

AMONG THE ATHLETES

AMATEUR SPORTS TOO PROFESSIONAL

To Succeed They Must Be Clean and Appeal Only to the Best People.

Casper Whitney, the writer on amateur sports for Harper's Weekly, arrived in San Francisco from New York a few days ago, on a hunting trip. Mr. Whitney says that he still maintains his attitude of hostility to the way amateur sports are conducted on this coast. "There is a too decidedly professional tone to amateur sport out here. The Olympic Club's influence is bad, especially in its handling of amateur boxing contests. The athletic clubs in the great west, as had at one time, but now they have little or no boxing contests, because it seems impossible to keep out the professional taint. I have no criticism to pass upon the collegiate football games here, but I do say that it is against amateur sports' best interest to have organized clubs give Sunday exhibitions. Amateur sports, to succeed, must be clean, above suspicion, and appeal to the best people in the community."

ANGLING.

At the second annual tournament of the San Francisco Flycasting club, held last Sunday, at Snow Lake, near San Francisco, Walter D. Mansfield, the world's champion at long-distance flycasting, again broke his own record and established a new one of 113 feet. He also broke the world's record in the "distance" and "accuracy" event, making a score of 95 per cent, which has never been equaled in public competition.

The California Fish Commissioners and their deputies are exceedingly busy shipping trout fry to all portions of the state. Many streams and lakes that never contained a trout before are now well stocked, and later on will provide sport for the fishermen. The Commissioners are not planting rainbow trout this year. The washing away of the fish ladder at Pokemong dam has prevented the parent fish from getting up the Klamath river to Shovel creek where the hatchery is situated. The shipments this fall have consisted entirely of salmon, mayflies, or cutthroat trout.

BASEBALL.

The National League season, which closed recently, was not such a general financial success as that of last year. The fast pace set by the Boston Red Sox and New York in the middle of the campaign killed most of the interest in the other clubs, and several clubs will come out of the battle with losses to make up. The big money-makers were the Boston and New York clubs. It is believed that the Boston club cleared nearly $100,000, in spite of the fact that the South End grounds are the smallest in the league. The new champions drew larger crowds on the road than any other team, and the attendance at home was phenomenal. The New York club, in spite of its $100,000 expense, had a profitable season. It has been stated that the club made $15,000, but this is regarded as excessive.

THE WHEEL.

Probably no other wheeler, living or dead, has ever made so much money in so short a time, with a likelihood of keeping it up, as Jimmy Michael. It is about correct to say that Eddie Hahn, who is almost all of the "circuit chasers," makes about $10,000 a year in prize and salary. Michael does better. The Welshman, for the two weeks ending September 29th, put in his pocket $2,500—not including his very liberal salary.

Charles W. Miller, the "Flying Dutchman," established an American record one hundred miles, unpaced, a week ago, at Chicago, riding the distance in 4:27.54. Miller holds the American one-hundred-mile record, won of 1:47:30. The century was ridden on the Garfield Park half-mile bicycle track.

BOXING.

Homer Shelby, "Kid" McCoy's brother, who also has pugilistic aspirations, has been matched to fight Jim Tootola, the "Bohemian Cyclone," at Cleveland, October 19th.

"Mysterious" Billy Smith has finally awakened from his trance, and says that he will again try to make in all the shakels in sight through his pugilistic powers. Smith matched himself Saturday to fight George Beyer at Buffalo, October 18th. The men will come together for twenty rounds.

C. C. Smith, the "thunderbolt," who stood Peter Maher off for six rounds a few months ago, broke his right arm in an attempt to "stop" a colored boxer at Buffalo, and consequently will be unable to box for some time to come.

At the present time there is in progress in the East a championship dispute in comparison with which the George Dixon-Billy Smith "breeze" appears into insignificance. Jim Corbett and Manager Billy Brady are trying the best they know how to taunt Bob Fitzsimmons into a declaration of war. The desire is to force the Cornish man into the ring to battle a second time for the championship he won at Carson, and with at least one New York paper to back them Corbett and Brady are making things decidedly interesting for the patience of the solar plexus punch.

"Kid" McCoy and Dan Creedon have agreed to fight to a finish in Canada for a purse of $7,000, offered by the Canadian Athletic club, the battle to take place on or about the 15th of December. They also agreed to make a side bet of $500 and the club will forfeit $2,500 if it fails to bring off the contest.

THE BICYCLE WOMAN.

Do Men Like Her, or Do They Not? The Answer Lies With Her.

A cycling magazine launches the question: "Do men like women who cycle?" The magazine says it is a question that is agitating both sexes much of late, and it makes bold to answer: "It all depends." There are many sorts of whosomeness—too many sorts, unfortunately. There is the manish, martinet-like individual in such frequent evidence, who boasts of being among the first women who rode the bicycle, and whose conversation is all of "century runs" and the "records," and "sore shins." Then there is the silly, weak, middle-aged specimen of humanity who only rides because her friends do, and because it is the fashion. Whosomeness of these two sorts is pretty safe to say are not admired by men, and what is an even sadder fact, neither are they by women. Did a girl but know it, there is, after all, no surer test of character than the way she rides a wheel. Not only the way she rides it, but the way she regards it, the position in which she delegates it among her other interests and activities. Heavily brings to the surface all sorts of unbrained possibilities in one's nature. It is a splendid gauge of personality. No fast or hard rules can be laid down concerning it, of course; but this much may be said, at least: The girl who behaves well, dresses well, and rides well because she enjoys the pastime, and because she is in need of suitable outdoor exercise may be sure of calling forth respect and admiration wherever she goes.

Consumption

Will SCOTT'S EMULSION cure consumption? Yes and no. Will it cure every case? No. What cases will it cure then? Those in their earlier stages, especially in young people. We make no exaggerated claims, but we have positive evidence that the early use of

of Cod-liver oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda in these cases results in a positive cure to a large number. In advanced cases, however, where a cure is impossible, this well-known remedy should be relied upon to prolong life surprisingly.

Dangerous Lard

Lard at its best is unwholesome, indigestible. It makes food shortened with it soft and greasy. At its worst, it is unhealthful and filled with dangerous bacteria. It is condemned by every medical and culinary authority.

Healthful COTTOLENE

is composed mainly of refined vegetable oil. It is nutritious and palatable. Food shortened with or fried in it can be eaten by anyone without harmful results.
