All communications intended for publication should be directed to the editor. Business communications of all kinds and remittances must be addressed to "The Astorian."

The Astorian guarantees to its advertisers the largest circulation of any newspaper published on the Columbia river.

Advertising rates can be had on application to the business manager.

The Weekly Astorian, the second oldest weekly in the state of Oregon, has, next to the Portland Oregonian, the largest weekly circulation in the state.

Dewey is still all right and Sampson is playing a close second, with a chance to make a home run for first honors.

Once more the Portland Evening Telegram has absorbed the O. R. & N., but President Carr, of the Short Line, who was in Portland yesterday, stated that his visit was only one of pleasure and had no connection with the "absorption" rumors, at which he knew nothing.

The farmers' convention, which will soon be held in Astoria, promises to revolutionize the agricultural industries of Clatsop county. This section of Oregon would be regarded as a veritable paradise for tillers of the soil if its advantages were more generally appreciated at home and advertised abroad.

The remarkable vote given to P. I. Dunbar in Clatsop county for secretary of state—being a majority of 126—is not only a strong indication of the complete turning over in the second district, the re-establishment of republicanism and sound money principles here, but it is a flattering tribute to the personal popularity of Mr. Dunbar, the efficiency and honesty of his administration of the office of county clerk of Clatsop county, and the conviction of the people that he will conduct the office of secretary of state on the broad lines which will serve the greatest good for the largest number of the people of Oregon.

One result of the republican victory in Oregon on Monday will be the restoration of confidence among eastern investors in the soundness of the republican party on the money question. There were many well-informed republicans in Oregon who feared the outcome of the combination attempted against the republican state ticket, and one of the worst effects of the election of such men as King and Kinsaid would have been the supposed triumph of free silver. There will no longer be any doubt where Oregon stands on the money question, and there is reason to believe the overwhelming majorities cast for Geer, Dunbar and Moody signifies a change of sentiment among the masses of the people on the money question not only in Oregon, but throughout the whole Pacific slope.

The death of Dr. Garner, though not unexpected, for he had been in declining health for several years, has profoundly moved the entire community of Astoria. His venerable presence, the rare culture of his manners and the ripe erudition of his mind have made him for a long time one of Astoria's most honored and noted citizens. Though the last years of his life were spent in enforced retirement and in the comparative obscurity of Astoria, it is very doubtful if there is a clergyman of the American Presbyterian church today who has had a broader or richer experience than Dr. Garner. He was well and widely known throughout his own denomination, and had the confidence of his health permitted, the eminence of his attainments might have made his name famous among the greatest theologians and scholars of the entire religious world.

A REMARKABLE SHOWING.
If there was ever a conclusive demonstration of an economical problem, the business statistics of the United States of today furnish one; if there ever was absolute proof of the correctness of the principle of protection of home manufactures it is found today in recent figures compiled by the statistical bureau, which, for the first time in the history of the country, show an increase in the export of manufactured goods over imports of the same kind of product.

Had W. J. Bryan been elected president and silver adopted as our standard of value, no such glorious results could have been achieved as it is now our satisfaction to contemplate in these times of strife with a foreign power—weakened under death by false financial schemes and a vicious policy as to internal improvements and home protection. In an Associated Press dispatch, embodying some statistical facts gathered by a special correspondent of the New York Tribune, and published in all the papers connected with the association throughout the country, appears the following remarkable showing.

The manufacturers of the United States are making in the fiscal year which closes with this month their greatest record in competing for the markets of the world. Not only with the exports of manufactured articles for the fiscal year exceed those of any previous year, but for the first time in the history of the country they will exceed the imports of manufactures. In the ten months of the fiscal year whose detailed record the bureau of statistics has just completed, the exports of manufactures exceeded by over $4,000,000 the value of the manufactures imported, and it is probable that for the full year's record this excess will reach $10,000,000. In no preceding year in the history of the country have the exports of manufactures exceeded in value the imports of manufactured articles. In the fiscal year of 1887 the imports of manufactures exceeded the value of exports of manufactures by $7,262,217; in 1888 by $10,738,775; and in 1889 by $12,413,750.

Nearly every branch of manufacturing industry has shared in this growth of sales to other parts of the world. The exports of agricultural implements, for instance, which in 1888 were about $2,000,000 in value, will in 1889 be in round numbers $6,000,000. Locomotive engines, whose exportation in 1888 was less than $500,000 in value, will in 1889 reach probably $4,000,000, orders for more than 140 engines having been placed with the great manufacturing establishments during the last two months for use in China, Japan, Russia, Egypt, Australia, and South America.

Bar iron of 1,400,000 pounds weight was sent abroad in 1888; this year 10,000,000 pounds will be exported.

Bulldozers, hardware which in 1888 was valued at $142,635 was in the last fiscal year $4,152,836 in value.

The exports of cut nails, which in 1888 amounted to 11,950,000 pounds, will in 1889 amount to more than 30,000,000 pounds, an increase of 250 per cent. More nails have increased over 1,000 per cent. The exports of wire, wrought and hot-rolled, which in 1888 were valued at 1,247,075 pounds, while those of 1889 will reach nearly, if not quite $2,000,000 pounds.

Exports of iron plates and sheets which in 1888 were less than 1,000,000 pounds will this year amount to nearly $3,000,000, while those of steel plates and sheets which were 12,140 pounds in 1888 will exceed $2,000,000 pounds in 1889.

The total value of the exports of manufactures of iron and steel which in 1888 amounted to $17,000,000 will in 1889 exceed $20,000,000 in value.

The exports of leather and the manufactures thereof in 1888 amounted to less than $10,000,000; this will in 1889 exceed $20,000,000 in value.

Exports of illuminating oils, which in 1888 amounted to $4,000,000 gallons, will in 1889 exceed $10,000,000 gallons, while the lubricating oils which in 1888 were less than $2,000,000 gallons, will in 1889 reach $3,000,000 gallons.

The exportation of paraffine and paraffine wax which in 1888 were 20,000,000 pounds will in 1889 reach 10,000,000 pounds. Soap exports from 1888 to 1889, glassware from 1888 to 1889, manufactures of rubber from 1888 to 1889, in 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902,
