's Sarsaparilla is prepared for cleansing the blood. It builds up and strengthens constitutions impaired by disease. Chas. Rogers.

In Medieval Days

When people wanted anything they knelt down and prayed for it. However, that was some time ago.

In This Enlightened Day

There are many newspapers—as a matter of fact. But it is an utter impossibility to get a newspaper to admit it.

Want Columns

That is, a column, or a number of columns, devoted to small advertisements. If a fellow wants anything—trouble, a wife, a house—don't make any difference what it is—he can get it by means of a small ad.
