ROUGH PLAYING NOT PROFITABLE

Good Advice for Some of Astoria's Young Sportsmen.

Rough play in any game should meet with its deserts. Any team practicing such unskillful tactics should know the danger of defeat, and any team that plays the ball and not the man will gain the sympathy of the spectators as well as victory. All should remember that good association players pay strict attention to the ball, and avoid roughing in contact with some hairy and rough opponent. The referee is responsible for rough playing, all that takes place during a game is under his jurisdiction. He should follow the ball closely and see everything that happens, giving his decision promptly, thereby avoiding any wrangling, and when anyone attempts rough, foul, playing, he should give a foul immediately. A few such penalties would soon do the trick.

It is to be hoped in the future when games are played at home that a few of our youths will refrain from making stirring remarks about the visiting teams during the game. It often takes the enjoyment out of a good game as far as the older and better element is concerned, besides making the visitors uncomfortable and leading them to think they are on hostile grounds, instead of in the hands of friends, whether victorious or not.

FOOTBALL

Next Monday evening the Iliwaco and the A. F. C. will cross feet on the local grounds, and a great game will surely be put before the public. That a good crowd will turn out goes without saying, as it should be the best match played at home this season.

Football has taken such a hold on the Washington side that a team calling themselves the Royal Fats, has recently been organized across the river. Any player to belong to them must weigh not less than 200 pounds, and it is understood they intend sweeping the grounds with their opponents when their time comes.

When the Royal Fats play the local boys it will certainly be amusing, if not very exciting, and already Captain Bartholomew is losing hours of sleep, figuring how he can secure a goat from the Fats, as their goal keeper is a dandy, standing 4 feet 5 inches, weighs 200 pounds and is a feet 6 inches across.

The standing in the League to date is:
Total Games Won, Lost, Draw Points.
Long Beach 2 1 0 1 5
A. F. C. 1 1 0 0 1 1
Iliwaco 1 1 0 0 2
Port Canby 0 1 0 0 0
Sahaleia 1 0 1 0 0

The South Bend team has not yet played. It is a splendid team, if up to last year's form and should have a good "look in at the cup."

The second game in the series was played between Long Beach and the Sahaleia's on Saturday, the 12th, the former winning by one goal to nil. It is reported that the Long Beach team played a fine game.

Last Monday evening the much talked of teams met Fort Canby and Iliwaco, at Iliwaco. Both clubs think they have a mortgage on the Bartley cup. Over fifty dollars was collected at the gate. The Iliwacoites proved too much for the sturdy soldiers, and won by a score of three to one. It was a battle of giants and no doubt the best team gained the honors, although it is reported the Fort boys did the best team work.

The A. F. C. will have to look well to their knees when they meet the Iliwaco team or they will suffer defeat from the trap men.

BASE BALL

Arrangements are being perfected for a base ball tournament to be held at Portland during the Fourth of July celebration, between local clubs.

The Australian base ballists will soon leave for the Atlantic coast where they will play some of the college amateur teams.

Baltimore leads the national league, while St. Louis has a firm hold on the extreme rear.

The yearly "low jinks" of the Multnomah club will be given today.

BOWLING

The failure of the Astoria, Tacoma and Oregon Road Clubs to send in the usual weekly report of tournament bowling, and the few changes in the relative standing of the bowlers reported, has caused the secretary of the association to omit the regular weekly bulletin this week. Effort will be made to prevent another failure. Dr. Cuthbert is again in first place. Hart, of Multnomah, having dropped to the 26 class during the week.

Ernest Rogers, of Worcester, Mass., has accepted the challenge of Eddie Durnan, of Toronto, to row for $1,000 a side, the race to be rowed in Worcester at an early date.

Sunday Captain Ed Florin, Arthur Brock and E. J. Smith took the schooner Janus and sailed to the bell buoy and returned. A strong sou'wester was blowing, with an occasional squall, so the sails of the Janus were close-reefed before leaving anchorage. On the return, after leaving the bell buoy, the tide was ebbing with such force that it was found convenient to shake out the reefs and stand home under full canvas. The Janus sails well for a boat of her build, as is evidenced by the time she made from the Pacific Gas Company's dock to the bell buoy—nine miles, in one hour and five minutes.

There is some talk among the young men of the city, with aquatic tastes, of building a sloop yacht. It is probable, however, that nothing will be done before the rainy season sets in, but a fine boat will be built this winter and launched in time for next summer's cruising.

The schooner yacht will carry a pleasure party to Flavel this morning, and in the afternoon will make a trip to Pillar Rock. Mr. Norris, the owner, and Captain Florin have put the little vessel in neat trim for summer cruising.

The annual regatta of the Brooklyn Yacht Club was sailed on June 12 over the club courses.

astantly of late, and was rewarded by the splendid score of 48.

