That the coal miners of the country have been very poorly paid for several years past is not questioned by any. In many districts they have not had full employment even at the starvation wages given them, and when working on half time, as was the case in some sections, their compensation fell far below the amount necessary even for the most frugal livelihood for themselves and families. But will the present strike improve the condition of the coal miners? This is a very grave question, and one that should be most soberly considered. If their condition can be improved, the strike is entirely justifiable; but if the stagnation in the coal business of the country shall compel employers to hold out for any considerable period against the demands of the miners, the loss to both employers and miners must be measured by millions. It should be borne in mind that as employers are weakened in their ability to pay by the loss of business for some months, with the possible transfer of their trade to other sections, the likelihood of permanently increased wages is necessarily lessened. It is now estimated that 125,000 coal miners are engaged in a strike. Assuming that their wages averaged $1 per day, the weekly loss to these miners would be $750,000. If the strike shall last ten weeks, the loss to labor alone would be $7,500,000. If the strike shall last ten weeks and the miners then gain the increase of 15 per cent demanded, it would require them to work for 55 weeks at the increased rates to restore the loss they sustain by ten weeks of idleness. This is not theory; it is stubborn facts and figures which should be most carefully and dispassionately considered by those who engage in a strike when there is universal business and industrial paralysis throughout the country.

A report comes from Wisconsin that an edict has gone forth from the National Dairy Union that butterine must be legislated out of the United States. Butter dealers in that state and in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Michigan and the Dakotas—all large butter-producing states—it is said, are forming an organization of more than 500,000 voters who will work unceasingly for legislation that will prevent the coloring of butter substitutes. The plan is to raise a fighting capital of $1,000,000, if necessary, before the legislatures of these dairy states meet again, and enact some state laws that will drive the butterine manufacturers from their strongholds. If this is not successful they will attempt to gain control of congress. The union seems to have unbounded confidence in its ability to protect its own industry, but the squelching of the butterine trade is not going to be as easy as might be imagined, even with the aid of a million of booties. Of course the edict is entirely a selfish one, and the butter dealers are not concerning themselves about the healthful or unhealthful effects of the use of butterine. But any legislature that lends itself to the carrying out of this edict can defend its action only on the ground of the preservation of the public health. It will be interesting to note how much this claim will enter into the contest.

Ohio is going to have more politics to the acre this year than ever in its previous history. The republican and regular democratic tickets are already in the field, and as the chief prize is a United States senatorship, Hanna and McLean are going to knock the bumps out of the barrels, and make what Kilpatrick used to call a campaign with plenty of money in it. Hanna and McLean didn't coral all the Ohio political odds and ends, however, and there are to be a silver republican, a populist, a national democratic and two prohibition tickets in the field. The Ohio voter who can't find a ticket to suit him this fall must be hard to please.

Crop news will be scanned eagerly from this time until, eight or ten weeks hence, corn is sufficiently matured to stand all sorts of alternations of temperature. Thus far crop reports have been favorable. Wheat promises to be an average yield, while the cotton and corn outlook is bright. Good crops, which mean cheap food for the consumer, and at the same time a fair return in the aggregate to the producer, will be an important factor in the restoration of prosperity.

REASONS WHY CHAMBERLAIN'S COLIC, CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDY IS THE BEST.

1. Because it affords almost instant relief in case of pain in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus.
2. Because it is the only remedy that never fails in the most severe cases of dysentery and diarrhoea.
3. Because it is the only remedy that will cure chronic diarrhoea.
4. Because it is the only remedy that will prevent bilious colic.
5. Because it is the only remedy that will cure epidemic dysentery.
6. Because it is the only remedy that can always be depended upon in cases of cholera infantum.
7. Because it is the most prompt and most reliable medicine in use for bowel complaints.
8. Because it produces no bad results.
9. Because it is pleasant and safe to take.
10. Because it has saved the lives of more people than any other medicine in the world.

A woman can't sharpen a pencil with a hairpin, and that is about the only thing that baffles her with that instrument in her hands, but then she can't sharpen a pencil anyway, according to masculine estimate.

Economy is something that everybody tries to practice, and yet just a little oversight will sometimes rob the most frugal and thrifty family of a year's savings. You want to do as J. P. Hickmann, of Monticello, Ga., did. He writes: "For six years I have kept Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in my house, and used it in my family, and have had no need for a doctor. I have five as healthy children as you can find."

The foreign trade of the United Kingdom is just about double that of the United States.

A dose that is always reasonable is a dose of Chamberlain's Liver Regulator, the "King of Liver Medicines." It keeps the liver active; the bowels regular; prevents biliousness; and promotes digestion. In fact helps keep you well. "I have watched its effects in families where I have practiced and find it admirable; both alterative and tonic in its action."—Dr. T. W. Mason, Macon, Ga.

A woman is ever so much cooler when she keeps her hair well dressed than when she goes about with sundry golden locks hanging down her back.

