PUSHING THE TARIFF BILL.

The republicans of the senate are determined to get the tariff bill through as speedily as possible. The democratic leaders have announced that they have no disposition to delay the bill beyond a reasonable discussion, while the republicans themselves are willing to forego any debate beyond that absolutely necessary, for the sake of hastening action.

In view of this fact, the republicans generally are disposed to hasten action, both by example and by smoothing the way for the bill as much as possible, in avoiding partisan controversy. On the other hand, those who are opposed to the wool and sugar schedules as framed by the finance committee—and they are very numerous on the republican as well as the democratic side of the chamber—will not permit their anxiety for action on the bill to lead them to consent to the adoption of these schedules in their present form.

There is good reason to believe that a majority of the senate, and perhaps a majority of the republicans in the senate, are determined not to accept the sugar schedule as reported from the finance committee, but do desire the adoption of the house schedule, which they believe to be less advantageous to the Sugar Trust. While it is doubtful if there is the same strength against the reduced rates of the wool schedules that there is on the sugar schedule, the western men are resting in calm confidence that this feature of the bill will be amended, by either restoring the house schedules, or at least advancing them to nearly that rate.

It is quite probable that this may not be done until the bill gets into the conference committee, for the chances of getting enough votes in the senate in favor of advancing the wool rates to control that body is not good. It is understood, however, that the house will refuse to agree to the wool schedules as they now stand, if adopted by the senate, and that this will send the matter to the conference committee, at which time the republicans of the senate who are opposed to the reduced rates will serve notice that the house rates must be restored before the bill can get their support.

It is known that several democratic senators expect to make lengthy speeches on it, but it is thought probable that the discussion of the bill by paragraphs and items may close within ten days or two weeks, and it is hoped that a vote may be had by June 20. Should the conference which will follow prove a reasonably brief one, President McKinley may yet realize his ambition of signing the bill on July 4th.

A dispatch from Washington says the sub-committee of the senate committee on foreign relations, which has been investigating in connection with the Alaska boundary treaty the question raised at the last meeting of the full committee as to the effect of accepting Mount St. Elias as a part of the boundary marked by the 141st meridian, has practically completed its work. The committee is of the opinion, in regard to the inquiry, that the provision in regard to Mount St. Elias is not a serious matter, but as a precautionary measure it will be recommended that the treaty be amended so as to declare specifically that the acceptance of the peak as a boundary mark in determining the 141st meridian shall not be construed as a concession of any territory which the United States may claim under its purchase from Russia along the coast. It is believed that this amendment will preserve all the rights of this country and at the same time retain the mountain as a landmark.

The announcement that the Sprackles will have the tug Relief put on the dry dock at Smith's Point instead of sending her to San Francisco, as usual, only goes to show that Astoria has already made a mark as a shipbuilding port, and that, as predicted by the Astorian, the Astoria Iron Works has laid the foundation for a second Union Iron Works in Astoria. The Sprackles will never have ordered the Relief to be overhauled here had they not had confidence in the superior facilities and workmanship of Astoria's new shipbuilding company.

Clatsop's flax experiments, from reports already made, promises to be most successful. The seed planted has grown well and plants are now of a good height. Careful attention will demonstrate that the industry can be carried on here as well as in Ireland.

COMPLEXIONAL INDICATIONS. The complexion of persons whose digestion is out of order, who are bilious, or who lack vigor, always exhibit an unhealthy tint. It is by regulating the bodily organs and promoting digestion and assimilation, that the parchment hue indicative of ill health, is banished from the cheeks. To rectify the fault of a toxic will assuredly result in renewed health, an invigorant and alternative which removes those obstacles to renewed strength, physical comfort and personal attractiveness—an imperfect digestion and secretion, and a disordered condition of the bowels. Persistence in the use of this inestimable corrective and tonic will assuredly result in renewed physical regularity and vigor, will tend to increase bodily substance, and cause the glow and clear color of health to return to the sallow, wasted cheek.

Black crenulations made with triple skirts are very charming for summer wear.

THE OBJECTION NOT GOOD.

There are people who have objections to advertising matter in the columns of a newspaper. The ground of objection is that they do not want to read advertisements. Now this objection is not good, for oftentimes these advertisements convey valuable information. For instance, how else would the traveling public learn of the excellent dining car service of the Wisconsin Central line between St. Paul and Chicago, or the general comfort of traveling over this popular line. For particulars call on the nearest ticket agent or address J. C. Pond, G. P. A., Milwaukee, Wis., or Geo. S. Batty, General Agent, 246 Stark street, Portland, Or.

A discharged organist was popular with the choir of the First Methodist church of Waltham, Mass., so the singers struck for his reinstatement. The organist was given his position at once.

Dandruff, which causes so much itching of the scalp, can be cured by Hall's Hair Renewer, because it is a corrective tonic for the glands producing dandruff.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton House, Burton, W. V., and one of the most widely known men in the state, was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June, 1894, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the Wheeling Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured. For sale by Estes-Conn Drug Co."

Gerome, the painter, has sent a remarkable equestrian statue, one-fifth natural size, of "Bonaparte in Egypt," to the salon. Napoleon is represented dressed in early Egyptian costume.

A. H. Patter, with E. C. Atkins & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "I have never before given a testimonial in my life. But I will say that for three years we have never been without Chamberlain's Colic and Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy in the house, and my wife would as soon think of being without flour as a bottle of this Remedy in the summer season. We have used it with all three of our children and it has never failed to cure—not simply stop pain, but cures absolutely. It is all right, and anyone who tries it will find it so." For sale by Estes-Conn Drug Co.

John W. Gratton, the well-known chemist and metallurgist, who invented the alloy used in the 5c piece, died at his home last week in Brooklyn.

It is a great mistake to suppose that a simple tonic gives strength; it only stimulates the stomach to renewed action. To impart real strength, the blood must be purified and enriched, and this can only be done by such a standard alternative as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

CASTORIA. The favorite remedy of Dr. H. J. Zellan.

There is no joy in the world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctively feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because of a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose assistance upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do more for them than 30 doctors in 10. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. H. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, New York.

"There's no use in talking," says W. H. Broadwell, druggist, La Crosse, Wis.: "Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy does the work. After taking medicines of my own preparation and those of others, I took a dose of Chamberlain's and it helped me; a second dose cured me. Candidly and conscientiously I can recommend it as the best thing on the market. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Estes-Conn Drug Co."

Food when it sours on the stomach, becomes indigestible and unwholesome. It poisons the blood, and both head and body suffer in consequence. What is needed to restore perfect digestion is a dose or two of Ayer's Pills. They never fail to relieve.

Economy is something that everybody tries to practice, and yet just a little oversight will sometimes rob the most frugal and thrifty family of a year's savings. You want to do as J. P. Hicky, master of Monticello (Ga.) did. He writes: "For six years I have kept Simmons' Liver Regulator in my house, and used it in my family, and have had no need for a doctor. I have five as healthy children as you can find."