The ladies are showing marked improvement, and scores like 35 do not stay on the board but a minute; 39 appears to be the popular number to stay.

Mrs. Ingalls' score of 41 gives fresh zeal to the game, and no doubt that score will be beaten next week, either by the champion of Mrs. Rine.

Mrs. Timson and Mrs. F. E. Pruel are doing consistent scoring, and either of them is apt to top the record.

A great deal of comment is excited by the selfishness of a few players. Three or four will play a game, and when finished play another and so on, until ignoring any other players who happen to drop in, with the express purpose of playing, but have to wait until some liberal-minded players choose to play.

The alleys are for poor players as well as for good ones, and captains can make the game very popular by seeing that everyone in the room who wishes to participate is given a fair chance.

The visitors and traveling men who patronize Astoria speak in flattering terms of the alleys and the courtesies shown them by the club's members.

The daily averages for the week ending June 15 follow:
Saturday, H. Wise 48
Sunday, C. Cooper 42
Tuesday, W. R. Wallace 40
Wednesday, Mrs. Ingalls 41
Wednesday, H. Pinnell 39
Wednesday, Mrs. Davidson 38
Thursday, F. B. Sawyer 37
Friday, W. O. Wilkinson 36
Friday, Mrs. F. W. Pruel 35

Mrs. Pruel is now up to the record among the ladies, with 41, and judging by the form in which the ladies are bowling, next week will show a score of 50 either in Mrs. Pruel, Mrs. Stine, Mrs. Timson, Mrs. Chutter, Mrs. Ingalls, Mrs. Gunn or Miss Davidson.

F. B. Sawyer's 37 was made in a mastery fashion, and is the third best score bowled in the alleys.

When the Royal Fats play the local boys it will certainly be amusing, if not very exciting, and already Captain Bartholomew is losing hours of sleep, figuring how he can secure a goat from the Fats, as their goal keeper is a dandy, standing 4 feet 5 inches, weighs 200 pounds and is a feet 6 inches across.

THE WHEEL.

The bicycle men have held meetings and selected committees to report on building tracks to Tongue Point and around South's Point, which will give the numerous wheelers plenty of exercise. It is understood the committee is meeting with great success in getting subscriptions.

Everyone in and around the city should subscribe to the bicycle fund, as pedestrians during the winter months would get considerable benefit from the tracks.

The A. F. C. committee on bicycle races will meet this week and arrange for a series of road races to take place as soon as Bond street is in condition.

On the forenoon of July 5 the Multnomah club will hold a juvenile contest, and possibly junior road race, over the, Greenham course. There will be first, second and third prizes in both events.

The Grand City cyclists, Dan Joe, who has arranged an electric light race for Wednesday, June 23.

The California Associated Cycling Club is preparing for the midsummer road race for the Baker and Hamilton trophy, to come off next month.

The law committee of the New York City Board of Aldermen, a committee from the Board of Councils of the L. A. W. and the Coaching Club are endeavoring to establish a set of road rules for all sorts of vehicles so as to insure a minimum number of accidents by collision.

The citizens of Boston, New York, have been lately agitated by an ordinance prohibiting wheeling on sidewalks outside the business part of the city. Mass meetings were contemplated and the ordinance signing the ordinance were boycotted. Finally the mayor suspended the ordinance and wheelmen now use the sidewalks.

The post office employee of Brooklyn, N. Y., have formed a bicycle club.

Previous to the game of F. M. Dwyer, in a splendid, drive, finally won the Great American Stakes event at Gravesend, New York, and landed a $10,000 prize for his owner.

Matthias H. Meyer and George Edwards have opened negotiations for the English rights to the veriscope prize-pictures.

The Pacific Association will be represented at the international championship meeting at Chicago on July 8, by D. B. Remond and H. E. Sawyer. The former will compete in the fifty, seventy-five and one hundred yard races, and the latter in the 200, 400 and 800 yard mile. Remond holds the hundred-yard American record, 1:30.55.

Gus Rubin, the Ohio heavy-weight who is matched to fight Jeffries in July, has arrived from the east. He is in charge of his daily standing feet 2 inches in height and weighing 190 pounds, he should prove a powerful antagonist. He is said to have bested Steve O'Donnell in a limited bout.

Champion Fitzsimmons sympathizes with persons. He is said to be very devout when not engaged in pulverizing an adversary, but he cannot see where the brutality comes in, as spoken of by the cloth.

William Carney, of Chicago, champion handball player of the west, on June 13, took six games out of a series of seven played, from James Fitzgerald, champion of Ireland.

The A. F. C. still grows. There are ten applications for membership posted this week. The club is now in a flourishing condition and has a large enrollment.

