Mrs. Gilette won the medal at the ladies' monthly bowling tournament at the A. F. C. alley Tuesday with an average of 275, including 12 handicap. Low scores were the order throughout the tournament.

Those who attended the rally at Hammond last night say that the hall was crowded to overflowing—200 people made up the audience. The speaking lasted well into the evening, and afterwards a social time was had.

If you have hides, wool, furs, rags, bottles, lead, brass, copper, snags, or any kind of junk for sale, ship it to E. M. Gaston, 159 Fourteenth street, Astoria, Oregon, or write him and he will call at your place and get it. He pays cash.

Empire Corset at Dunbar's. The long obscured sun shone out a few minutes yesterday evening, brightening about the bay with small sail boats. The pretty picture was doubly welcome, as nature's frowns have been more frequent than her smiles during the past week or two.

A special session of the county court held in the Young's Bay and Lewis & Clark bridges will convene this morning. Wakefield & Jacobson, who have been formally awarded the contract for the construction of the bridge, will submit new plans for the 120 and 90 foot openings, which will be forwarded to Washington for approval.

It is a peculiar coincidence that two of the same fish team should have captured both the ladies' and gentlemen's medal at the monthly tournament on the A. F. C. alley. Mr. James Finlayson of the Crabs won the gentlemen's medal and Mrs. J. M. Gilette of the same team won the ladies' medal. Captain Wins of the Crabs feels duty proud of his team.

Mr. R. A. Seaborg of the Aberdeen fishing Co. has announced his intention of doing away with Chinese labor entirely at his big Pathhaven cannery at New Whatcom, Wash. The change is to go into effect June 23. After that date he will use none but white labor, except as splitters, cleaners and menders, which places must be filled by Chinese until the white labor gets used to the work. The Seaborg cannery has a capacity of 2,500 cases per day, and will employ 50 Chinese and 20 white men, women, girls and boys.—New York Fishing Gazette.

The Fishermen union's snow Pathfinder is now almost ready to be launched near the cannery. Her new owner, W. I. Reed of Oakland, Cal., has rebuilt her and lengthened her several feet, making her practically a new boat. Only a portion of the old deck and some planking remain of the old hull. It was the intention of Mr. Reed at first to place the machinery of the tug Maggie in her, but he changed his plans and she will be propelled by sail exclusively. Mr. Reed will also rename the Pathfinder and has decided to christen her the popular and honored name of Dewey, so that nothing will now remain of the old history Pathfinder but her sails, spars and a few planks. The Dewey will be launched Monday and Mr. Reed will put her in the lumber trade at present, her first cargo to be from Nehalem to San Francisco.

A laughable incident was witnessed in the smoking car of the Salmon Flyer which left here at 8:45 yesterday morning. Messrs. Gilbert and Loughery and a gentleman whose name is not known, were making a short trip up the line. The latter had occasion to pass out of the car, but the door, being new, stuck, and thinking that the lever over it was the key to the lock, the gentleman in his haste gave a yank, and the door flew to the train, came to a dead stop with a noise like a boiler explosion. Just before the conductor came back to find out who had stopped his train, or whether it had been held up by burglars bold, or whether there was a break down, the confused passenger had retired to the bosom of the party. Mr. Gilbert explained that it was an error and the train started on again amidst the amusement of the passengers.

Coroner Pohl yesterday afternoon held an inquest into the cause of the death of N. Dillman, whose body was found lying at the foot of Eighth street Thursday morning with a bullet hole through the brain. The jurors sworn in were Tom Liville, T. S. Henderson, Thomas H. Bidwell, H. A. Hansen, H. M. Thatcher and Simon Danziger. Dr. Fulton testified concerning the bullet wound in the dead man's head as being sufficient to cause death, the bullet having entered the right temple and passed through the brain. Joseph Hobson and Harry Hobson testified to the finding of the body on Young's Bay with its head toward the beach with the revolver by its side in the corner of the room. The Tigue Hotel and heard the testimony of Mrs. Elizabeth Dillman, wife of the deceased, who identified the revolver as one which had been in her possession and was taken from the room on the morning of her husband's disappearance. Albert Pung, one of the jury, N. Dillman identified the body as that of G. N. Dillman, who was last seen at the Hotel Tigue at breakfast at 8:30 Tuesday morning. The jury rendered the following verdict: "We, the undersigned jurors, sworn to inquire into the death of G. N. Dillman, do find that he came to his death by a gunshot wound in the head, inflicted with his own hand with suicidal intent on May 31, 1938, in Astoria, Oregon, Clatsop county."

Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember to use even the most perfect remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Twenty-eight and Franklin avenue was on fire for several blocks and the fire reached within ten feet of the wooden water main supports. Had the fire once crossed the street to the south it would have been undimmed, the pipe allowed to fall and break joints with its own weight, the water escape and every house must have rendered untenable. It is awful to think of what might follow such a calamity, but such may happen at any time.

I am not an agitator nor an alarmist. I simply desire to call the attention of the proper authorities to the existing danger in the hose that the remedy may be applied in time. WILLIAM R. ADAIR.

EIGHTH A GRADE EXERCISES. Commencement exercises for the Eighth A class were held Friday morning at 10:30 at Adair school.

This class, which will next autumn enter the high school, was larger than usual, consisting of twenty-seven bright boys and girls. Judging from their earnest faces and the interesting program rendered they will do excellent work in the high school.

Twelve members of the class were from McClure school, eight from Adair free from Shively, and two from Astorbrook. David Morgan of Shively school secured the highest average on the final examination.

Friends and classmates filled the assembly hall to overflowing. Following is the program of the exercises: Music—"Joyous Summer Days"; Essay—"Brave Women"; School Essay—"Christina Thompson"; Essay—"Naval Warfare, Old and New"; Essay—"The Future of Astoria"; School Essay—"The West's Greatest Call"; Essay—"Our Seasons"; Alma Lawson; Essay—"The Chinese Question"; Essay—"Outdoor Sports"; Elsie Elmore; Essay—"Alvin Campbell"; Essay—"Flowers and Their Cultivation"; People—"Hanna Soeman"; Essay—"China"; David Morgan; Solo—"There Will Come a Time"; Essay—"America"; Rev. H. C. Thompson.

YOUNG'S RIVER ITEMS. Young's River, Or., June 1, 1938. Editor Astorian.—Decorative Day was observed here by several of our loyal and sincere friends. Graves were decorated in both cemeteries, Greenwood and Grangers.

E. H. McMillen spent Saturday and Sunday in Astoria. Mr. Deane Young visited Astoria on Decoration day.

Sheriff Hare was out with a short time ago, presumably on business. Miss Kate Osgood has gone to Astoria, where she will remain for the summer. Rev. Edland was in our midst not long since, a guest of Andrew Young. James McMillen, Astoria, was visiting at his home on Young's River last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John McMillen and son will spend Sunday and Monday in Astoria. The Misses Lewis were visiting at their home on John Deane Young Sunday and the day following.

Mrs. J. W. Aille has been confined to her room with a chronic complaint. She is, however, convalescing rapidly. Preaching services will be held at the Lower Wallack school house next Sunday by Rev. Mr. Matlock of Astoria. Service will begin at 7 p. m.

The school on the river are moving along smoothly, nothing occurring to mar the harmony and good will that prevails. SELLER.

SALEMAN MARKET. New England Grocer. The salmon market is one of the things that it is hard to follow at present. The sales made vary by the different brokers for the famous sockeye salmon have not all been confirmed. Many of the canners have received more orders than they can at the moment. The situation is decided not to make prices until July, at that time they can be definitely informed with regard to the sockeye salmon from the two rivers. With a short pack in two localities, Fraser and Columbia rivers, will make it easier to make firmer prices on Alaskan fish, so they are merely waiting to see what the situation will be on the first of July. The market for spot goods has been very active during the past few days, although the trade is not having a large amount. Brokers report a very good trade in all grades of canned goods. Equities are frequent and sales are many. Canned salmon and fruits are being made all along the line. The outlook for business is very good indeed and everyone seems to be encouraged. Wholesale grocers and brokers are working together and everyone seems to be cheerful at the prospect of doing a good trade for future goods.

There have been some changes in prices during the past week, tomatoes, corn and fruits having advanced considerably. COLUMBINE TO THE RESCUE. Empire City, June 3.—This morning about 7 o'clock the Cape Arago life keeper, Thomas Wyman, and daughter, Joe Yorker and John Collwell were crossing from the mainland to the lighthouse in a basket running on a wire cable, and when about half way across the cable broke, letting the occupants fall into the surf about sixty feet below.

Three of the party fell into deep water and escaped with slight injuries, but Wyman struck his feet on the rocks and one ankle and foot was badly broken. Signals of distress were displayed at the lighthouse and were answered by the light-house tender, Columbia, which was busy on her way to land some material for building the bridge to take the place of the cable. She hoisted a raft of lumber to the unfortunate people and succeeded in taking them aboard.

FALLURES FOR THE WEEK. New York, June 3.—Dun's review tomorrow will say: Fallures for the week were 22 in the United States against 31 last year, and 16 in Canada against 21 last year.
