In Medieval Days

When people wanted anything they knelt down and prayed for it. However, that was some time ago, Along about 1400 a fellow named Gutenberg, who had "come de Rhine over," was monkeying around a carpenter shop in Lentz. He whittled some little blocks and actually made an alphabet. These he desert made an alphabet. Then he rigged a sort of-well, a machine that would look something like our let-ter press of today. He arranged his blocks in order, put some ink on ti.em, also a piece of paper, and then screwed his press down. That was called printing. Old Gutenberg made a howling success of the rucket, and his head became so swollen that he really snubbed the king one day. The king overlooked it, however, for he had an idea what kind of fellows printers would be. Well, finally they got the printing system down pat, and, as the centuries rolled by, began printing newspapers—first person, invariably singular number, any gender and
