Tillman is a democrat, yet he scored his own. Sick headache can be quickly and comparty in the person of Mr. Vest, the pletely overcome by using those famous woolen rag dipped in oil, and then wiping crabbed old free trade doctrinaire of Mis- little pills known as "DeWitt's Little souri. Referring to Vest's tariff speech of the day before, Tillman said it was made in behalf of the principles of the Walker tariff of 1846, which were brought forward at this late day as democratic doctrine. "Secession, nullification, and other issues which have passed out of the minds of men," declared Tillman, "might as well be brought here." Then Mr. Tillman went on to declare that "the how the government will raise its revenue"-a fact which we most heartily wish the masses of the democratic party understood and admitted. It would ren der nugatory about nine-tenths of the Then Mr. Tillman went on: "I say with out hesitation that it is to the best inter icles consumed by our people should ? produced by our people.
