SALARIES ARE INCREASED.

Ordinance Increasing Salaries of the Police Department Passes, 7 to 2.

Two matters laid over from the special meeting of the previous night came up before the Council at their special meeting last night, the most important being the ordinance increasing the salaries of police officers from $90 to $70, and the chief of police from $70 to $81, introduced by Utzinger.

After the seventeenth street crossing improvement had been laid over till the next meeting, when bids would be advertised for, the ordinance increasing the salaries came to a vote and passed, 7 to 2. Fritz and Goddard voted "No." Councilmen Fulton, Hildebrand and Robb explained their votes, the two latter voting "Yes," on being informed by the mayor that the members of the police department were promised a raise in their salaries when the revenues of the city would warrant it. It was also made known in reference to the ordinance that the revenue of the city so far the present year is in excess of the revenues for the whole of 1917, and, therefore at the present time the city was more than self-sustaining.

Track Compares With New York Central—Scenery Far Superior.

Oregonian.
By July 1, 3 miles of 15-pound steel rails will have been laid on the O. R. & N. track between Portland and Walla. A shipment of 2,300 tons arrived a few days ago to continue the work begun early in the year, and the renewing of track will continue until the season's work is completed.

A correction of the curvature in the O. R. & N. track between Cascades and The Dalles is practically completed, vastly improving that troublesome stretch of railroad. The equivalent of several complete circles has been removed. This work is done to stay, and the new track may be relied upon to stand the service required of it at all times.

The complete correction of curvature gives a fine alignment and makes easier riding than on the New York Central between Albany and New York and that of the Hudson River. The physical condition of the O. R. & N. is following the executive vigor and financial improvement of the company to a high plane of excellence. Business may now be handled quicker, safer, and in every way more satisfactorily with the recently added motive power and improved track.

Yes, sir I fought with Stonewall, And faced the fight with Lee, But if this here Union goes to war, Make one more gun for me!

I was with 'em at Manassas— The bully boys in Gray, I heard the thunder's roarin' Round Stonewall Jackson's way, And many a time this word of mine Has blazed the route for Lee, But if this old nation goes to war, Make one more sword for me!

I'm not so full of fightin', Nor half so full of fun, As I was back in the sixties, When I shouldered my old gun; It may be that my hair is white— Such things, you know, must be, But if this old Union's in for war, Make one more gun for me!

I didn't forget my rasin'— Nor how, in sixty-two, Or thereabouts, with battle shouts, The bullets flew that made us die, And I say I fought with Stonewall, And blazed the way for Lee, But if this old Union's in for war, Make one more gun for me.

—Atlanta Constitution.

HIS NORTHERN BROTHER.

Just make it two, old fellow, I want to stand once more Beneath the old flag with you, As in the days of yore Our fathers stood together And fought on land and sea The battles fierce that made us A nation of the free.

I whipped you down at Vicksburg, You looked me at Bull Run, On many a field we struggled, When neither victory won, You wore the Gray of Southland, I wore the Northern Blue; Like men we did our duty, When screaming bullets flew.

Four years we fought like devils, But when the war was done Your hand met mine in friendly clasp, Our two hearts beat as one, And now when danger threatens, No North, no South we know, Once more we stand together To fight the common foe.

My head, like yours, is frosty— Old age is creeping on, But I'm in better shape, My day will soon be gone, But if our country's honor Needs once again be won, I'm ready, too, old fellow— So get another gun.
