The boys won't do a thing but root for the ladies in the match game against their husbands at the A. F. C. alleys tonight. The ladies will vote for captain and the men will do likewise and a lively time is anticipated. The referee will be a lady, selected by the players in the hall.

Northern Pacific railroad trains leave Portland daily at 11 o'clock a. m. for Tacoma, Spokane, and the east. Close connection made at Spokane for Rossland, Nelson, Sandow and British Columbia mining camps. For maps and information call on or address C. W. Stone, Astoria, Oregon.

Reports from fishermen and canneries yesterday showed that the run of salmon is improving. Trap men are doing little or nothing and the gill netters are not yet fishing at the bar. They are drifting in the river opposite the city. All anticipate an increase in the run in the next few days.

We have just received the latest incandescent GAS BURNER, manufactured by the Eureka Manufacturing Concern, which will be furnished complete and put on with the best mantle made, the "YXALTA" for $1.50. Unsurpassed in illuminting power. Needs no burning off. W. J. Scully sole agent, 431 Bond street.

The averages of the ladies of the A. F. C. who challenged their husbands for a match game on Thursday evening are so nearly even with the averages of their husbands that a close and exciting contest is certain. While some of the men average better than their wives, there are fully as many ladies who can easily outscore their husbands.

Cut flowers and choice plants just arrived from Portland. Come and see them; we are not clearing out greenhouse rubbish but offer for sale choice, thrifty, young plants. Our roses are Oregon cuttings and warranted true to name. See for yourself. Rosenstock Bros., 535 Commercial street, next door to Wise's.

Mayor Bergman yesterday signed the following ordinances: Approving of the 10-year plan of payment of assessment for the Commercial street extension, application to be made prior to May 1, 1898; establishing the grade on Alameda avenue; establishing the grade on Columbia avenue; accepting the Commercial street extension improvement.

It was reported last evening that the Van Dusen Brothers had signified their willingness to donate 40 acres of land and a 100-foot right-of-way to the railroad track near Tongue Point for a site for the proposed shipways to be erected by Mr. F. D. Clark. This is the beginning and if others follow there can be little doubt but that Astoria will have a first-class shipyard in the near future.

Mr. Frank Patton and Mr. H. C. Thompson returned yesterday from a visit up the Lewis and Clarke river. They report that the valleys are simply beautiful and promise larger crops than ever. The Garden of Eden might well have been located on this fine stream. Plowing and planting for spring crops are in full progress and hay and dairy products in large quantities are assured.

The first shad of the season has arrived in the markets and one of the local markets displayed a half dozen large ones in front of the store yesterday. The largest weighed over six pounds and had the appearance of being fresh from salt water. Shad are rarely taken in the Columbia at this season of the year, but are usually taken in large numbers in June and July. They were for sale at 20 cents apiece.

Quartermaster Brown, of the Columbine, while riding a bicycle yesterday ran into a water plug at the corner of Eleventh and Bond streets and fractured his kneecap. He was riding up from the Telephone dock and was going at a good rate of speed. He was taken to the hospital where his injuries were attended to. The fracture is quite severe and it will be some time before he will be able to be around.

The steamer Oregon from San Francisco did not get in until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Captain Stevens reported that head winds and a heavy current were against them all the way. There was a large passenger list, almost every stateroom being occupied, and she brought a large amount of freight. It is expected that the Columbia, just off the ways and in thorough repair, will leave San Francisco for Astoria today.

Another case of cerebro spinal meningitis developed on the beach north of Ilwaco yesterday. The man was an employe on the stranded ship Glenmorag, and was a strong and hearty person. It has not been learned what the result of his case is. Considerable alarm has been caused in this city and well-posted physicians declare that while the disease is not what is ordinarily known as contagious it is very communicable and becomes epidemic.

Mr. J. M. Hughes returned yesterday from an extended visit in Salt Lake and Boise cities. Mr. Hughes stopped on the way at Baker City and other eastern Oregon towns and says that business there is in good condition and that the agricultural resources of that portion of the state are being developed to a remarkable degree. Where a few years ago was nothing but desert lands are now plowed fields and rich pasture lots. The O. R. & N. Company along its line is doing much to develop the country.

The will of the late Eli C. Crow was filed for probate in the probate court yesterday. C. H. Page, of this city, and James Brown, of Knappa, are named as executors without bonds. The will was admitted to probate and provides that the property be held in trust for Mrs. J. A. McCallum, niece, and A. B. Powers, nephew. The property comprises four lots in the east half of block 7, McClure's, and a farm at Knappa. The petition sets forth that the estate is worth $10,000.

During Engineer Warrick's visit to inspect the Young's Bay bridge he also inspected the railroad bridge across the John Day. He will make a report to the war department and it is not anticipated by the county court that any unnecessary trouble or delay will be had in the matter. On their return to this city the launch was run aground near Burnside Point. Mr. Warrick went ashore and staid at Knappa, while Commissioners Petersen and Lewis and County Judge Gray walked the railroad ties into the city, arriving here late and thoroughly disgusted with the accident. Judge Gray says when he next goes on a visit of inspection he will have something to say in the piloting of the launch.