To prevent pale and delicate children from lapsing into chronic invalids later in life, they should take Ayer's Sarsaparilla together with plenty of wholesome food and out-door exercise. What they need to build up the system is good red blood.

The pope in 1186 prohibited the cross-bow as barbarous, and threatened cross-bow-men with ex-communication.

Mr. C. L. Hasbrouck, a druggist at Mendon, Mich., says all of the good testimonials that have been published by the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy could be duplicated in that town. For sale by Estes-Conn Drug Co.

The girl who wears particularly pretty lace-trimmed petticoats is not over prim in the attitudes she assumes.

Not only piles of the very worst kind can be cured by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, but eczema, scalds, burns, bruises, boils, ulcers and all other skin troubles can be instantly relieved by the same remedy. Charles Rogers.

The Amazon Indians use a blowpipe, with which they throw an arrow 20 yards with wonderful precision.

Sick headache can be quickly and completely overcome by using those famous little pills known as "DeWitt's Little Early Risers." Charles Rogers.

The adult scalp should be thoroughly washed occasionally to remove the oily particles, then apply Hall's Hair Renewer to give the hair a natural color.

"The Foot of a Fly"

says an eminent English doctor, "will carry enough poison to infect a house-bill." In summer-time, more especially, disease germs fill the air, multitudes are infected, fall ill, die; multitudes escape. These messengers of mischief do not exist for millions. Why not? Because they are healthy and strong—protected as a crocodile is against gunshot. It is the weak, the wasted, the thin-blooded who fall; those who have no resistive power so that a sudden cough or cold develops into grave disease. We hear of catching disease! Why not catch health? We can do it by always maintaining our healthy weight.

Scott's Emulsion.

of Cod-liver Oil, is condensed nourishment; food for the building up of the system to resist the attacks of disease. It should be taken in reasonable doses all summer long by all those whose weight is below the standard of health. If you are losing ground, try a bottle now.

After.... Taking

a course of Ayer's Pills the system is set in good working order and a man begins to feel that life is worth living. He who has become the gradual prey of constipation, does not realize the friction under which he labors, until the burden is lifted from him. Then his mountains sink into mole-hills, his moroseness gives place to jollity, he is a happy man again. If life does not seem worth living to you, you may take a very different view of it after taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

RESTFUL NIGHTS, DAYS FREE FROM TORTURE.

Await the rheumatic sufferer who resorts to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That this benighted cordial and depurative is a far more reliable remedy than colicium and other poisons used to expel the rheumatic virus from the blood, is a fact that experience has satisfactorily demonstrated. It also enjoys the advantage of being—unlike them—perfectly safe. With many persons a certain predisposition to rheumatism exists, which renders them liable to its attacks after exposure in wet weather, to currents of air, changes of temperature, or to cold when the body is hot. Such persons should take a wingless fly or two of the Bitters as soon as possible after such exposure. The above causes, as this superb purgative effectually nullifies the malarial influence. For the functional derangements which accompany rheumatism, such as colic, spasms in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, imperfect digestion, etc., the Bitters is also a most useful remedy. It is only necessary in obstinate cases to use it with persistence.

A wheelwoman of infinite resource has adopted a celluloid collar for wear on the bicycle and she is the wonder and admiration of her sisters whose thin neck fixings look as though they had been under the pump.

"Last summer one of our grand-children was sick with a severe bowel trouble," says Mrs. E. G. Gregory, of Fredericktown, Mo. "Our doctor's remedy had failed; then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief." For sale by Estes-Conn Drug Co.

The pleasure of outdoor life is a little marred when the families whose porches join in friendly intimacy are not on speaking terms.

Some for ten, some for twenty and some for thirty years have suffered from piles and then have been quickly and permanently cured by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, the great remedy for piles and all forms of skin diseases. Charles Rogers.

There is only one thing that will make you more nervous than watching a cat-eppillar on some one else and that is to have one on yourself.

Don't neglect a cough because the weather is pleasant; before the next storm rolls around it may develop into a serious difficulty beyond repair. One Minute Cough Cure is easy to take and will do what its name implies. Charles Rogers.

With linen shirts and shirt waists at such moderate prices there is no excuse for a woman looking other than cool and tidy.

Few medicines have held their ground so successfully as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During the past fifty years, it has been the most popular of all cough cures and the demand for it today is greater than ever before. Prompt to act and sure to cure.

The gonolias of Venice are being gradually displaced by little steamboats.

Don't thin your blood with sassafras or poison it with blue-mass; but aid Nature by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness and stomach and liver troubles. They are purely vegetable. Charles Rogers.

The first colonial coinage was minted in Massachusetts in 1652.

W. B. Johnson, Newark, O., says: "One Minute Cough Cure saved my only child from dying by croup." It has saved thousands of others suffering from croup, pneumonia, bronchitis and other serious throat and lung troubles. Charles Rogers.
