COSTLY INCORPORATION.

The movement for the incorporation of Warrenton may prove to be a double edged sword which will cut in different ways from those anticipated by the ones who are now fathering the enterprise. The history of such movements in other portions of the country shows that premature incorporation has always led to difficulties, and has hindered rather than aided the growth of such sommunities. Hillyard, Washington, two or three miles from the outskirts of Spokane, having secured the location of the Great Northern Railway shops for that division, started in for a great big boom, and about the first thing thought of was to incorporate the little village into a full-fledged town, with a mayor, charter and city officers. Of course the natural result was a raise in taxes to gustain the new dignity. Values of property would not stand the etrain, there was nothing to justify the movement at the time, and seeing the tendency of affairs, the Great Northern Company notified the people that they would pull up their carshops, machine shops, roundhouses turn tables, water tanks, etc., and put the city was reduced again to its former village standing. THE INDIAN PLAGUE.

It may be too much to say that the extension of the Asiatic plague into Western Europe is impossible, but it certainly is in a high degree improbable, says the Philadelphia Times. Yet this is substantially the same plague that in the middle ages swept again and again across Europe and so lately as the seventeenth century devastated London. The distance is still the same the differences of climate are still the same, communication is quicker and more constant. But civilization has at an increasing rate destroyed the conditions necessary for the existence of he plague.

These conditions-crowding, filth, malnutrition-are still general in the East and there the plague rages, from time to time, as fiercely as a thousand years ago. Just in proportion as people have become better fed, better housed, and more cleanly, and their sanitary .50 has lost its terrors. (From the San Francisco Argonaut.) "In the heart of the great desert of the Colorado-which the Southern Pacific traverses—there is an oasis called Indio, which, in our opinion, is the sanitarium of the earth. We believe, from persons nvestigation, that for certain individuals. there is no spot on this planet so favor into trains at grade crossings a new

G. T. Stewart, M. D., writes: "The purity of the air, and the eternal sunshine, fill one with wonder and delight.

Nature has accomplished so much that there remains but little for man to do. As to its possibilities as a health resort—here is the most perfect sunshine, with a temperature always pléasant, a perfectly dry soil, for rain is and indolent ulcers can be readily an unknown factor; pure oxygen, dense cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, atmosphere and pure water. What more can be desired? It is the place, above the cure of all others, for lung troubles, and a para-dise for rheumatics. Considering the number of sufferers who have been "Why," said the inquiring one, "why should they allude to womanhood as of the afflicted."
