The series of operations whereby the Carnegie interests have come into control of the greatest group of iron ore producing property in America constitute the most important movement that has taken place in the iron trade for years When Mr. Carnegie got his Besseba mines there was a good deal of interest in the matter, but it is only since the Norrie and Tilden deals were announced that the importance and scope of the Pittsburg concern's projects have become apparent. There are several mines in this combination, each of which can produce more than the Chapin.
