Commencing tomorrow a new time card on the river will take effect on the White Collar and O. R. & N. boat lines. There will be a boat each night every night in the week, but no Sunday morning boat out of Portland or Astoria. This means an early Monday morning mail in Astoria.

Senator Brownell, of Clackamas, visited his Astoria friends yesterday. He said to a reporter that if he was free to make a choice he would move to Astoria to live, as he thought it was the liveliest town in the state, and with the best prospects for the future, and that he liked the people here.

After the regular meeting of the order of the Sons of Herman, held in their hall last evening, a thoroughly good time was had, as only Germans know how to get up. It was an informal reception to Mr. Gus Merkle, who leaves today for Alaska. An orchestra furnished good music, songs were sung, speeches were made, and between times refreshments most substantial were served.

In the circuit court yesterday Stephen Campbell, a native of Great Britain, was admitted to United States citizenship. In the case of John Kopp vs. Carrie and A. F. Krager, decree of foreclosure was entered. The same order was entered in the suit of James F. Kindred vs. H. W. Weeks et al. In the case of Kallie vs. Newman et al. the motion to have the default and judgment entered set aside and the defendants permitted to appear and answer was taken under advisement.

Parties down from the railroad camps above Tongue Point say that the storm of Tuesday last was very severe, as the wind came directly from the east, giving them the full force. In Cathlamet bay, just above the Tongue, heavy seas were kicked up by the wind, at times the waves going clear over the roadbed. Since the storm the stonework along the outer side of the railroad has been carefully examined and not the slightest traces of damage from the waves can be detected.

The remains of the late John C. Bryon arrived from Los Angeles yesterday morning, in charge of Mr. Stanley M. Grimes, of Sacramento, California, brother-in-law of the deceased. The funeral was held from the Presbyterian church and was largely attended by old-time friends of the family. Appropriate services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Marcotte, pastor of the church. The deceased having been a member of Pacific Lodge, K. of P., of this city, the burial service of that benevolent order was held at the grave, conducted by Brother A. A. Cleveland, his remarks being very appropriate. The interment was in the new and beautiful city cemetery on Clatsop. The many lovely floral offerings received from friends here and in Portland, Sacramento and San Francisco covered his last resting place. The pall-bearers were R. F. Pruel, H. G. Van Dusen,

F. L. Parker, J. N. Griffin and H. G. Thompson.

THEY'RE LAUGHING YET.

The People who With and Mascotte at Fisher's Last Night.

A large and appreciative audience gathered at Fisher's last night to hear the Chas. L. Young Columbia Comic Opera Company in Mascotte. To say that the music was well and faithfully interpreted, that the orchestra was excellent, and that the impersonation of the characters left nothing to be desired, is only telling half the truth. Each and every character was presented by an artist. Miss Balch as Bettina, the Mascotte, and Geo. Lyding as Pippo, the shepherd, in the Gobbie duet, made the hit of the evening; their sweet music and droll acting creating much pleasure and enthusiasm among the audience. Miss MacNeill, who has a magnificent contralto voice, did not have much opportunity to display her powers last night, but will be heard to better advantage in the other operas. Harry Davis, as Prince Frederick, won a well-merited ovation on his interpolated song, "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," while the comedians, Henderson and Kunkle, as Lorenzo and Rocco, made the very raucous smile every time they appeared. The march in the last act by the ladies of the chorus was one of the most beautiful scenes ever presented on an Astoria stage, and the audience would not let them go without a repetition of the number. The concerted numbers and orchestration were most excellent in every detail and the scenery was the best ever presented in this city.
