It is an understood thing that there is to be a big lobby in Washington this winter to work against Hawalian an nexation. Though the opposition to annexation has obviously lost strength in congress, and in is practically a certainty that the treaty will be promptly ratified soon after congress reconvenes, the outside opposition, which comes from the sugar interests, is known to be organiz ing for such a fight as a lobby with when a lobby of this sort can do effective work, but it is not thought that they can accomplish anything in this instance. The sugar trust and its alles were so thoroughly discredited through their lobby at the capitol during the ex. tra session of this congress that it is not at all probable, when the same hand appears at the regular session, that it will be grasped in welcome, even though by Estes-Conn Drug Co. it be big with money. The character of fight they are lining up for is likely rather to bring discredit upon any who may be associated with the opposition even though not actually allied with the lobby. The situation has got to be such that except for the lobby there would be practically no fight at all against the treaty, and yet, at the same time, a contest led by the lobby will discredit the entire opposition. The friends of annexation understand this and are therefore not in the least alarmed by the preparations they see the sugar in terests making for the fight. There will be some pretty plain talk in the senate if there is an attempt made to delay by filibustering methods. Friends of the treaty say that there is a safe two.thirds for ratification that cannot be changed, and that an attempt made to prevent a vote cannot meet with success. If it were necessary to do so, the annexation could be accomplished by legislation on the consular and diplomatic appropriation
