All communications intended for publication should be directed to the editor. Business communications of all kinds and remittances must be addressed to The Astorian.

The Astorian guarantees to its subscribers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Advertising rates can be had on application to the business manager.

The Weekly Astorian, the second oldest weekly in the state of Oregon, has next to the Portland Oregonian, the largest weekly circulation in the state.

John F. Handley & Co. are our Portland agents, and copies of the Astorian can be had every morning at their stand, 124 Third street.

The "Astorian" hereby offers to donate ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS to St. Mary's Hospital, payable on demand to Father Dielman, whenever legal evidence is produced showing that any afternoon news paper published in Astoria has printed within the last ninety days anything before this offer a single "special" or other kind of "telegraphic press report," received over the wire entering either of the telegraph offices in Astoria, from any point outside of Oregon.

Astoria, Or., October 15, 1896.

California talk about Judge McKenna as her "representative" in the cabinet is ridiculous and disgusting. Members of the cabinet do not "represent" any section of the country. Judge McKenna's selection for a cabinet position is not intended as a recognition of California any more than any other state on the Pacific coast. There is nothing in law or custom which would prevent President-elect McKinley from calling every member of the cabinet from the same state or city if he saw fit to do so.

It is said that Speaker Reed is growing daily and hourly more unpopular. He is honest and praiseworthy in his determination to prevent the passage of needless appropriations, but the congressmen are clamoring for recognition on all sorts of bills, the passage of which would rapidly deplete the already well depleted treasury. Not only the members of the house of representatives, but also a number of senators have pleaded with Reed to permit the passage of pet schemes; but not one of them has succeeded in turning Reed from his economic purpose. Senator Frye, of Maine, is one of the statesmen who is angry and bitter towards Reed. He called upon the speaker at the Shoreham recently and requested, urged and then demanded the passage of a bill in which he is interested, but he received only a cold negative for his pains. Speaking of it afterwards to a personal friend, Senator Frye said: "Tom Reed is more autocratic and domineering than a potentate with a crown. If the men whom he has inculcated in the house would combine against him he could not be re-elected speaker. When I urged my bill he was stolid and finally became profane. He thinks that it is his duty to pose as the protector of the treasury." That is only a sample of the beratings Reed is getting, but he is doing his duty just the same.

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRY.

In all times, but more especially in crucial seasons like the present, when the life of a community depends upon the active and continuous circulation of a limited volume of ready money among its people, the motto of Astorians should be "Patronize home industry." It is estimated that a larger volume of money is sent out of Astoria each month to Portland and other places for the purchase of household necessities and luxuries than the combined trade of the largest three mercantile establishments in the city. Such a lack of loyalty and the spirit of homogeneity cannot be too strongly condemned. The excuse is made that local prices are too high—higher than elsewhere, and that the stringency from which everybody suffers necessitates the closest calculation and economy in buying every commodity required for family consumption or other purposes; but it may be fairly doubted if, after the expense of transportation and all other incidentals, is considered, there can be any appreciable saving over the charges asked by home merchants. Granting even, however, that this is so, and that a small saving is effected by buying goods in Portland; in a small, isolated neighborhood like Astoria, whose inhabitants generally have no income derived from outside sources, the prosperity of each is so intimately related and involved with that of another, it becomes not only a public injustice, but a suicidal policy, to send one dollar away from home that can be expended in the community. It is upon this principle that the commercial greatness of England has been erected. Even the Prince of Wales, while recently visiting in Germany, and in need of a hat, refused to buy one, because, he said, it was a part of the creed of an Englishman to buy nothing of foreign make, or in a foreign market, if he could get it at home, and so told the shop-keeper he would wear his old hat until it returned home.

Patronize Home Industry.

What is needed in the Western states is that principle of patriotism which first looks to the interest of the nation at large, then to those of the state, county, city and precinct in which one lives. It is this spirit that the business men of San Francisco, Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane, Chicago, and Kansas City have exhibited and which has resulted in the building up of those magnificent cities in the face of the fiercest opposition, and it is this spirit which is still promoting their growth and enabling them to maintain their supremacy. That spirit which not only says of the home merchant home-manufactured goods, and that induces manufacturers to locate and do business in a community, and which stands up loyally at all times and in all cases, at home and abroad, for home institutions, the town and country; writes letters to friends abroad telling of home advantages and home enjoyment; sends a few dollars to get some friend or acquaintance to visit the home city or state, and makes some sacrifice of time, and, if need be, money, to have him locate a business there that will employ labor and add to the production of the community, is the spirit that builds nations and cities, and makes them prosperous after they are built.

A letter of the inventor of that pride and spirit that patronizes home industries is what is needed more than anything else just now in Astoria and Clatsop county.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything, it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman too it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep on doing until she drops.

Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all its attendant horrors. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effective remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea, after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

In the Norway fjords the clearness of the water is remarkable. Objects as large as a half-dollar may be seen thirty fathoms down. At the bottom of the deep seas the water is only a few degrees above the freezing point.

They are so small that the most sensitive persons take them, they are so effective that the most obstinate cases of constipation, headache and torpid liver yield to them. That is why De Witt's Little Early Risers are known as the famous little pills. Chas. Rogers.

At the bottom of the deep seas the water is only a few degrees above the freezing point. E. E. Turner, of Compton, Mo., writes that after suffering from piles for seventeen years, he completely cured them by using three boxes of De Witt's Little Early Risers. It cures eczema and severe skin diseases. Chas. Rogers.

It is said that women are not permitted to be photographed in China. If you have ever seen a child in the agony of croup, you can appreciate the gratitude of mothers who know that One Minute Cough Cure relieves their little ones as quickly as it is administered. Many homes in the city are never without it. Chas. Rogers.

