

THE PAY ROLL

New York, November 4.—The Herald says:
More than 55,000 persons will directly or indirectly draw pay from the city in the first administration of the mayor of Greater New York. The salaries of $3,000 of these, whose names will be actually on the city payroll, will aggregate $33,000,000. Part of this amount represents the salaries and patronage of the other officers elected on Tuesday, but this is comparatively small, most of it representing the patronage of New York's mayor, Robert Van Wyck. A conservative estimate of those who will draw pay indirectly from the city through the city contracts and the like is 22,000. Mayor Strong at the time the greater charter was passed estimated this force as equal to if not exceeding the actual number of all officeholders.

Second only to the president of the United States in the value of his patronage, and with his colleagues-eleven of the same political party as himself—Mr. Van Wyck can lead an army of officeholders and those indirectly employed by the city as great as the army of the Potowmack.

DR. PARKHURST TALKS

New York, November 4.—A dispatch to the World from Paris says:

Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst gave out the following statement in regard to the democratic victory in New York:

"If New York has not the most glorious keep out of Tammany's clutches after it has once been rescued from them, may the Lord have mercy on New York. Republicans voted have restored Tammany to power and upon the men who cast them will devote the responsibility for the robbery and vandalism of the next four years. New York will not become a respectable city until the clergy are so possessed of the spirit of old prophecies as to be prepared to put governing pressure on secular events; until the press becomes so distinctly and unwaveringly the exponent of marketable truth as to command the chief truth politics; until reputable citizens are sufficiently wedded to righteousness to be willing to sacrifice political fetishes to the interests of the general tendency and integrity."

FASHION'S FANCIES

Tiny plaitings of black, white and colored chiffon are disposed across or down bodices that allow a drooping tendency. The little plaitings may, in fact, be used in manifold ways and always look well, save upon ample figures, for which fluffy trimmings are never advised. Narrow jet or lace outlines or scrolls or silk cord may be applied as headings for the wee frills.

Several untrimmed sailors of fine Milan straw are worn with cutting suits. The new sailors are high-crowned and broad-brimmed and the ribbon band encircling the crown is tied at the left side to flat bows with ends. The ends are novel and hasty, but are, of course, not imperative.

For afternoon wear there is a stylish linen in the natural tone with black embroidery dots and a floral border, also in black, below several rows of drawn work.

A dainty trimming for summer silks is formed of narrow ribbons embroidered in delicate colors and edged at both sides with lace. Then there is a delicate edging for chintz with appliques of blue or red batiste cut out in floral devices and neatly embroidered. Both edgings and insertions of linen embroidery are shown threaded with gold or silver. This trimming is abundant in narrow and wide varieties and is very attractive.

Linen embroideries are shown in exquisite devices without metal threads and no fabric is considered too rich for their application.

Muchlin of white chiffon enriched with Renaissance lace are introduced in a band of la Tossa net, the meshes of which are of white linen and fine gold threads.

Several shades of purple are associated in a walking hat of dark-purple fancy straw braid. The crown is banded with heliotrope satin ribbon and the brim is concealed under an accordion-plaited roll of chiffon matching the ribbon. At the left side are two bird's heads and wings shading from light heliotrope to dark-purple, two long curving aigrettes in the darkest hue and a bow of the ribbon. There is another bow at the back and under the brim at each side is a bunch of violet—From the "Bellmetor."

Many a woman who owns a wheel has learned, to her heart's sorrow, that beauty is only skin deep.

The allowance of the lord mayor of London up to the majority of Sir Sidney Waterlow in 1792, was $40,000 annually; but it was increased in that year to $50,000, at which sum it has ever since remained.
