Call at City Ticket Office of Astoria & Columbia River Railroad, 324 Commercial street, for through tickets to all points east, also Aberdeen, Olympia, Tacoma, Seattle and all points on the Northern Pacific railroad. Through tickets cannot be purchased to these points at the depot.

The new fast mail from the east will benefit no place on the coast more than Astoria. The train will arrive in Portland in time to admit of transferring the Astoria mail to the A. & C. train that evening. It will thus arrive here the same night and will be delivered by the carriers the next morning.

The heavy and almost unprecedented snow fall of the past few weeks at the headwaters of the Columbia will produce, in the opinion of prominent water front men, a fresher spring fully equal to that of '74. This will be a hard blow to Astoria's friend, "J. B. M.," and the California investors in warehouse property along the Willamette creek.

The noon train from Portland yesterday showed signs of the wintry weather prevailing over the river. The roofs of the cars were covered with snow, and even after standing for a half day at the depot in this city, when the train was made up for Portland last evening, the cars carried back with them a considerable portion of their load of ice and snow.

A letter has been received from Joseph Supernant, dated October 12, in which he reports himself in good health, as are also all other Astorians of whom he knows. He states that he has secured a couple of claims on Webfoot creek, near Dawson, which he thinks will turn out well. Gold, or no gold, however, he states that he will be home without fail July next.

In the present condition of the channel between here and Portland, it is predicted that the Oriental liner now on the way to the Columbia river will be obliged to discharge her cargo at Astoria. It is not known whether the O. R. & N. Co. will use its light draft river boats in taking the cargo up the river or whether it will go by the A. & C. railroad—the latter, most probably.

Two robbers entered the Acorn saloon in Portland early yesterday morning, and, after spending 10 cents for beer, proceeded to hold up the bartender, relieving him of his watch and other valuables and appropriating all the coin in the house. In the afternoon about 10:30 in money and jewelry. This is the fourth saloon robbery which has occurred in Portland the past two weeks.

The county court met yesterday morning and took up the petition of B. Gallagher and others for a road from the Lewis and Clarke to Young's river. No remonstrances having been filed, the petition was ordered granted. The appointment of R. G. Prall as deputy sheriff, vice D. M. Stuart, was confirmed. In the afternoon the court was engaged in auditing the regular monthly bills.

The funeral of the late Byron S. Kimball was held yesterday at noon from Pohl's undertaking parlors. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Short, who spoke feelingly of the many good qualities of the deceased pioneer. The body was placed on the noon train, followed by the friends and relatives of the deceased and conveyed to Ocean View cemetery, where the interment took place. The funeral was attended by the members of the Pioneer Society, of which deceased was an original member.

Of the 152 customs offices in the United States Astoria ranks 9th in point of cheapness of expense as compared with collections. The percentage of expense at the local office for the past year was 132. The percentage at Portland was 136. New York is the best paying office in the country, the percentage of expense being but 68. Yakima collected $2 last year, while the expenses of the office were $102.

The Portland Telegram now reports that a drydock at that city is positively assured. A bill has been prepared by a member of the Multnomah delegation empowering the Port of Portland commission to levy an increased tax on the servant girls and other victims of that unprincipled monopoly to build the dock, which, when completed, the Telegram states, will be turned over for operation to the firm of Wolff & Zwicker.

It is the intention of the Columbia River Packers Association, when organized, to utilize one of the canneries in the combine as a cold storage and freezing plant. The latest and most approved machinery will be utilized and the plant will be the most elaborate and have the largest capacity of any on the Columbia river. It is stated that the machinery has been already ordered, subject to delivery as soon as the company is ready to begin operations.

The water in the hold of the Lakme was pumped out yesterday, and the line is being unloaded from the wreck as quickly as possible. Two of the sawed-off piles on which the steamer is resting have been cut from under her bottom. The piles had broken the planking but had not penetrated the bottom. If repairs can be made in Astoria, the necessary extent of which is not yet known, Captain Perriman says it will be done here, otherwise the steamer will be taken to Portland for that purpose.

M. S. Warren has received a letter from his brother, W. E. Warren, dated at Dawson, November 28, in which the writer says he has a bench claim on French hill, off Eldorado creek. All the claims surrounding him are panning out fairly well and as soon as he strikes bedrock, he believes his will turn out equally as good. Mr. Warren writes that there is plenty of grub in the interior this winter and there is no danger of starvation, everything being sold at a reasonable figure. Everything one could wish for, from bacon to turkey, can be had and the warehouses are full of clothing and frozen beef. He mentions many former Astorians who are working claims. Though not yet rich, he says they are all hopeful and looking well.
