It is reported that a large number of loafers make their headquarters at Hume's wharf, and that they closely watch the arrival and departure of boats. It is said that a number of packages have been missed from this dock.

Bicycle riders were out last night in full force, taking advantage of the fine evening, but there were very few wheels that carried lamps. As it is not full moon, and there are not many street lights, bicycle head lamps are a necessity.

Don't carry a lot of tools. Ride G. and J. tires for your comfort's sake. Then your hands are the only tools ever needed. Humber bicycles are fitted with G. and J. tires. '97 wheels, $80; '96, $60. W. E. Warren, agent, 547 Commercial street.

A. McLeod and wife, J. A. Cranston, J. L. Star, C. S. Edwards and wife, C. J. Richmond, Portland; S. H. Emanuel, New York; W. Singleton, St. Paul; A. M. Simpson, San Francisco; J. G. Messinger and wife, Brookfield, were guests of the Occident last night.

Mr. Benjamin Young, who returned yesterday from Monmouth, where he attended a meeting of the board of regents of the normal school, reports that the Willamette valley shines like the Shenandoah. Wheat is six inches high, and all crops are in the ground.

Commenting this morning, Jeff, the restaurant man, will employ only white cooks on the day and night shifts, all Chinese help having been dispensed with. The new men are French, and of long experience. Mr. Jeff is determined to give the best of satisfaction.

Yesterday was May day, but owing to the rain in the early morning the school children's picnic was postponed until next Saturday. A few of the pupils in Mrs. Kruger's room spent the afternoon in the woods, but all will take their outing next Saturday if the weather is pleasant.

Yesterday was the golden anniversary of the establishment of the Astoria postoffice. Postmaster Wise had photographs taken of the employees of the office, and of the custom house. The whole were grouped in one picture by Artist Snodgrass, and the clever piece of work is now on exhibition at his studio.

D. Upton, Rocky Point; A. Baumgartner, Alex. Tarr, Clatsop City; J. D. Machado, A. Aylmore and son, Oief Erickson, Lewis and Clark; A. M. Lindholm, Young's River; Joe Craig, Charles Turin and J. J. Watta, Bartolde Landing; J. McGowan, Chinook; Martin O'Brien and A. Baumgartner, North Shore, were in the city yesterday.

Mr. Chas. Rinell yesterday received the sad news that his father, Matt Rippa, 74 years of age, while burning stumps on his ranch on Salmon creek, North Shore, was struck by a falling tree and killed. Mr. Rinell will leave for the North Shore this morning and the funeral will be held Tuesday, the interment being made in Deep River cemetery, where Mr. Rippa's wife is buried.

It was learned yesterday that the fishing boat found on North Beach with the net and man entangled in it, was boat No. 4, belonging to Kinney's cannery, and manned by John Rock. It is supposed that Rock's boat-puller was also drowned. This is another instance of the danger of fishing too near the mouth of the river. No further information has been obtained as to the other boat reported as lost.

crowds of people were on the streets last night, discussing politics and matters of local legislation, and many remarks were heard concerning what people thought the city council should do at its next meeting in regard to the ordinance compelling all laws against vice. Some thought that the ordinance should be strictly enforced, while others were of the opinion that in a seaport town a certain amount of latitude was necessary.

In Judge Abernethy's court yesterday, Thomas Peterson, an employee of Henry Scheld, the restaurant man, was fined $50 for assaulting a Chinaman who had come to the restaurant to do business with the proprietor. It is said that the Chinaman was in the kitchen, talking to the cook, and Peterson, objecting to the noise, and upon receiving a reply in Chinese, struck the Chinaman a heavy blow. There was no evidence to show that the assault was justifiable.

At the meeting of Rescue Club last night there was a large audience present. The exercises were opened with singing by the congregation, accompanied by cornet and tamborine. Devotional exercises and a talk by the Rev. Mr. Botting were the features of the evening. The program was a good one, and was participated in by Miss Bowman, Nellie Larson, Laura Seafeldt, Miss Whidby, T. Parker, A. R. Cyrus, Fred Rosenstock and Dr. Kinney. There was one signer to the pledge. The program committee for two weeks hence is Mr. Draper, Mrs. Estes and Miss Bertha Husted.

Matt Furney and Michael Francisco-vitch were arrested at the instance of Mrs. Furney for gambling. It is said that Furney, about a year, after the close of the fishing season, left his family and returned to Austria, taking with him something over $2,000. During his absence his wife was partially paralyzed. Immediately on Furney's return he dropped over $600 on a crap game with his old friend Francisco-vitch. Mrs. Furney did not like the deal and had both parties arrested. The trial will take place before Judge Abernethy tomorrow. The case is brought under the state law. Evidently the police department is determined to see that the law is enforced.

The Rev. Mr. J. Jacobson yesterday received a letter from Mr. E. H. Greely, of the White Plains Missionary Station, Liberia, on the west coast of Africa, which says: "Mr. and Mrs. Arndt arrived here February 2. We had been looking for them, and so were not so much surprised as you might think, but were delighted to welcome them, particularly Mrs. Arndt, whom we know in California. Mr. Arndt enjoyed good health for four weeks after his arrival, but on March 1st was stricken down with African fever, and died on the 6th. He will be remembered that Mr. Arndt preached in the Norwegian Methodist church in Upperton about a year ago, and with his wife left for Africa last fall."

Contractor Fastabend last night had the work of rebuilding Bond street almost completed to Twelfth. While tearing out the old street in front of Fisher Bros. a portion of the old roadway collapsed of its own weight, thus showing how rotten the underpinning of that street has been for some time past. It is understood that the merchants and property-owners along Bond street have determined to rebuild the roadway as far west as Eleventh street, and it is probable that the improvement will be extended to Ninth. Street Superintendent Holt has been doing good work in inducing property-owners to repair the streets in front of their places of business. If Bond street is repaired as far west as Ninth it will be of great assistance to the merchants of the city.

W. B. Edwards returned to the city yesterday from a trip with a large scow, delivering lumber at Fort Stevens and Warrenton. There were 45,000 feet of lumber for the government work at Scarborough Head, which was delivered at Fort Stevens, and 60,000 of merchant lumber delivered at Warrenton. On the way the scow struck a snag, which knocked a hole in the bottom, almost swamping her. By dint of hard work, however, she was placed on the beach near Warrenton and the cargo partly unloaded. Before the unloading could be completed the gales rages snapped and the scow slipped back into the water. Quick work saved both the scow and cargo, and Mr. Edwards can congratulate himself that he safely sent the lumber carrier up the river last evening.
