An unspontaneous young man yesterday afternoon was told that an expedition was fitting out to carry bread to the starving Cubans, and was asked if he wanted to make part of the "dough." Naturally he said yes, if there was anything in it. He received the brutal and cold-blooded reply that there was plenty of flour in Oregon and plenty of water in the Columbia river, and all he had to do was to pitch the flour into the river and make the dough.

Herbert D. Ward, the novelist and husband of Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, has written a new novel, which will be the fiction feature of the Ladies' Home Journal during 1907. It is a humorous story and has the unique title of "The Burglar Who Moved Paradise." It is a sequel to Mrs. Ward's "An Old Maid's Paradise," the husband taking up the pen where Miss Phelps had naturally put it down when she became Mrs. Ward.

Senator Smith's bill, introduced in the senate Tuesday, making the ocean beach from the Columbia river south to Tillamook county a public highway, was probably framed for the relief of seashore visitors during the summer time. Since Clatsop beach has been known as a summer resort, there has been more or less trouble over who owned or controlled the beach, some of the property owners facing the beach holding that their rights extended to low tide mark. In most cases the general public were allowed to march at will over any part of the beach, but at the present time that right is contested by one or two parties at Seaside.

CANNED SALMON INDUSTRY.

Congress to Be Asked for an Appropriation. The New York Journal of Commerce has the following in regard to Columbia river salmon: "At a recent meeting of the chamber of commerce in Astoria, Oregon, the propagation of chinook salmon in the Columbia river was the chief subject of discussion. It was shown that the artificial propagation of this species of fish in the tributaries of the Columbia river has long since passed the experimental stage, the salmon packers having, from spawn furnished by themselves, demonstrated the practicability of keeping the annual run of the Chinook fish in the river up to the maximum. However, as the state authorities of Oregon and the United States government are at the present time propagating only a sufficient number of young Chinook salmon to prevent a diminution of the annual run, whereas, according to the views of the cannery men and others interested in the salmon-canning industry, the average output of young salmon from the hatcheries ought to be brought up to one hundred millions a year, the Astoria chamber of commerce passed a resolution requesting the senators and representatives of Oregon to use every effort to procure an appropriation at the present session of congress sufficient to enable the fish commissioners to construct during 1897 and to maintain a hatchery or hatcheries of large capacity for the propagation of salmon. It is also suggested that for the further protection of the industry on the Columbia river the government set apart the Clackamas river and the government grounds thereon for a salmon reserve for natural spawning grounds for the use of the hatcheries. The men who are interested in this movement base their claim for recognition of the Columbia river salmon-canning industry on the fact that it is the largest manufacturing interest, with one exception, in the northwest, the annual payments in wages alone amounting to $2,000,000. Moreover, the products of the factories are used in all parts of the world, and supplies needed in the process of packing are drawn in large quantities from every section of the United States. In the preamble to the resolution above referred to it is stated: "The Columbia river is the only stream in the world where the Chinook salmon is found in all its perfection, no other known river in the world producing a salmon of such firm, rosy red, oily flesh. The Chinook salmon has become well known and much sought for as a food fish, both through all parts of the United States and the world over. It is greatly desired that the fish be given to the people as cheaply as possible; that it may be an article of food rather than a luxury; and, in our opinion, this can be brought about by the general government of the United States. The United States fish commissioner has recognized the importance of the Royal Chinook salmon of the Columbia river to the people of the entire country, and is making zealous efforts to protect them, and only requires a comparatively small appropriation for the construction and maintenance of salmon hatcheries in accordance with plans already formulated to completely and fully stock the river."

"It is probable that the Astoria people will receive support from other parts of the country in this effort. Some of the commission men think well of the proposition to secure government aid in increasing the supply of fish, and one house has gone so far as to issue a circular letter to its customers suggesting that they forward copies of the resolution to their congressmen and requesting their cooperation to secure the desired appropriation. The success which has attended the efforts to propagate Chinook salmon so far," this circular says, "warrants the assumption that this can be carried to a much greater extent, and that it will result in producing an abundance of the very highest grade of salmon, thus lessening the cost of the canned product."

DEADLOCK IN IDAHO. (Continued from First Page.) ed another ballot, but were beaten. The Democrats scattered their votes. Claggett came within three votes of election. The Populists agreed to stand by him again and he drew eight Democratic votes. The other ten Democrats scattered their votes, one voting for Mrs. N. M. Ruck. The Democrats threw the bulk of their vote to the Democrats. There is great excitement among the friends of all the candidates tonight. It is not known whether the Populists will hang together for Claggett or not. The anti-Claggett Democrats are making a great effort to hold him off. Prominent Republicans are working for Claggett and it is openly charged that they are backed by Chairman Hanna, of the National Committee.

SPAIN IN THE PHILIPPINES. The Secret Treaty Between Russia and China. VANCOUVER, B. C., January 12.—The steamship Empress of Japan arrived from the Orient today after a rough passage from Yokohama. The latest advices from Manila state that the rebellion in the Philippines is spreading in the provinces. Some disaffection has arisen among the native auxiliary regiments on the Spanish side, and 250 of these troops have gone to the rebels. Frequent executions proved ineffectual to stop the desertions. The latest official telegrams state that the Spaniards are improving their position and have defeated the rebels several times. Shanghai papers report that a Manila man, accredited by the insurgents to the court of the Mikado, has arrived there en route to Japan and that the Japanese emperor will be asked to recognize the insurgents as belligerents. The action of the Japanese government in the matter is being watched with great interest in the Orient.

Although the secret treaty between Russia and China is denied by both Chinese officials and the Russian minister, a Peking correspondent of the North China Daily News says that it is only too true, and that long ago he had stated that China had sold herself to Russia to an extent which would not be believed. The hand of Russia in Korean affairs is daily becoming more evident and that country is gradually securing a firm foothold in the peninsula. Recently a number of Russian military officers arrived to drill the Korean army. The Russians have also secured numerous valuable concessions.

PLATT TO SUCCEED HILL. Albany, N. Y., January 12.—The legislature re-assembled this evening. The Republicans will tomorrow evening caucus on the election of a successor to United States Senator Hill, whose term expires March 4. The task is no likely to be an arduous one, the preliminaries being all arranged in advance so far as the majority are concerned, all that remains to be done being to formally name Thomas C. Platt for the position. It now appears that Mr. Platt's election is assured beyond the possibility of contest. It is probable that the compliment of the Democratic vote will be given to Judge Porter, the party's nominee for governor at the recent election.

It is a fixed and immutable law that to have good sound health, one must have pure, rich and abundant blood. There is no shorter nor surer road than by a course of DeWitt's Sarsaparilla. Chas. Rogers. It is said that no country in the world shows so great a variety of plant life as Mexico. Scaly eruptions on the head, chapped hands and lips, cuts, bruises, sores, burns are quickly cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It is at present the article most used for piles, and it always cures them. Chas. Rogers. Great quantities of sulphur are being mined in the craters of several extinct volcanoes in Mexico. Harry A. Garfield, son of the late president, is being boomed for mayor of Cleveland. The length of life may be increased by lessening its dangers. The majority of people die from lung troubles. These may be averted by promptly using One Minute Cough Cure. Chas. Rogers. Massachusetts annually imports from beyond her border eggs to the value of $5,000,000. DeWitt's Sarsaparilla is prepared for cleansing the blood. It builds up and strengthens constitutions impaired by disease. Chas. Rogers.
