Stald and dignined senators turned kway and wept, and in the galactice tears welled to hundreds of eyes. It was a remarkable seens and the stillness until the last word had been pronounced was as of death itself. As Thurston sank inti his seat and buried his face in his hands the galleries were awept by such a to mult of applause as has not in a long time been heard in the senate chamber. As a brother might have done, Allen Thurston's colleague, walked to him, and placing his arm over his shoulders, qui city led him from the chamber. The act was one of the spontaneous and touching amenities amid the turbulence and dis-