Another large audience greeted the Bittner company last night at Fisher's opera house. The performance was the rendition of "The Great Diamond Mystery." The principals received an exceptionally good support from the members of the company. Mattie Choate, as "Mary Marshall," and Millie Stevens, as "Mrs. Hildefrand," made especially good records for themselves and the company. John Waldron, as "Julius Hildebrand," A. L. Willard, as "Horace Hand," and Kelly as "Peter Grump," sustained their high reputations as actors. Ned Mitchell's song, illustrated, "Pictures From Life's Other Side," was one of the hits of the evening. Manager Bittner responded to repeated encores and hearty applause in a few words thanking the audience for their appreciation of their efforts. Tonight will be presented the Millionaire's Wife," and Saturday afternoon there will be a special matinee.

THAT QUARANTINE STATION MATTER

O. R. & N. Company Pushing for Its Establishment Here.

GREAT DANGER THREATENED

President Mohler and Agent Woolsey at Work—Dr. J. A. Fulton Urges the Necessity for a Station at Once.

President Mohler of the O. R. & N. Co. spent yesterday in Astoria. This is his first visit to this city since assuming the duties of his office. When seen by an Astorian representative and in response to questions, Mr. Mohler said:

"I am here simply looking over the field relative to improvements contemplated by the company. Our docks need repairing and the coal bunkers are insufficient in capacity to handle the business. I have also investigated the operation at this end of the river steamers with a view to an improvement soon to be made in the river schedule.

"Another important matter and one which is of the utmost consequence to the whole Columbia river is the question of arrangements soon to be made by the government for the establishment of a quarantine station here. The last two ships from the Orient arriving at the sound and San Francisco had smallpox aboard. We are operating a line of steamers to the Orient and at present there is absolutely no means of taking care of a vessel that might have infectious diseases aboard. I have consulted with Health Officer Dr. J. A. Fulton and General Agent Frank Woolsey of the steamship line will be here in a few days to look further into the matter. I am very anxious to induce immediate action by the general government for the establishment of this station. It is a question of supreme importance in the matter of traffic between Oregon and the Orient. There is some question as to the proper location of the station. Probably Captain Fiske or another officer in charge of the matter will make recommendations as to the best location of the station. There should be immediate relief and the importance of this movement now involved in the operation of the Oriental liners cannot be overestimated. The absence of a quarantine station at Astoria means under certain conditions tremendous delays to traffic and a great disadvantage to us as against the Sound and San Francisco. The delay of the government in establishing this much needed station is not only a hardship but operates against Astoria and Portland. At San Diego for years there has been a quarantine station, although the foreign shipping along the Columbia river exceeds that of San Diego in the proportion of fifty ships to one."

It is believed that Mr. Mohler's visit presages important improvements and developments relative to Oriental traffic with the Columbia.

When seen last night Dr. J. A. Fulton, state health officer, referring to the question of quarantine in Astoria, said:

"Today there are absolutely no facilities in Oregon for handling a ship containing infectious diseases. If only the ship itself was to be disinfected this could be accomplished easily and expeditiously and at a small outlay of time and money. But when it comes to handling passengers it is an entirely different matter. We have no place in which to keep the passengers and it will be necessary to see that the passengers who are well and who are simply detained until the incubation period of a disease has passed are well and properly cared for. It has been suggested that in case we are so unfortunate as to have to deal with an infected ship and crew or passengers that we might obtain an old covered barge and use that for the station until the government can furnish better quarters. There are, however, objections to such an arrangement. It may be that we would purchase a number of tents for the purpose and put them up in some sheltered place. This would necessitate a guard night and day and in case of bad weather would not be altogether satisfactory. However, I trust, we will not have to meet the misfortune. If we do, we shall certainly take the necessary precautions to protect the public from disease, no matter who is inconvenienced or what the cost of money or time."

NEW ASTORIA NOTES.

Mrs. E. M. Lally went to Astoria on Monday.

Dr. August Kinney visited Flavel last Saturday.

Dr. Alfred Kinney spent Sunday at Hammond.

A. F. Rober and wife, of Ilwaco, were over on Saturday.

Born—To the wife of Captain Charles Jacobson, April 15, a son.

A very pleasant party was given at the hotel last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Rosetta McGuire, who has been very ill with pneumonia, is improving.

Mr. A. Taylor, of the White Collar Line, spent Sunday with his family at Flavel.

Geese are flying north in large flocks and the hunters are consequently happy.

W. P. Day gave an entertainment with a phonograph at Ford's hall Saturday evening.

The many friends of Mrs. R. E. Turk will be glad to hear she is rapidly recovering.

