One reason why American manufactur ers can pay higher wages than European competitiors and at the same time undersell them in many lines is contained in a report from United States Consul Taylor at Glasgow. That city advertised for bids for Iron piping, and received its lowest bid from a Philadelphia founder. Now Glasgow is a city where municipal ownership is an active principle; and where the co-operative system is in high favor among those conducting manufacturing and industrial enterprises. That a Ginagow firm should be underbid by an American firm was a blow to local ptide which caured much excitament, resulting in the rejection of all bids. New bids were invited and the Glasgow hidders reduced their bids to a minimum, but were again underbid by the Philadelphia firm. In awarding the contract there was a lively contest between the committee having the matter in charge and the city council. The committee desired to give the contract to the local firm, but the council decided to divide shown by the fact that although the American firm paid the higher wages Scotch workman.
