PRESIDENT M'KINLEY VERY BUSY WITH HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE.

Recommendations Will Be Adopted.

Prosident McKinley has been competled follow. to announce his inability to see any. The workmen compinin that in the caffers, except those with whom he exat the glass industry is so uncertain wishes to confer, until he finishes his and the market so fluctuating that they angust message to congress. In order are working only about helf the year to show that this would give no advant- and average no better wages than they age to any particular seekers after ap., made in the old country. On the western pointments, it was at the same time coast they think they would have absoannounced that no more important appointments would be made until after gives manufacture abounds there: The congress convenes. The president has glassworkers all have some money, each to get it finished in about two wacks.

the action of Attorney General McKenna co-operative glass plant. in refusing to compromise a number of cases against a firm for violating the law against selling oleomargarine as butter. Speaking of the case, he said, today reduced its price from 2 cents "I am gratified that the government is I cent giving evidence that it will strictly enforce the law. The scientists in the agricultural colleges are teaching the people the best way to make fine butter and the buyer should know whether he is buying butter or oleomargazine. There must be some means of distinguishing the two. I do not say that it is wrong to salf oleomergarine, but that it is wrong to sell it as butter, and evers means should be taken to enforce the law in this regard. There is no question but that obcomargarine is injurious. The more that is used of it the more is the public harmed."

The armstors and representatives who will have the most to do with shaping the programme of the coming session of congress are buying the least to say in the necessary about what that programme is likely to be. That the recommendations of President McKinley's message will be followed to as great an extent as the republican laiders can bring about, in the legislation of the session of congress, is reasonably certain. There isn't likely to be any marked division in the republican ranks.

A Washington sculptor Mr. P. Leimer -hus secured a commission to make four bronze busts of President McKintey. one for the white house, one for Secre tary Alger, one for the city of Canton and one for the Obio state house, and the stilings began this week in the bliliard room, in the basement of the white every morning, while working on his message, until the clay bust, from which Official red tape can always be brushed aside when the need for official action is roully uggest. This was shown by the speedy action of the government in ordering the revenue cuttor Bear to proceed to the refler of the eight American whaling vessels believed to be ice-bound In the Arotle ocean. As soon as the president and exbinet were notified that re-Hef was needed, they directed that the Bear secould be got ready for the expedition as early as possible, and Treasury officials familiar with the region drafted the instructions for the commander of the Bear, which include an overland trip from Point Barrow in sleds drawn by government reindeer. The promptness of the whole business reflects great credit upon the adminis-Tratton.

The coming to Washington of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian premier, and other Canadian officials, was a social success, but viewed from the states. man's standpoint, it was at best a partial fullure. It seems that Sir Wilfrid ought to have known in advance that he could not succeed in bluffing the United States into buying Canada's conwould result in stopping open sea sealing for a time, with a Canada favored reciprocity treaty and the concession of other things that are in disoute between the two governments. If he didn't, be must have been a much surprised man at the promptness with which he was emightened when he made his bluff. Ex-Secretary Foster, who has been in charge of the interests of the United States in those sealing negotiations, says we gained a material victory in the agreement which was reached by the scal experts, and that the negotiations with the Canadian government will be continued, and that he believes The contentions of the United States will sconer or later be recognized.

It has often been said that there was no limit to democratic audacity, and a new proof of the assertion may be found in the change of the democratic stories about Senstor Hanna. Having ascertaned that all of their attempts to split the Onto republicans into Hanna and anti-Hanna factions had miserably failed, and that Mr. Hanna's election to its semite was assured, they are now