Ascension lilies, daffodils and violets are blooming in the florists.

It is surprising what a "wee bit of a thing" can accomplish. Sick headache, constipation, dyspepsia, sour stomach, diarrhoea, are quickly banished by De Witt's Little Early Risers. Small pill. Safe pill. Best pill. Chas. Rogers.

No one is so independent that they can afford to defy the world's opinion. Don't allow the lungs to be impaired by the continuous irritation of a cough. It is easier to prevent consumption than to cure it. One Minute Cough Cure taken early will ward off any fatal lung trouble. Chas. Rogers.

It takes a very strong-minded woman to walk out of a restaurant without feeling the waiter.

Minutes seem like hours when a life is at stake. Croup gives no time to send for a doctor, cough may mean death. One Minute Cough Cure gives instant relief and insures recovery. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. Chas. Rogers, Druggist.

Carson will have a new mill next month. Memory is a little treacherous now and then, and causes one to forget some things worth remembering, unless one has an experience like that which came to Mr. D. E. East, Moffatt's Creek, Va., who says: "I had been suffering for years with a torpid liver and found no relief until I took Simmons Liver Regulator, when I was entirely relieved of my troubles. I never intend being without Simmons Liver Regulator."

As usual the Palouse farmer is willing to let the rest of the state shift for itself provided he is given a low freight rate on wheat.

MANLY VIGOR

ONCE MORE in harmony with the world, 2000 completely cured men are dining happy tables for the greatest, grandest and most successful cure for sexual weakness and lost vigor known to medical science. An account of this wonderful discovery, in book form, with references and proofs, will be sent to suffering men (sealed) free. Full many vigor permanently restored. Failure impossible. ERIE MEDICAL CO., BUFFALO, N.Y.

FREE TO EVERY MAN

THE METHODS OF A GREAT TREATMENT FOR WEAKNESS OF MEN.

Which Cured Him After Everything Else Failed.

Painful diseases are bad enough, but when a man is slowly wasting away with nervous weakness, the mental forebodings are ten times worse than the most severe pain. There is no let up to the mental suffering day or night. Sleep is almost impossible, and under such a strain men are scarcely responsible for what they do. For years the writer roiled and tossed on the troubled sea of sexual weakness until it was a question whether he had not better take a dose of poison and thus end all his troubles. But providential inspiration came to his aid in the shape of a combination of medicines that not only completely restored the general health, but enlarged his weak, emaciated parts to natural size and vigor, and he now declares that any man who will take the trouble to send his name and address may have the method of this wonderful treatment free. Now when I say free I mean absolutely without cost, because I want every weakened man to get the benefit of my experience.

The temperature of the earth advances one degree for every fifty-nine feet descent. At thirty miles below it is supposed the metals and rocks are at white heat.

Cupid breaks his bow at the sight of a face full of pimples. Hollow cheeks, sunken eyes, and a sallow complexion will defy his best intentions. Beauty is more than skin deep. The skin is merely the surface on which is written in plain characters the condition of the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is good for the complexion because it makes the whole body healthy—because it clears and purifies the blood, makes the digestion strong and clears out impurities of all kinds. By increasing the ability to assimilate nutritious food, and by the infusion of its own ingredients it enriches the blood and so makes solid, healthy flesh. It cures diseases of the lungs, liver, stomach, bowels, skin and scalp, simply because all these diseases spring from the same cause—a disordered digestion and consequent impure blood.

Many cases of "Grippe" have lately been cured by One Minute Cough Cure. This preparation seems especially adapted to the cure of this disease. It acts quickly, thus preventing serious complications and bad effects in which this disease often leaves the patient. Chas. Rogers.

It may snow in Washington on inauguration day, as a weather prophet predicts, but Mr. Bryan will probably be able to keep his feet warm.

"AWAY WITH MELANCHOLY." And bid dull care avaunt," sounds very well in verse, but if you have a case of the "blues" caused by indigestion, with biliousness added on as an extra horror, you cannot say hey presto! and have insured the departure of those abominable twins. The "proper caper" when thus troubled is to seek the aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Thereafter you will speedily digest with ease and eat with appetite, and your liver will reassert its right to regularity. Not only this, but you can retire without a horrible dream that a Washington monument will—in dreams—impose itself upon the pit of your stomach. If you feel precursive symptoms of chills and fever, kidney trouble, or rheumatism, summon the Bitters to the rescue without delay. "Just a worse thing befell you." A feeble condition of the system is more speedily changed to a vigorous one by this fine tonic than by any other medicinal agent in existence. A wineglassful three times a day.

There are a great many of the unfortunate ones in this world, greater in number than those who are blessed with good digestion. To some people the greatest misfortune is not to be able to eat everything set before them. "I suffered for years with dyspepsia, and everything I ate disagreed with me. I was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator and was cured. I now eat everything."—M. Bright, Madison Parish, La.

A piece of iron has been found in an air passage of the great pyramid and it is supposed to have been there since 3700 B. C.

Mr. Ward L. Smith, of Fredericksburg, Mo., was troubled with chronic diarrhoea for over thirty years. He had become fully satisfied that it was only a question of a short time until he would have to give it up. He had been treated by some of the best physicians in Europe and America, but got no relief. One day he picked up a newspaper and chanced to read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He got a bottle of it, and the first dose helped him, and its continued use cured him. For sale by Estes-Conn Drug Co.

A French explorer recently found a loaf of bread supposed to have been baked 560 B. C. It certainly did not resemble that the kind mother used to make.

From everywhere come words of praise for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "Allow me to congratulate you on the merits of your Remedy. It cured me of chronic bronchitis when the doctor could do nothing for me."—Charles F. Hemel, Toledo, Ohio. For sale by the Estes-Conn Drug Co.