David Hood, representing Mason, Ehrman & Co., made his regular visit last Thursday.

J. H. Smith was over from Astoria last Saturday and went down the plains hunting for geese.

Mrs. James M. Turney left Flavel last Friday for an extended visit to the east. Mr. Turney and Mrs. Taylor accompanied her to Portland.

HUGH CAMPBELL DEAD.

Sioux Falls, S. D., April 20.—General Hugh J. Campbell is dead. He was the member of the Louisiana returning board whose voted decided the election in 1876 in favor of R. B. Hayes against Tilden. He organized the first regiment in Iowa for the civil war. For eighteen years he was United States attorney for this state and territory. He had just volunteered to raise a regiment.

SANTA FE HELD UP.

In an Exchange of Shots With the Robbers, Engineer Gifford Is Killed.

Los Angeles, April 20.—The Santa Fe overland No. 1, west bound, was held up at the Mojave river bridge two miles west of Oro Grande in San Bernardino county at 2:30 this morning. Engineer Gifford was killed by one of the robbers, who was mortally wounded by Gifford, in an exchange of shots. The robbers flagged the train at the approach to the bridge and boarding the engine took the engineer and fireman back to the express car and endeavored to detach it from the first passenger coach but could not uncouple it. They succeeded in cutting off the mail car and engine, however, and compelled the engineer to pull these up to the siding. Here they rifled the mail car and secured the registered mail. They then backed down to the train again and were proceeding to the express car when Engineer Gifford opened fire on them with a revolver. He fatally wounded one of the robbers, Paul Jones, of Oro Grande, but the others escaped, after shooting Gifford with a charge of buckshot. Gifford died at once. Express Messenger Mott remained on the rear platform of the express car and with the body of the engineer came to this city. The robbers got nothing but registered mail.

STARVING CATTLE.

San Francisco, April 20.—The stock and sheepmen who are anxious to get their starving cattle and sheep out of central and southern California as soon as possible, are incensed with the secretary of agriculture's office for its delay in instructing inspectors at Sacramento, Stockton and Fresno to proceed with the inspection of the animals and authorize their shipment to Utah, Nebraska, Kansas and Wyoming. There are in southern and central California, they say, 50,000 cattle and 100,000 sheep that must be moved to good pasturage to prevent their starvation. Most of the stockmen are agreed that nearly all of the cattle and sheep mentioned must be sent out within the next two months.

NOT ALL DESERTED

Newberg, N. Y., April 20.—It has been erroneously reported that all the men who filled the posts of consuls and vice-consuls in Cuba have left the island. Dr. Andrew V. Joya of this city has received a letter from Mrs. John W. Joya stating that her husband has joined the insurgent forces and will probably be assigned on the staff of General Gomez. John Joya was United States vice-consul at Sagua la Grande with Consul Baker. When Baker left Cuba he sent his rifle and pistol to Gomez who will. Mrs. Joya believes, turn them over to her husband for use. The letter from Mrs. Joya was written in Cardena, where she is staying at the home of her sister.

HELPED CAPTURE BOOTH.

Beloit, Wis., April 20.—Mrs. J. W. Crist, an old lady living here, claims to have assisted in the capture of J. Wilkes Booth, the assassin of Lincoln, and that he died a natural death in England. She says her first husband was Captain Haggett, commander of the Mary Porter, a rebel blockade runner, and that two months after the murder of the president Haggett took the assassin on his boat and carried him to Nassau, a town in the Bahama islands. Mrs. Crist later visited the Bahamas and saw Booth there and he gave her a ring she now possesses. She says it was Booth's accomplice, Fox, who was killed and buried in a barn and was thought to be Booth.

ENTERING SPAIN'S SERVICE.

New York, April 20.—The Herald's correspondent in Montevideo telegraphs that a son of the famous dictator Santos, who is a Uruguayan naval officer, is now serving on board the Spanish cruiser Vizcaya. Other Uruguayan officers are about to enter the service of Spain in her army and navy.

The police are now guarding the United States consulate in Ascencion, Paraguay. The Spaniards have made noisy demonstrations against the United States. They have been prohibited from burning effigies of President McKinley and other American statesmen.

CAPTAIN MORTON DEAD

New York, April 20.—Captain Thomas A. Morton is dead, aged 67 years. During the war he served as a naval officer and fought under Farragut at New Orleans. He was afterward captain of one of the Pacific Mail steamers and subsequently had charge of the works of the Panama canal at Colon. After the failure of the canal scheme, Captain Morton went to Nicaragua. He was well known in shipping circles. In his last sickness he was extremely desirous of recovery so that he might be able to fight against the Spanish.

BRAZILIAN FAILURES.

New York, April 20.—The Herald's correspondent in Rio de Janeiro telegraphs that the firm of Lemas, engaged in the importation of pretroleum, machinery and other American products, has suspended payment with heavy liabilities. Several banks are involved.