The reading matter taken monthly by the A. F. C. is much larger than anyone not informed would imagine. The papers, magazines and periodicals furnishing excellent reading to the billiard room, and a good deal of credit is due the committee who have the library in charge, as very few athletic clubs take such papers as Harper's Weekly and the Scientific American.

The members of the A. F. C. are contemplating giving an athletic exhibition in the fall, and by the way they are keeping up their practice the boxing and wrestling bouts will be a surprise to the members who are not in close touch with this branch of sports.

ABSCURD POPULAR BELIEFS.

The Reason Why Medical Fakery Prevails From Ancestry.

"Nice out of ten people believe," said a surgeon to the writer, "that the eye can be taken out for repairs just like the works of a watch, and again replaced in the socket precisely as it was before." A comment's reflection ought to show any one how impossible this would be, as a matter of fact there is both in place by a few tens of millions of people, in order to turn it out of the socket, at least four of these would have to be cut through, besides, it is connected with the brain by a thick nerve which cannot be stretched, and it is also connected with the inside of the skull by the optic nerve, and if they were to both be taken out, the patient would be blind. There will be first, second and third prizes in both events.

After some delay it was arranged that the elderly couple should sit at one table and the young man and the daughter sit at another. This man had acquired a habit of prefaceing a dinner with a cocktail. He knew well the feeling of his host on this subject, but he wanted the cocktail badly. He knew the waiter also, and calling him over, told him quietly to bring a cocktail in a tureen. The waiter smiled knowingly and went off. Shortly he returned with a tureen and the young man alone knew it contained a cheering mixture of whiskey and butters.

The waiter was in his day and generation a wise man. He had seen this particular man quietly bring a cocktail in a tureen. The waiter smiled knowingly and went off. Shortly he returned with a tureen and the young man alone knew it contained a cheering mixture of whiskey and butters.

The man glowered and choked, but could say nothing. The girl looked suspiciously at the cup, and then picked it up and smelt it. To her great light came into her face and she fairly beamed. She raised the cup to her lips and pausing, smiled across at the man and said softly:

"It was so kind of you! Just what I wanted. No one but you would have thought of it. Fortunately you are a good man, and while the hot liquid flowed down the girl's throat, the man sat and blinked and blinked. Now he thinks that the younger generation of that village is not so bad after all, and he is talking of making a long-postponed visit to his home.

POINTS ON FAMILIARITY.

"How long have you been in Rome?" asked Pope Pius IX.

"Three weeks," was the ready answer.

"Ah, then," said his Holiness, "you have seen Rome. And how long have you been here?" asked he, turning to the second visitor.

"Three months," was the answer.

"You then," continued the Pope, "have begun to see Rome. And you, sir," turning finally to the third of his visitors "how long have you been here?"

"Three years," was the reply.

THE ONLY WAY

"So you," asked the newly arrived shade, are Nebuchadnezzar? I have always wanted to ask you why you ate that grass."

The shade of Nebuchadnezzar coughed uneasily. "To tell the truth," he said, "my wife insisted on having the grass cut right away and the family next door had borrowed the lawn mower."

HE WAS.

"You are looking for a job, I suppose," said Mrs. Tillinghast, ironically, to Tired Taddles, who was about to speak.

"You have guessed correctly the first time, Madam," replied Mr. Taddles. "My application for a consulate is on file at Washington."

AT THE CLUB.

"When I visit and see a man play solitaire all the evening I always think he must like himself pretty well."

"Yes, and it looks as though he had a sort of monopoly in it, too."

INCONSISTENT.

"That busy Mrs. Trimble is one of the women who have determined to form themselves into a street cleaning band."

"Well, you just ought to see the condition her kitchen is in."

THE LITERATURE OF THE DAY.

Prison Librarian—What sort of book would you like to have?

Convict—Got any bicycle catalogues?

DID AS SHE WAS TOLD.

Mistress—I told you half an hour ago to turn on the gas in the parlor, Bridget.

Bridget—"Sure an I did, mum; don't ye smell it?"

UNSYMPATHETIC PA.

"Fu," asked the Sweet Young Thing, "can you tell me the best ten short poems?"

"I cannot," answered pa. "How should I know which are the ten shortest poems?"

DYSPEPSIA.

Mr. Newzee—"There is no use talking, I won't eat any more of your cooking!"

Mr. Newzee (tearfully)—"And you—you said you were willing to die for me."

"But, Madam, there are worse things than death."

LACK OF COURTESY.

"I'm beginning," said Senator Sorghum indignantly, "to think that there's no such thing as senatorial courtesy."

"What has happened?"

"A colleague knew exactly how sugar was going and refused to tell me anything about it."

A COME-DOWN.

"Poor Madge! Before her husband failed she used to drive such an elegant turn-out."

"Yes; and now she has a bicycle and bloomers suit and won't turn out for anything less than a trolley car."
